[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—While the United States Senate was passing the prohibition enforcement bill over the President's veto today the proprietor of a famous "White Way" cafe was put on trial here for selling liquor in defiance of the law. Numerous bottles, flasks and demijohns seized in the cafe were arrayed and Thomas A. Gleason, a government chemist, took the stand.

Sample after sample was passed to Mr. Gleason, who consulted his palate and pronounced in succession:

ANTI-ASIATIC LEAGUE IS GROWING INSISTENT.

SENTIMENT AROUSED THROUGH PETITIONS MAY FORCE LEGISLATURE TO ACT.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 28.—Action has been taken here by the Asiatic Exclusive League for calling a caucus of the State legislators Saturday and introducing resolutions asking a special session of the Legislature, for which a stampede of Senators and Assemblymen is expected, virtually wrecks Gov. Stephen's plan of holding a quiet session for an hour or two to ratify the women's suffrage amendment.

It is practically certain that, on account of the circulation of petitions in all the larger cities calling upon the Governor to provide for the consideration of the high cost of living, this matter will also be taken up if the hand of the Governor is forced to call a second special session.

Legislation is proposed to prohibit all aliens ineligible to citizenship from holding California land for agricultural purposes or from owning or leasing land in California.

A third legislative proposal declares void all marriages performed in or out of California unless both contracting parties are present at the ceremony. This would bar "picture brides."

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—A bride who was once a member of the famous "Russian women's battalion of death," arrived here today on the steamer America with her husband, Harry C. Menesee of Covington, Ky. Mr. Menesee served in the army and was later attached to the peace commission as a clerk. Mrs. Menesee was formerly Agnes Rostkovska, the daughter of a Russian general. She joined the "battalion of death" when she was 17, was wounded twice, and taken prisoner by the Germans.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Even sharp practice and a desire to "put one over" would not save Hiram Johnson from complete and final defeat on his amendment to the League of Nations covenant. The vote, 38 for and 40 against, does not tell the whole story. Had the vote been taken as most votes are taken the result would have been 38 to 47 but in the haste to gain at the temporary absence of seven of the friends of the treaty who would have voted against the amendment the Republican leaders seized a chance to minimize the defeat for Johnson. It was a resort to ward politics and for a time Johnson thought he had stolen a march on the Democrats and would be able to carry his amendment while the friends of the treaty were elsewhere in Washington on official business. Senator Hitchcock had two votes that the backers of the amendment did not know about and in the end the amendment was just as dead as if there had been a dozen votes to spare.

HERCULEAN METHODS.

By Herculean methods and in order to save the face of the junior Senator from California, every possible vote for the amendment was secured and the Senators for it were all present this morning when the unexpected roll call was suddenly sprung. Senator Phelan was at the State Department on a matter interesting Pasadena. Senator Ashurst was also away on official business, and several other supporters of the league. Senator Hitchcock had just finished trying to secure unanimous consent for a vote at 1:30 o'clock when apparently the opponents to the treaty ran out of oratory and the new and unexpected move for an immediate vote was sprung. At first the Democrats were inclined to oppose this move, but a hasty poll showed even with the absent friends of the treaty there were enough men on hand to end for all time the menace of the Johnson amendment.

MORE ORATORY DUE.

Most close observers do not think this sudden vote today indicates a speeding up of the treaty ratification as the crop of orators is still a large one and all must be heard. Senator Johnson knowing that he is beaten is now offering a substitute given here in full for the first time. He has changed the language to be in line with the reservations which are already agreed to and which will probably pass in about the form given in order that he may claim credit for securing the modification of the treaty. Whatever reservation on voting is finally adopted will be in the main the reservation agreed to before Johnson offered his substitute amendment. The one he offers now reads as follows:

"When any member of the league has or possesses self-governing dominions or colonies or parts of empire, which are also members of the league, the United States shall have representatives in the council or Assembly or any organization of labor, or labor conference under the league numerically equal to the aggregate number of representatives of such member of the league and colonies and parts of empire in the council or Assembly of the league or organization of labor or labor conference under the league, and such representatives of said member and its self-governing dominions or colonies or parts of empire; and, upon all matters whatsoever the United States shall have votes in the council and Assembly and any organization of labor or labor conference under the league numerically equal to the aggregate vote cast or registered by any such member or the league and its self-governing dominions and colonies and parts of empire.

"The intent and purpose of this amendment is to give to the United States representation upon council or assembly and in any labor organization or labor conference under the league a voting power in every respect and upon all questions equal to the aggregate representation and voting power of any member of the league and such members self-governing dominions and colonies and parts of empire; and this amendment shall be liberally applied and construed to effectuate fully said intent. Whenever the case referred to the Assembly involves a dispute between one member of the league and another member whose self-governing dominions or colonies or parts of empire are also represented in the Assembly, neither the disputant members nor any of their self-governing dominions, colonies or parts of empire shall have a vote upon any phase of the question."

BULLETINS.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The Red forces have started a decisive advance along the entire Petrograd front, according to a Bolshevik communique received here. They have rapidly reoccupied Krassnoye Selo and other villages.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Showing no ill effects from his recent activities, President Wilson spent today quietly and continued his recent progress toward recovery. No executive business was brought to the President's attention during the day, officials said.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The Star Opera Company has abandoned its plan to sing German opera in English in New York. The board of directors of the company announced tonight that it would not be in accordance with "good public policy to continue the fight any longer to stage German opera." It said the public had "effectively shown" its disapproval of such performances.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 28.—Those who are hoping that union miners will heed President Wilson and not go on strike November 1 are doomed to disappointment, said Philip Murray, president of the Pittsburgh district of the United Mine Workers of America, here tonight, prior to his departure for Indianapolis to attend the meeting of the international executive board tomorrow.

DEMON ALCOHOL LURKS IN FLOWERS OF FIELD.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WESTFIELD (Mass.) Oct. 28—Prof. Lewis B. Allyn is said to know more about "prohibition" drinks, with and without a kick, than any man in the United States. He has tested more than 7000 of these concoctions since the hand of prohibition was laid upon the land on July 1. He is constantly receiving letters as to "the best recipe."

One of those to gain his special attention is "corn beer," made from a combination of roasted corn and yeast. So-called "Detroit whisky," made from prunes, corn, yeast and other things, tests 96 per cent. kick. Plain root beer tests 2.65, and with a little encouragement will do better than that.

When it comes to wines, Prof. Allyn discovers that the innocent dandelion becomes a raging demon to the extent of 14.35 when it becomes a wine. Clover makes a wine of 14 per cent. strength; grapes 16 per cent. and upwards. The little joke in the latter is that it develops a potency of 5 per cent. in twenty-four hours and 8 per cent. in thirty-six hours when a bit of yeast is added.

He groups in one class as "undesirables," flavoring extracts and Jamaica ginger. Very soft drinks include limitations of the old-time gins, whiskies and cocktails, which have something like the ancient goods, but lack the "authority" which once made them favorites. A number of fermented milk preparations also have been tried out. One of the most weird combinations is known as Kvas, said to originate in Russia. It is made from dry stale bread, water and yeast, and has a peculiar taste which must be cultivated. It is very intoxicating.

AHA! EDSEL FORD 'SCAPES KIDNAPER.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

TOLEDO, Oct. 28.—Claiming to have complete knowledge of a plot to kidnap Edsel Ford, son of Henry Ford, and hold him for a ransom of $200,000, Floyd Gray, who says he is employed by the William J. Burns Detective Agency, today divulged details of the alleged plot to authorities here, resulting in the arrest of four men.

These men gave their names as Richard Ramsey, 26, of San Francisco; Eddie Cole, alias Kinney, 20, of Louisville, Ky.; Joseph Fisher, 24, of New York City, and Claude Cameron of this city.

According to Gray, he came to Toledo seven months ago while handling a case for his agency, and to conceal his operations, obtained employment as a janitor in a downtown office building.

He became acquainted with Cole, who was a bellboy in a local hotel. As the acquaintance ripened, Gray alleges, he was taken into the plot and introduced to the other three men. Cole, according to Gray, had at one time been a bellboy in a Detroit hotel, and had met with young Ford and learned of his habits and haunts. It was planned to use an automobile in the abduction and hurry the son of the motor magnate to a vacant house at 3ft Clemens, where he was to be locked in the cellar until negotiations for the ransom had been completed.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Oct. 28.—Elections to the communal council for Fiume Sunday resulted in an overwhelming victory for the annexationists, according to a Fiume dispatch to the Idea Nazionale re-transmitted to Paris. More than 6000 of the 7150 registered electors who went to the polls voted the straight annexationist ticket. The total registration was 10,331.

HOW THE VOTE WENT.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

FIUME, Monday, Oct. 27.—The result of the elections in Fiume yesterday may easily be foreshadowed as a vote for the continuation of the "national council," controlled by the Italian annexationists. Only one ticket, that of the "Union Nazionale," or annexationist party, was in the field, with some forty candidates for the national council. No other party was allowed to put candidates in the field. Those opposed to annexation have been unable to conduct a campaign since the manifesto of D'Annunzio, declaring Fiume in a state of war.

The polls were guarded by Italian gendarmes and soldiers and there was an extravagant display of military power which served to prevent any disorder.

Practically every kind of conveyance was pressed into service to get out the vote. Walls and streets were placarded with slogans, appealing to all citizens to vote as a patriotic duty and declaring that anyone not attending the polls will be a traitor and an enemy to an Italian Fiume.

The town is now one great military stronghold. Everything, including pocket books and baggage, is most rigorously examined upon entrance.

Two American newspaper men were arrested yesterday and were roughly handled by gendarmes, who searched all their Lelongings but set them at liberty later. The arrests were made, it was stated, on information of one Henry Furst, who claims to be an American with a home in New York, and who handles D'Annunzio's foreign propaganda.

The whole atmosphere of Fiume is one of military coercion. The correspondent of the Associated Press was told by disinterested citizens that the only word was "hurrah for D'Annunzio." Persons holding other views would be subject to suspicion.

"It is a terrible situation now," said a neutral to the correspondent of the Associated Press. "Whoever doesn't shout 'hurrah for D'Annunzio' is watched. Nothing is impossible in Fiume today which is ruled by 9000 bayonets. They speak of elections—yes, elections at the point of a revolver."

VIEW IN PARIS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Oct. 28.—Efforts of France and England again are being brought into play to bring about a solution of the Italo-American difficulties over the settlement of the Fiume problem, according to the Liberte today.

The paper reports that the American opposition to the modified Italian proposals is unchanged and that the response of Secretary of State Lansing is in the negative.

ADRIATIC QUESTION.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 28.—Correspondents of La Nazion in Paris and Rome report that the American government has rejected the proposals of the Italian Foreign Minister, M. Tittoni, for a settlement of the Adriatic question. The Paris correspondent of the paper says that this question was discussed in a conference Saturday between Frank L. Polk, head of the American delegation, and M. Tittoni, but that satisfactory results were not attained.

Mr. Polk communicated to Washington, it is stated, his impressions of the interview, which were that the latest proposals of Italy were excessive.

The Rome correspondent of La Nazion reports that Secretary of State Lansing, after a conference with rPesident Wilson, sent out a communication stating that President Wilson cannot accept the new Italian proposal and still maintains the four objections lodged against the previous proposal.

These are to the annexation by Italy of the triangle of territory around Volesca (in order to give Fiume a joint frontier with Italy to the grant of autonomy for Fiume as a buffer state, to the annexation to Italy of the Island of Lagosta, in the Dalmatian Archipelago and to the Italian representation for the city of Zara, on the Dalmatian coast.

BY HARRY CARR.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—It is a curious fact, but if the old world of Europe is really saved for democracy, or saved for anything else, it will be largely through the efforts of a king.

King Albert of Belgium, who left New York this morning after giving away all the medals he had in his pockets, did not come over here to look at the scenery.

The day before his departure he got the boys from Wall street into his hotel room and told them some facts that gave them gooseflesh all over.

In the afternoon he motored out to see John D. Rockefeller and told him some more.

The fact is Europe is on the verge of becoming an appalling ruin unless America digs down and pays her debts.

Vicente Blasco Ibanez, the distinguished author of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," who arrived yesterday on the steamer La Lorraine, expressed his opinion with candor on the subject. He said that all Europe is on the verge of a terrible social war much more awful than the great war just closed. He regarded America as the only port in the coming storm.

With England taxed to the very utmost limit of endurance and facing an annual deficit of over $2,000,000,000, with Italy helplessly looking on at the Fiume revolution, France in a chaotic financial condition and Russia a madhouse, the whole continent of Europe must have outside help or perish.

King Albert may or may not save Europe by squeezing some money out of John D., but he has left some very chesty cops in his wake.

When next you ask a question of a freckle-nosed Broadway "bull" you can safely address him as "Chevalier" for Albert scattered decorations and medals and titles all over the map of the city. This is a much less expensive method than giving away cigars and upon the whole about as satisfactory.

The longshoremen's strike, which continues to tie up the harbor of New York, has degenerated into a gang fight. The Irishmen, being adherents to King O'Connor, refuse to accept any settlement made by the wop who heads the other factions. When the Irish tried to return to work the other day the Italians threw bricks at them, which not only busted their heads, but very much offended their feelings, the brickbat being the national weapon of Ireland and not to be irreverently handed to any Eyetaliana.

The serious side of it is the steamers from Europe are turning back with their cargoes unloaded. By pressing in office clerks as stevedores, the Adriatic was enabled to sail the other day, but she did not attempt to unload her cargo. Unloading a ship is not as easy as it looks, owing to the danger of shifting the cargo, so it was decided not to take the risk with amateurs.

News of Murder of Plantation Auditor Suppressed by State Department.

Carranza Fails to Make Payment to the Widow, Now in Want.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Papers have been prepared for submission to the State Department demanding of the Mexican government indemnity for the death of Edward Freeman Welles, an American, a Harvard man with the degree of master of arts. Welles was killed by Mexicans on August 13, 1915, at a time when, at the request of the State Department, a ban was placed on the printing by American papers of news of troublesome nature regarding Mexico, and the news of the murder of Welles was suppressed.

Welles's first wife, said to have been a relative of the first Mrs. Wilson, died and he married a Mexican woman, who thus became a citizen of the United States. Welles had been in Mexico a number of years and was auditor of the Tabasco plantation company, in the state of Vera Cruz. His widow is now in this country in want, with two children to support. She is preparing to file her claim with the State Department because of the failure of President Carranza to pay an indemnity, which, as first chief, he promised to pay if the matter were not presented to the American State Department.

JENKINS CASE SENSATION.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 28.—The case of William O. Jenkins, American vice-consul at Puebla, who was kidnaped by bandits and held for ransom, is taking a sensational turn, according to reports received here tonight from Puebla.

Following charges by officials of the State government there that the kidnaping was a conspiracy by rebels against the government, Eduardo Maestre, attorney for Mr. Jenkins, was arrested in Puebla tonight. It is reported that several of Mr. Jenkins's employees would be arrested late tonight or tomorrow.

George T. Summerlin, counselor of the American Embassy in Mexico City, when informed of the report from Puebla, said:

"United States diplomatic and consular representatives never will consent to mix in politics. The American government, in appointing consular agents, makes careful investigation regarding their antecedents. Mr. Jenkins is an honorable man, as can be proved by all his acquaintances and his attitude cannot be suspected."

DEMON RUM (?) DIES HERE AT LAST.

For the 'steenth time John Barleycorn passed out in Los Angeles last night. No blare of bugles—no blast of trumpets proclaimed the event. John just simply oozed out. He was like a chicken with its head cut off. The operation was performed July 1 and John has been flopping around on the ground ever since. But even reflex action stopped last night.

Last evening's celebration was in every sense not a celebration. No singing, howling mobs crowded the gin shops. In every "bar" that has been dispensing two-seventy-five, one or two forlorn individuals stood huddled over the counter, trying to cheer each other. And at 9 o'clock the lights went out.

With upturned coat collars and with a walk that marked them not as drinking men, but as waterlogged phone poles, the "riotous crowds" went to the movies or some similar place after the near-beer was no more. Some had tried to get drunk on the famous kickless drink, but found that the only result was depressing. They became soggy and their spirits sank. In desperation a few went to the drug store and ordered lemon phosphates.

The only place where the crowd suggested anything out of the ordinary was at Vernon. People awakened to the fact that they were going to be dry for a long time to come, and about 10 o'clock the crowds began to saunter in. But even here the ardor of the revelers was not what it should be at a genuine burial party. The crowd was not the happy-go-lucky crowd that has stayed up with the corpse at previous funerals. Something was lacking. The truth was that interest in "the old stuff" was merely put on. The "happy throng" felt it was their duty to make the night one long to be remembered and so in the spirit of martyrdom, they celebrated.

Although the national prohibition law does not go into effect until January 16, 1920, the law just enacted by Congress comes so near prohibition that it would require the efforts of a Philadelphia lawyer to tell the difference, Federal officials declared yesterday.

The supreme law-making power has decreed that even the 2.75 per cent. beer must go, to say nothing of whisky, "light wine" and the beer that contains whatever alcoholic content the conscience of the brewer will allow.

The arid conditions to follow the action of Congress yesterday will continue, it is pointed out, until President Wilson lifts the war-time prohibition ban, which may come when peace has been officially declared.

The numerous "near beer" establishments in Los Angeles will close their doors, for the beer now allowed by law will not be beer at all, but the old-fashioned folk who have been turning their kitchens into brewing establishments, can keep right on, for the government and the internal revenue department do not consider the home-brewed ½ of 1 per cent. beer a drink at all.

The passage by the United States Senate yesterday, following similar action by the House, Monday, of the bill amending the War-time Prohibition Act, which was vetoed by President Wilson, fixes by national statute of ½ of 1 per cent. alcoholic content the standard when all liquor shall be deemed intoxicating within the purview of the law. All liquor in excess of that percentage is intoxicating, and its future sale is prohibited.

Under the provisions of the Constitution, the law becomes effective immediately, it having been held by the United States Supreme Court that a statute takes effect, if not otherwise provided, on the date of its passage, including that day. No account is taken of a fraction of a day. The bill in question, which has now become a law, contains no provision as to the date when it shall take effect.

Under the law, it will be permissible to sell recipes and materials for beer-making, but it must be of the emasculated variety. When the national prohibition law takes effect January 16, 1920, it will no longer be permissible even to sell these recipes and materials for beer-making.

United States District Attorney O'Connor stated yesterday that if cafes and other establishments, who have been in the habit of dispensing beer of the 2.75 per cent. alcoholic content, continue the practice, they will be prosecuted by the Federal authorities under the new law. He warns all such individuals and firms to at once cease selling any beer in excess of ½ of 1 per cent. Mr. O'Connor stated that in his opinion, the internal revenue department will be charged with the enforcement of the "dry" law.

CABINET DECIDES ON PLAN FOR MEETING COAL CRISIS

Stands Firm for Protection of Public's Rights; Still Hopes Leaders will Postpone the Strike.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—How to deal with the soft-coal strike, in the event the miners, ignoring President Wilson's command to stay on the job, walk out Friday night, was definitely agreed upon today at a two-hour meeting of the Cabinet.

The plan of action was not disclosed, but it is known that the Cabinet stood as one man for protection of the rights of the public, which would suffer with the closing of the mines, in which, ordinarily, more than 500,000 members of the United Mine Workers of America are employed.

But, while steps already taken and which might be regarded as severe were approved, Secretary Lansing, who presided, brought word from the meeting that the situation was not hopeless.

All day the belief had grown that the International Executive Board, at its meeting tomorrow at Indianapolis would postpone the strike, at least. Hope was expressed in some quarters that the strike would be called off by the men who had called it, but officials declined to say whether this was based upon information purporting to convey some idea as to the attitude of the union.

Mr. Lansing would not say if any facts had been laid before the meeting to justify hope of averting the strike.

Secretary of Labor Wilson, familiar with the ways of miners through long service as an officer of their national organization, said it might be several days before a decision was reached by the executive board at Indianapolis.

"We still have the functions of a mediator to perform," he said, in announcing that no new strike developments had been brought to his attention.

MAY POSTPONE STRIKE.

An eleventh-hour decision to postpone or cancel the strike would not be surprising, it was said, but there was some doubt here as to whether word could be sent to the men in time to keep them at work.

The Railroad Administration, it was learned today, is putting forth every effort to move the coal already mined to districts where present stocks are running dangerously low. Meantime, government agents were taking a quick census and trying to find out how long the stocks on hand might last. Stock reports were conflicting, but it was said union estimates of enough to supply demands for thirty days were not far wrong.

"The government is ready for the worst, but is hoping the worst will not happen, firm in the belief that the miners will respond patriotically to the President's appeal and keep the mines running while negotiating a new wage agreement," was the summing up tonight of a government official in touch with the situation. "Everything depends on what is done at Indianapolis."

Study of union by-laws, officials said today, revealed that the executive board has power to call off the strike, or at least to order a postponement. Should President Wilson's appeal to the miners be heeded to the extent of a postponement, officials here are of the opinion that the strike will be averted, for a postponement would be certain to bring with it negotiations for a new wage agreement.

Meanwhile, the Railroad Administration continued its efforts to expedite movements of coal from the mines by ordering all coal not unloaded by owners within twenty-four hours to be dumped on the ground so as to release cars for their immediate return to the fields. The office of Director-General Hines denied that orders had been issued for confiscation of coal for operation of trains.

SOLDIERS NOT TO MINE.

Senator Thomas, Democrat, Colorado, explained to the Senate today that the bill he introduced yesterday did not provide for the use of soldiers in operating the coal mines in the event of a strike of miners, but merely for their use in keeping open the channels of transportation.

At his request action on his resolution pledging the support of Congress to the administration in preserving law and order during the strike was deferred until tomorrow.

With a coal famine looming imminently above the horizon of the American public as a result of the threatened coal strike, headquarters of the American Forestry Association in this city are receiving inquiries from all parts of the country seeking advice as to what trees should preferably be used as a substitute for fuel during the anticipated emergency.

A cord of either oak or hickory, declares Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the association, is equal in caloric value to that of a ton of anthracite and these are, therefore, much to be preferred to any other trees. With wood, however, quoted at present prices, as a substitute it is almost prohibitive.

NO CHANGE, SAY MINERS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 28.—With "no change in the situation" reported at United Mine Workers of America headquarters, leaders of the big organization of coal miners were preparing grimly tonight for a momentous conference tomorrow of its executive board, district presidents and scale committee.

John L. Lewis, acting president of the organization, arrived here late today, but had little to add to sentiments he has already expressed concerning the general strike planned to take effect in the bituminous mines November 1.

The condemnation of the proposed walkout by President Wilson and his suggestion that a tribunal be appointed to find a basis of settlement of the disagreement between workers and employers with coal production continuing meanwhile, held no charms for the union leaders.

"There is no further use for wartime prohibition, according to the President," said Mr. Lewis. "Neither is there further use for the wartime Washington wage agreement. We therefore, resent the imputation that the strike is illegal."

The suggestion that work be continued pending appointment and report of an investigating tribunal was denominated by Mr. Lewis a measure of delay.

"That would mean months of waiting while men ignorant of mining problems studied and tried to solve them," he said. "Meanwhile, the miners would be working under the present intolerable conditions."

Other officials of the union agreed heartily with this view. In addition, some of them pointed out that the operators would take advantage of the delay to work the mines to capacity, piling up reserve stocks and placing the union at a big disadvantage should the tribunal's efforts come to naught.

WOULD NEGOTIATE.

Direct negotiation with the mine owners, however, would be welcomed by the union. Vice-President Lewis, Secretary Green and such members of the executive board as had reacher here tonight, were unanimous in declaring that they stood ready "as before," to negotiate a wage scale without reservations. They emphasized the last two words and charged that the employers would not negotiate except on conditions which the union men were powerless to fulfill.

There was a well-defined impression that a reply to President Wilson would be outlined tomorrow, at least, if not fully drafted and adopted by the conference as a whole.

Much doubt was in evidence as to the power of the executive board to postpone or otherwise modify the strike order.

The conference will embrace twenty-four members of the executive board; an equal number of district presidents; thirty-two members of the scale committee and about twenty national officials of the big organization.

These men face the task of directing more than 400,000 members of the union in the first general strike ever called in the bituminous mines and the first big strike of the organization since the general anthracite strike of 1902. There were no illusions among them today as to the magnitude of the effort.

PRESSURE IS FELT.

The pressure of the national and State governments against the strike order was being felt, but the few officials here were frankly puzzled as to means which they might employ to meet the wishes of the administration. It was pointed out that the scale committee which attempted to negotiate with the operators at Buffalo and Philadelphia acted under orders of the general convention of the union at Cleveland and that this convention, by the laws of the organization, was the supreme governing body of the union. Whether the executive council, which has interim powers between conventions, might override convention decisions was a question which none of the men on the ground would attempt to answer definitely.

"In the meeting with the operators our every suggestion for negotiation of a new scale was met with the demand 'withdraw the strike order first,'" said William Green, secretary-treasurer of the union. "But the scale committee was created by the convention and ordered to do certain things. It was impossible for the created to be greater than the creator. We could negotiate but we could not withdraw the strike order."

A DISCOVERY THAT BENEFITS MANKIND

Two discoveries have added greatly to human welfare.

In 1835 Newton originated the vacuum process for condensing milk with cane sugar to a semi-liquid form.

HARRY CARR IN THE METROPOLIS

of Europe this government will be compelled to take some definite pronounced action. As it is now, the government announces every day that the ships will be loaded and the ships are not loaded.

I witnessed a very significant incident in a big New York movie theater. A news film was shown on the Washington labor conference. Gompers appeared. Exactly two persons in the house applauded. Some of the other labor leaders appeared and passed with a hand. When Judge Gary's picture appeared the house broke out in tremendous burst of handclapping. A few days later I saw exactly the same thing repeated in another house.

The housing conditions in New York are rapidly growing worse. Food is not much more expensive than in Los Angeles, but the rents are something appalling.

Dirty old apartments that you would be ashamed to keep a respectable pig in bring $175 to $250 a month. Single rooms wretchedly furnished in side streets in country towns twenty to thirty miles outside New York bring $45 to $60 a month.

I know of an old farm house built more than a hundred years ago without gas or electricity and with only a wood stove for heat which was rented this week for $125 a month and is considered a bargain. It is a mile outside of a country town an hour from New York without trolley or any other kind of communication.

The trouble is not so much with rapacious landlords as with middlemen. New York is under a curse of go-betweens. Whatever you want you have to "fix" some outsider to get. The apartment situation in New York is very complicated by female harpies who rent furnished apartments and re-rent them as single rooms at an enormous profit.

The situation has become tragic to the degree that several hundred families refused to pay another gouge in rent last week and have moved into one of the National Guard armories. The leader of this strike said that the tenants were even willing to pay the advance asked but demanded leases of the landlords to insure them against further rises. This plea was refused.

The truth is there seems no very bright outlook for the situation. House owners are up against it themselves for two reasons; capital is loath to loan money on real estate mortgages when there are other investments less amenable to the income tax. Another thing, labor conditions are so rotten that to build new houses is almost out of the question. It isn't the matter of the huge wages. The trouble is that the more they are paid the less hard they work.

I watched some workmen on a big building in New York the other day. When the foreman came along to inspect their progress every man promptly stopped work and looked at him with a sneer. He did not say a word in rebuke because they would have quit the job on the spot.

One of the big labor leaders told me frankly the other day that the American workingman has been spoiled by war-time wages and easy conditions and too much pampering. He said the power of the union leaders had gone and no other power had risen and he did not know what would happen.

However, New York is not altogether made up of union-labor leaders, wops and greedy landlords. There are highbrows among us. Forbes Robertson arrived yesterday from England for a series of readings from Shakespeare, said Shakespeare being in imminent peril of a revival this winter.

And then there is Ibanez, mentioned above, who says he has come to write a novel about America, but it will be scenery and not Americans. He says he shrinks from trying to depict the American character.

The great Spaniard looks like a prosperous broker. Honest, I hate to tell it, but he wears spats.

John Drinkwater, whose drama of Lincoln is the dramatic sensation of two continents, is also prowling around, getting material for a drama on Roosevelt. If he is wise he will think again. There could be no play and no actor who could make a stage version of Teddy convincing to the American people.

NEW YORK GROCERY CLERKS ON STRIKE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—One thousand retail grocery clerks went on strike today for a nine-hour day and a salary of $30 a week.

Salaries now average $18 in independent stores, according to the union, and from $25 to $28 in chain stores. Clerks must work from ten to fourteen hours a day.

The union announced it would attempt to organize the 18,000 grocery and dairy clerks of the city and call a general strike.

MILLER & LUX CASE UP AGAIN.

Second Hearing to be Held Late in November.

Company Irrigation District in Three Counties Opposed.

Argued Municipal Rights are Being Sought.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28. — Propositions for the storage of the Kern River waters near their point of origin, the creation of an irrigation district in Kern county to direct the use of the river water running through that county and other plans to solve the irrigation troubles of California's "inland empire" in the Lower San Joaquin Valley were advanced at a hearing of the irrigation board of California here today. The hearing was on the application of Miller and Lux Company to divert the river water onto 105,000 acres of its properties in Kern, Tulare and Kings counties, under the direction of a water district that should be controlled by the company.

A further hearing was set for this city November 25.

AGAINST APPLICATION.

State Senator L. L. Dennett of Modesto; James F. Farraher, a Bakersfield attorney, and P. T. Miller, chairman of the "Committee of Twenty-five" for the formation of a 400,000-acre Kern district, spoke against the application. Barclay McCowan, former Kern-county District Attorney, called attention to an application he had filed with the State Water Commission to store the Kern-county waters near their point of origin and to abandon the project known as the "Buena Vista Storage Project," which related to the proposed irrigation district schemes.

Dist.-Atty. Jesse R. Dorsey of Kern county asked that the application be denied or suspended until such a time as all interested could form a more comprehensive scheme. Supervisor Stanley Abel asked for a thorough survey by the State Engineer's office before any action is taken.

BASIS OF OPPOSITION.

State Engineer Wilbur F. McClure was present in an advisory capacity to the board. The hearing was before W. P. Boone, irrigation commissioner.

The company's application was opposed on the ground that a district would give it municipal rights which could not be taken away, even if public policy demanded it, and would give the company an inequitable monopoly of the water. Briefs were filed by Attorney Farraher for the Kern Delta Irrigation District in support of this contention.

Frank Rice, superintendent of the Miller and Lux holdings in Kern, Kings and Tulare counties, was the first witness at the hearing. He testified that arrangements had been made for the completion of an irrigation system in order to place the holdings under cultivation.

Another witness was Percy H. Clark, of Los Angeles, representing a land company with holdings adjacent to the Miller and Lux properties in Kern county. He said his company had not yet determined its attitude on the application.

Creation of the irrigation district by the Miller and Lux Corporation would be a "calamity," inasmuch as it would vest a private corporation with municipal powers, State Senator L. D. Dennett said at the hearing.

Representatives of Miller and Lux maintained, although they had not made it a part of the record, the larger district would cut their holdings in half, and that their work in constructing reservoirs and ditching system at a total of $500,000 would be nullified to a great extent.

Both Senator Dennett and Farraher maintained that the corporation intended to appropriate waters from the Kern River that were intended for the whole "inland empire" made up of the three counties mentioned.

FACTS IN CASE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 28.—Miller and Lux, owning 140,000 acres in Kern county and considerable acreage in Kings and Tulare counties, have applied to the State irrigation board for permission to form an irrigation district of 105,000 acres, embracing their lands in these three counties. Water for this district would be secured from the Kern River, which at present irrigates large tracts of Miller and Lux lands, as well as lands owned by the Kern County Land Company and several hundred farmers.

The Kern County Irrigation District Organization Committee of twenty-five and the Kern Delta Irrigation District oppose the Miller and Lux district on the general ground that its formation would nullify their efforts to form irrigation districts, which would embrace some 40,000 acres of the Miller and Lux lands. A large volume of the Kern River waters is now taken from the river by Miller and Lux under riparian land ownership, and by the Kern Land Company and smaller irrigators, under the right of appropriation, as a result of an agreement in 1888 between Henry Miller Founder of Miller and Lux, and James B. Haggin, the one-time central figure in the Kern County Land Company. Both of these wealthy land owners are now dead, but the division of the river's flow, according to this famous agreement, was upheld by the Supreme Court of California.

The Kern county committee of twenty-five proposes to organize an irrigation district of 400,000 acres, which would include practically all the lands irrigable from the Kern River. The project includes the building of a storage dam at Isabella, some sixty miles north of Bakersfield. Under this plan all present water rights would be taken over by the proposed district for an equitable consideration.

Miller and Lux and the Kern County Land Company have not signed their lands for this proposed district.

INDEMNITY FROM MEXICO SOUGHT

Puebla, who was held captive by Mexican bandits in the mountains south of that city, and who returned to Puebla yesterday, was effected by one lone man, Senor Mestre, the personal attorney of Mr. Jenkins, according to advices received here.

At the beginning of the negotiations for the ransom of Mr. Jenkins, Federico Cordova, the leader of the bandits, stipulated that any effort on the part of the consular agent's friends to appear in force at the bandit rendezvous would result in the death of Mr. Jenkins. Senor Mestre, therefore, met Cordova at Hacienda Chavarra, which is situated about two hours run by automobile south of Puebla. He was then conducted to a room where he found Mr. Jenkins lying on a bed.

PAYS RANSOM MONEY.

After a short parley the ransom money, $300,000 Mexican, was counted out and a receipt was signed by Cordova. Mr. Jenkins was then released, and, on the arm of Senor Mestre, left the house, being accompanied for some distance by Cordova's men, who acted as a guard. The two men finally reached another hacienda and were conveyed to Puebla by automobile.

Few details of incidents which occurred during Mr. Jenkins's week of captivity have been learned, as he is not physically able to tell much of his experiences in the mountains except that his abductors were on the move continuously to guard against attacks. They treated their prisoner with every consideration possible, it is said.

SUFFERING FROM PRIVATIONS.

Forced to sleep on the wet ground during a week of daily rains, Mr. Jenkins suffered a recurrence of rheumatic attacks, which rendered him almost helpless. He now is in the American hospital at Puebla, only a few investigating officials being admitted to his room.

Secretary Elting Hanna of the American Embassy here, who directed negotiations for the release of Mr. Jenkins on the part of the United States, will not return from Puebla until Wednesday. Upon his arrival it is expected an official report will be made.

FATHER OVERJOYED.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

FRESNO, Oct. 28.—John W. Jenkins of Hanford, father of W. O. Jenkins, released yesterday from captivity, where he had been held by Mexican bandits for a ransom of $150,000, wept copious tears when assured his boy was safe at last. Later, when a telegram came from his daughter, Anne, who resides with his son in Puebla, the Mexican city from whence he was kidnaped, that his son was safe again at home, the father was overcome with joy. He had read the accounts of the manner in which the two army aviators had been murdered; and, although assured of his son's release, his mind had not as yet reached that state of assurance that all was well with his boy until the telegram came from his daughter, stating that he was again at home.

Mr. Jenkins is one of the wealthy farmers residing near Hanford in Kings county. The news of the release dispelled all fears and doubts, and the Jenkins family enjoyed last night the first real sleep since the capture of their son.

HINES TO MEET WITH TRAINMEN

Conference Today on Union's Wage Demands.

Expected Request for Increase will be Refused.

Proposed Strike of Switchmen Denounced by Lee.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—President W. G. Lee and the general committee of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, will confer tomorrow with Director-General Hines on the union's wage demands which are about to be decided.

Mr. Hines has had the recommendations of the board of railway wages before him for two weeks, but whether he has been able to reach a decision in the rush of work incident to the threatened coal strike has not been revealed.

It was agreed when the demands were submitted last July that the officials of the railroad administration and the union would confer before the award was made public, which accounts for tomorrow's meeting.

It is considered certain that the union's request for a general wage increase will be refused. Mr. Hines will act on the demands independently of President Wilson. It was learned authoritatively today, but the President's general policy laid down at the time the shopmen were denied a general increase but given an adjustment of inequalities compared with other union members, will govern his decision.

Mr. Lee and his committee conferred today, but said there was nothing to be made public concerning their discussion.

WON'T TALK STRIKE YET.

Asked if a refusal of wage increase meant a strike, Mr. Lee pointed out that the union had expressed a willingness to let the government show what could be done to reduce prices as a means of relieving the economic pressure on the men. He added that he saw very little relief as yet from that source. As to a strike, he said whatever action was taken would be in harmony with the other three brotherhoods after consultation with them.

The most important question presented by the union's demands is that of time and a half for overtime, which has been sought for several years as a "punitive measure" to curtail the long hours of work.

Strike of trainmen in the Chicago switching district, called by local union leaders for Thursday, unless certain wage demands are granted "in full," would be "wholly unauthorized and without the sanction of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen," it was said here tonight by W. G. Lee, president of the brotherhood.

The proposed strike, Mr. Lee said, was "nothing more than an attempt to discredit the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen."

Mr. Lee said two officials of the brotherhood attended the meeting said to have been held Sunday night and at which it was announced by local union leaders the strike was decided on. These officials, however, Mr. Lee said, had no knowledge of any decision to call a strike.

TO MEET TRAINMEN

Today on Union's Demands.

Request for Increase May Be Refused.

Strike of Switchmen Averted by Lee.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—President Lee and the general chairmen of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen will confer today with Director-General Hines in the event the demands which he has had the recommendation of railway board of railway men for two weeks, but has been able to reach because of the rush of work incident to the threatened coal strike now revealed.

Director-General Hines said when the demands were presented last July that the railroad administration would confer before any decision was made public, but that it was impossible for tomorrow's conference to be certain that the demands for a general wage increase would be refused. Mr. Hines said the demands independent of President Wilson, it was understood, but that it was tentatively today, but that general policy laid down in the shopmen were applicable to general increase but given consideration of inequalities common to other union members, before a decision.

Meanwhile the committee consisting of twenty-three members said there was no reason to make public concerning the conference.

TRAINMEN STRIKE YET.

Lee refuses all of wage increase to strike, Mr. Lee said that the union had expressed to let the government know what could be done as a means of relieving pressure on the railroads and that he saw very little relief from that source. Mr. Lee said whatever action would be in harmony with the other three brotherhoods in consultation with them on the important question presented by the union's demands is expected in a half hour for overtime has been sought for by a "punitive measure" the long hours of service.

Trainmen in the Chicago district, called by local chairmen for Thursday, unless demands are granted will be "wholly unauthorized without the sanction of the general of Railway Trainmen," said here tonight by president of the brotherhood.

"No strike, Mr. Lee said, is more than an attempt on the brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen."

Conferences of two officials of the brotherhood with the meeting were held Sunday night and it was announced by officers the strike was averted officials, however, Mr. Lee said, had no knowledge of any decision to call a strike.

This ... was expressed to the Senate ... Affairs Committee by officers and enlisted men appearing before it to urge the passage of the army pay-increase bill.

Testimony was given showing that already the officers of the Regular army are resigning in great numbers because they cannot make both ends meet. It is impossible for them to make provision for their families on the pay now received. As for the enlisted men, they are tied hand and foot by their enlistments and cannot get out of the service even though debt is piled on their shoulders, and outside employment paying three or four times what they receive in the army is available.

Gen. E. L. Munson of the Medical Corps, chief of the morale branch of the general staff; Col. R. C. Richardson of the cavalry, and several lieutenants and sergeants testified. The story they told was so convincing that Chairman Wadsworth and other members of the committee expressed the opinion that something must be done to increase the army pay and must be done immediately.

It was shown that a first lieutenant in the Medical Corps, a surgeon, who is operating regularly at Walter Reed Hospital, received about $6.53 a day, including all his allowances, while a bricklayer is getting $9 a day and a negro laborer carrying coal from the street into a house here can make and does make $9 in about six hours' work.

Gen. Munson pointed out that there has been no army increase pay bill passed since 1908 and that the cost of living has increased enormously since that time. The dollar today will not purchase 50 per cent. of the food and clothing and other necessaries of life that it purchased in 1908.

"There must be a readjustment of the dollar's purchasing power to meet the increase in the cost of living," he said.

Since the armistice there have been 1951 resignations of officers from the grade of major to second lieutenant accepted, Gen. Munson told the committee, and a very large number of other resignations have been sent in, but not accepted because the army could not spare the officers. He said this was particularly true in the Medical Corps. Where it was not possible to leave the hospitals without adequate commissioned staffs. He said there are, nevertheless, 900 vacancies in the Medical Corps today that must be filled up. He presented many charts setting forth the increase in the cost of foods, clothing, rent and every other item that goes into the family budget, since 1914. The total increase in the cost of living was figured at 73 per cent.

Of the commissioned officers of the coast artillery 26 per cent. have resigned since the signing of the armistice. Gen. Munson explained that the figures he gave related merely to the Regular Army and not to the temporary officers appointed for the duration of the war. Of the officers of the field artillery 25 per cent have resigned; cavalry, 19 per cent, and infantry, 19 per cent., also. Sergt. William Lawrence, first sergeant of his troop of cavalry, now stationed at Fort Myer, testified that he could not live on his pay. He is married and has been for four years. He has been in the service eight years and his basic pay is $48 a month. His allowances bring this up to $89.

"How does it go, on $89 a month?" asked Senator New.

"It doesn't go at all; we can't get along," replied the sergeant.

He said that he liked the service and would stay in it if he could get a living wage.

BELGIAN RULER THANKS NATION

Makes Addresses to Both Branches of Congress.

Declares Our Forces Turned Tide to Victory.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Despite a busy day ahead of him, King Albert varied his announced programme and, accompanied by Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Brabant, called at the White House this morning, spending half an hour in an informal visit with Mrs. Wilson. The visit followed the reception of the staff of the Belgian Legation by the royal party.

On his return from the White House King Albert received Vice-President Marshall and Mrs. Marshall, Senator Cummins, president pro tempore of the Senate, and Speaker Gillett of the House. Miss Margaret Wilson, the President's daughter, also called during the morning. As she left she was escorted to the door by the King and the Duke of Brabant. Secretary and Mrs. Baker were first of the Cabinet circle to arrive and were followed by the other Cabinet officers and their wives.

King Albert was greeted as "our friend, our defender and our ally," when he stood before the Senate of the United States and later before the House of Representatives to fulfill the main purpose of his long voyage to American shores—the expression of Belgium's gratitude for American aid during the great war.

VISITS HALLS OF CONGRESS.

For the first time in history the crown head of a monarchical government was a guest in the legislative halls of the foremost democracy of the world. Beside him stood the Duke of Brabant, his son and heir to the Belgian throne, and from the gallery, Queen Elizabeth looked down upon a scene unprecedented in American history.

Cheers and hand-clapping rang through the staid chamber of the Senate as the King entered, escorted by Senator Lodge, while Senator Hitchcock walked beside Prince Leopold, Queen Elizabeth and Mrs. Marshall, wife of the Vice-President, entered the executive gallery at the same moment.

King Albert was seated beside Senator Cummins, presiding over the Senate, with the youthful Prince at his right. Senate and galleries rose and cheered again when Senator Cumminse presented the King, paying tribute to the high courage of the man who had led the heroic little kingdom in its struggle against a mighty foe.

GREETED BY APPLAUSE.

In his reply the King spoke slowly and in quaintly accented English, reading from manuscript written by him in long-hand. Another demonstration of approval came from floor and galleries when he had finished.

After his address, the King and the Prince were introduced to the members of the Senate by Senator Lodge, Senator Warren of Wyoming, father-in-law of Gen. Pershing, was the first to greet him.

The Queen was the first to appear on the House side. Members rose and applauded as she entered the executive gallery.

The formal announcement of the King's coming was drowned in a wave of applause as he was recognized at the door. When he walked down the aisle, escorted by former Speaker Champ Clark, there was a rear of cheers. He was greeted by Speaker Gillett, beside whom he took his seat.

In his address to the House King Albert paid glowing tribute to the valor of American soldiers and sailors, whose aid, he said, had turned the scale of victory in the great war.

Members rose and applauded when he had finished, and the King and his son then greeted the Representatives personally, while the Queen stood in the gallery to watch.

The formal visit to the Capitol lasted little less than an hour, and from there the King went to be decorated with the American Distinguished Service Medal.

ESCORTED TO SENATE.

On their arrival at the Capitol King Albert and his son were met by a reception committee composed of Senators Lodge, Harding, Warren, Hitchcock, Swanson and Underwood and escorted to the Senate chamber. Senator Cummins, president pro tempore, presided and introduced King Albert, paying high tribute to the gallantry with which Belgium had met the first shock of the war and barred the path of Germany.

"That one country," he said, "small in territory, weak—comparatively—in military strength, but incomparable in loyalty to a Christian civilization and human liberty, unsurpassed in bravery, inspired by the loftiest ideals, stood in the path of this oncoming monster, and, in supreme sacrifice saved the world for freedom. When the sons and daughters of our race, now or hereafter, forget this sacrifice or fail to remember it with reverence and gratitude, the world which Belgium saved will be unworthy of its deliverance.

"Individual sacrifice, happily adorns every page of history, but it remained for the immortal Belgians and their beloved King to record an instance in which national altruism rose to the heights of personal devotion.

"Of all the men of Europe, Asia, Africa or the islands of the sea, there lives no man more heartily welcome to the Senate of the United States than the man who sits at my side.

"Senators, I present you our friend, our defender, and our ally, Albert, King of the Belgians."

SPEECH TO SENATE.

In his reply to Senator Cummins, King Albert said:

"I salute, not only the eminent gentlemen who received me here during the day, but I salute the memory of your great predecessors, who during 130 years have sat in this place and given to the whole world the example of highest civic virtues. This welcome of the Senate seals that reception, so warm and so spontaneous, that I have received everywhere during my journey across this magnificent country. I am deeply moved by the expressions of sympathy that the name of Belgium evokes from this noble American people.

"Nothing could better characterize the reign of universal democracy than that friendship which unites the great republic, with its 110,000,000 citizens, and the realm of which I am the constitutional head, with its 7,500,000 inhabitants. If there is no equality of power and riches between them, there is equality in the love of liberty and inspiration towards social progress. On both sides of the Atlantic the same ideal inspires us. The exchange of ideals, the commercial relations, the visits to Belgium of eminent American citizens, of whom many sit in this assembly, are so many means of tightening the bonds between the two nations.

"I hope with all my heart that these relations, which go back as far as memory, which have been fortified during the war as well as by the admirable assistance which you rendered Belgium by feeding her people and by fraternity in arms, will never cease to develop for the great good of the two peoples."

ADDRESSES THE HOUSE.

The visit to the Senate of King Albert and the Duke of Brabant lasted only half an hour and they went immediately to the House. Speaker Gillett, in welcoming King Albert in the House of Representatives, said that while every nation had its hero developed by the war, there was universal agreement that the King of the Belgians by his heroic bravery had come out of the war the hero of the whole world.

"This is the first time," said Mr. Gillett, "that this chamber has been visited by a reigning monarch, and I am sure that we are all glad that it is our guest of today who establishes this new precedent, one whose royalty has been overshadowed by his heroism."

In his adress to the House His Majesty said:

"I am happy to be able to hear this chamber, which embodies the living spirit of the American people, the greetings of Belgium, a democratic and parliamentarian state created by the vote of the popular assembly of 1830, which proclaimed the independence of our provinces. It is a pleasure to recall that many of the provisions of our Constitution were taken from your fundamental law, so that at the outset of her career Belgium was indebted to you.

"Our two peoples have fought and triumphed together. The intervention of the American army was the decisive factor in determining the victory. I pay my respectful and sincere homage to the officers, the soldiers and sailors who fell for a great cause on the battlefields of Europe and in the defense of the seas.

TRIBUTE TO HEROES.

"The hearts of Belgians whom these heroes helped to liberate from the domination of the enemy go out in profound gratitude to the wounded. In their name I address to the wounded of the great war the assurance of our affection and sympathy. I express the gratitude of Belgium to those distinguished American citizens who gave themselves with such a spirit of sacrifice to the task of lightening the sufferings of the Belgian people.

"In this noble assembly I solemnly thank the members of the Commission for Relief and the innumerable committees that helped in its admirable efforts. I salute, in particular, the names graven forever in our memories, of Herbert Hoover and Brand Whitlock.

"May this splendid American nation, so richly endowed by nature, so magnificently served by its people, pursue in the serenity of its power its work of achievement, of culture and of progress."

The addresses of King Albert today were the longest and most important he has made in America. They were intended as messages to the entire nation, and his sincerity in expressing the thanks of Belgium to Americans for their aid was plainly evident.

GEN. YUDENITCH MEETS REPULSE.

Bolshevik Counter-Offensive is Successful.

Town of Dmitrovsk Captured from Denikine.

Petrograd's Fall Before Winter Thought Doubtful.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Oct. 28.—A wireless report from Bolshevist military headquarters picked up here reports that the counter-offensive against Gen. Yudenitch in the vicinity of Petrograd has been successful.

It further reports the capture of Dmitrovsk, a town fifty-seven miles southwest of Orel, from Gen. Denikine.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Winter, moving southward from Arctic regions, is coming to the aid of Bolshevik troops in Petrograd and the ability of Gen. Yudenitch to capture the former Russian capital before cold weather puts an end to his campaign, seems doubtful.

Soviet forces have succeeded in recapturing Tsarskoe Selo and Pavovsk, south of Petrograd, and appear to be in a position to prolong the defense of the city for an indefinite period.

Yudenitch's troops are reported to have fallen back along the front south of Petrograd, but unofficial reports would seem to indicate they have moved nearer Petrograd on the line running from Gatchina to Krasnaia Gorka. It is said the town of Gurila, on this front, has been taken from the Bolsheviki.

Furious fighting is going on in and around Kiev. At some points the Denikine troops have been forced to retire slightly.

BOLSHEVIKI WIN ATTACK.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

OMSK, Monday, Oct. 20.—The military situation on the western Siberian front has not changed materially in the last few days except as regards the left flank of the third army of the all-Russian government forces. The Bolsheviki have thrown in two new divisions here and forced a retirement by this flank of some thirty miles. It has not yet been determined whether this constitutes a new offensive on a large scale.

DENOUNCES BULLITT REPORT.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Oct. 28.—In the House of Commons today Mr. Bonar Law, the government leader, replied to a question by Josiah Wedgewood, liberal member, in regard to statements by William C. Bullitt, formerly member of the American Peace Commission, on his trip to Russia. Mr. Bonar Law said Prime Minister Lloyd George had not personally read the report of the proceedings, but that this had been examined for him.

The Prime Minister, he said, adhered to his statement that, in effect, the statement of Mr. Bullitt was a tissue of falsehoods.

ALLIED PARTY TO BALTIC.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Oct. 28.—The Supreme Council decided today that the Allied commission to supervise the evacuation of the Baltic provinces by the Germans should leave for the Baltic within a few days. This decision was reached at a meeting of the council presided over by Premier Clemenceau and attended by Marshal Foch, Gen. Nicessel and numerous Allied military and naval experts.

The commission is composed of Gen. Nicessel, representing France, who is chief of the body; Gen. Turner, England; Gen. Marietti, Italy; Commandant Takeda, Japan; and Brig.-Gen. S. A. Cheney, United States.

HOAX PERPETRATOR HELD.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BERLIN, Oct. 28.—Dr. Moschell, who, posing as an American agent, is alleged to have perpetrated a hoax on a group of anti-Bolshevik Russians, who were induced to establish a government here to take possession of Russian territories between the frontiers of Poland and old Russia, has been arrested. He is charged with fraud. When taken into custody he posed as Baron de la Roche, and said he was touring Germany.

The Kurtzmann-Aeolian Player Piano

The KURTZMANN for 71 Years

is proving one of the most popular players on the market today — because it combines the sterling worth of the Kurtzmann piano with the player action made by the great Aeolian Company, the world's largest producer of player pianos (maker of the Pianola and Duo-Art.) Prices begin at $850.

The thorough dependability of the Kurtzmann—its reputation for long wear under hard usage—is a tradition of which we as Kurtzmann agents are justly proud. The tone of the Kurtzmann seems to mellow with age. Since 1848 this piano has maintained a position of supremacy among other instruments of its price class. Grands begin at $885, uprights at $495. Liberal terms if desired.

GERMANS FIRE ON RED CROSS.

Familiar World-War Tactics in Letvian Offensive.

Airplane Arrives from Berlin with Army Orders.

British and French Openly Act with Lett Troops.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

RIGA, Oct. 27.—So far as is known, here, America and the Allies have not decided on a policy of material aid to Letvia in her war against Col. Bermond's forces. However, British and French military missions and British warships have definitely assumed a belligerent attitude on the side of the Letts, and are giving the latter their moral and physical support.

In addition, the American Red Cross, by a splendid work of assisting in the care of the wounded, and the American relief administration, by feeding the children of Riga and other cities and towns in Letvia, are naturally acting as an encouragement to the Letts to continue their struggle. But all this help, powerful as it is, will not enable the Letts to win out. They need much more powerful support. On the other hand, if they knew definitely they could count on further help from outside sources, they might be able to come to some sort of terms with Bermond which would not mean the entire loss of independence—although there is considerable doubt of that.

MAY TREAT WITH SOVIET.

The situation is further complicated by the fact that unless the Bolsheviks are more or less ousted from Russia before the winter campaign, Letvia, if not Esthonia and Lithuania, will make an armistice with soviet Russia in order to throw all her troops against the Russo-German forces. The obvious conclusion is that there should be a speedy declaration of the Allies' stand on the problem at Riga.

Col. Ryan, head of the American Red Cross in the Baltic, telegraphed this morning that he would return from Mitau between 10 and 12 o'clock. Accordingly, a cessation of firing was arranged between those hours, and two Red Cross officers with a white flag went to this end of the bridge over the Dvina to await him.

No sooner had they appeared in the open with the flag than the Germans burst a three-inch shrapnel only a few yards away. They took cover behind a buttress of the bridge while the enemy put over half a dozen more shells.

DIRECT FROM BERLIN.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 27.—The Letvian legation at Copenhagen has received telegraphic information from Kovno that Gens. Von der Goltz, Eberhardt and Bermond have entered into an agreement with the Bolsheviks whereby Von der Goltz and Bermond should attack the Letvian army from behind as soon as the Letvian troops were victorious on the Bolshevik front.

The dispatch states that a German airplane from Berlin landed at Shanlen, but proceeded to Moscow, with the purpose of working out the details of the German-Bolshevik offensive toward Letvia.

The Letvian government has decided to confiscate the property of all persons who have taken part in the conspiracy of Von der Goltz, Eberhardt and Bermond. Letvia has further mobilized all men from the 1884 to 1892 class.

It is said that the German bombardment of Riga with gas bombs has already caused the death of twenty civilians and the wounding of 100 others. Thousands of women are working with the Red Cross on the firing lines.

The Esthonian Minister to Denmark, Carl Menning, declares in an interview in a Copenhagen paper that Esthonia will not support the Kolchak and Yudenitch forces as long as the generals have not officially recognized the Baltic states and guaranteed the security of the independence of those countries. The date of the negotiations between the Bolsheviks and Baltic states representatives, which was to have been held at Dorpat this month, has been postponed because of the conditions at Riga.

WATER FREIGHT AND FARES RISE.

Advances Granted to Pacific Steamship Company.

State Commission Told High Wages Paid is Cause.

Company Claims Loss in Seven Months of $166,000.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—Authority to increase rates for loading, and charges for carrying freight and passengers has been granted the Pacific Steamship Company by the Railroad Commission. The freight rate increase will be carried by all freight handled by the company on its vessels plying between San Francisco, Los Angeles, Wilmington, and San Diego. The new loading charges apply only to the port of San Francisco. The passenger fares are to be increased from San Francisco to Southern California ports and between San Francisco and Eureka.

The commission also authorized the company to increase its rates for freight carried on what is know as the "narrow gauge route," serving San Francisco, Santa Cruz, Moss Landing, Monterey, San Simeon, Cayucos, Port San Luis and Santa Barbara. The company's request for authority to discontinue the serving of San Simeon and Cayucos was withdrawn. The steamship officials and representatives of the two ports have adjusted the differences that led to the request.

CAUSED BY HIGH WAGES.

All increases are predicated on the showing by the company, which was not disputed by the shippers, of increased costs of operation due to higher salary and wage schedules, greater cost of material and generally increased costs of maintaining every department of the shipping business.

The freight increases on the "narrow gauge route" range from 40 cents to $1.70 a ton in the class rate and from 20 cents to $1 a ton in the commodity rates, the average being about 50 cents a ton.

Passenger fares between San Francisco and the Southern California points are to be increased in amounts of from $1 to $4 between San Diego and Los Angeles-Long Beach in amounts from 50 cents to $1, and between San Diego and Wilmington by 50 cents. The fare between San Francisco and Eureka is to be increased by the addition of $1 to $1.40, depending on the cost of accommodation. The increase in excess baggage rates will range from 2 cents to 59 cents per 100 pounds.

PATRONS ACQUIESCE.

At the hearing on the application for the increase, no objection was voiced, the Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco and the Association of Jobbers of Los Angeles stating that in view of the showing made by the company the rates asked for should prevail.

This showing indicated that the company's losses on intrastate traffic for the seven months ending July 31, 1919, were $166,463, and the average loss each month for the entire system during the same period was $70,717.

Officials of the company testified that if the increases were not forthcoming that they would have to suspend the service affected. Requests for further increases would be a certainty, they testified.

NAVY YARD ALIENS GO FIRST, SAYS DANIELS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

BOSTON, Oct. 28.—No citizens of the United States are to be removed from their jobs at navy yards because of lack of work or lack of funds for naval construction, until all aliens have been discharged. This is the substance of an order by Secretary Daniels received at the First Naval District headquarters here today.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Only 1000 aliens will be affected by Secretary Daniels's order requiring that aliens be discharged before American citizens in connection with reduction of navy yard civilian personnel, Navy Department officials said. Lack of funds is expected to cause a considerable reduction in navy yard forces this winter.

PERSHING COMING ON PACIFIC COAST TRIP.

WILL REPORT ON NECESSITY FOR PERMANENCY OF VARIOUS WAR PROJECTS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. — Gen. Pershing announced today he was planning a tour of inspection of the war industries built up during his absence in France, for the purpose of formulating recommendations to Secretary Baker as to what portion should be maintained against another national emergency. His trip will take him as far as the Pacific Coast, and while away he will visit his home in Missouri.

The route and time of departure have not been fixed. Gen. Pershing expects to appear before the Congressional military committees during the current week. He said today he preferred not to discuss military matters in advance of the hearings.

The general has already prepared recommendations dealing with the reorganization of the army and other phases of the military establishments including the questions of increased pay for all ranks to meet the high cost of living.

COMPLETING A.E.F. REPORT.

Gen. Pershing's report as commander-in-chief of the American Expeditionary Force is nearing completion. It will be an official history of the war, taking in not only all actual military operations and movements from the departure of Gen. Pershing from Washington on April, 1917, to his return, but also the hundreds of Inter-Allied conferences and diplomatic negotiations conducted overseas.

Maj.-Gen. Robert L. Bullard, who commanded the Second Army in France, has been assigned to command the Department of the East with headquarters at New York, Secretary Baker announced today. He will succeed Maj.-Gen. Thomas H. Barry, retired.

U. S. ARMY MAN ON BERLIN COMMISSION.

COL. CONLEY WILL OVERSEE GERMAN METHODS OF RUSSIAN REPATRIATION.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BERLIN, Oct. 28.—The American army is again represented on the Inter-Allied Commission at Berlin. Col. Edgar T. Conley of the General Staff, who arrived yesterday, will serve as a member of the new Commission for Repatriation of Russian Prisoners recently authorized by the Supreme War Council.

This body does not actually conduct the repatriation, as did the former commission, of which Gen. Harries was the United States' representative, but will oversee the methods of the Germans.

Col. Conley has no command under him, but even his presence alone is somewhat of a surprise here, as it was understood that the United States had withdrawn from such commissions until the treaty was disposed of by the Senate.

Although he denies emphatically that he is involved in a movement involving the autonomy of Alsace-Lorraine, the Foreign Office has summoned Von Grunellus from The Hague to Berlin to make a statement as to his association with Count Rapp and others accused of a conspiracy to foment anti-French agitation.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—The Inter-Allied Military Commission is on its way to Courland and will stop in Berlin to take cognizance of the official instructions given by the German government to Gen. Von der Goltz and the German troops.

JAPAN MAY EXTEND BRITISH ALLIANCE.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

HONOLULU, Oct. 27.—The Japanese government has announced that negotiations will be opened forthwith with Great Britain for extension of the Anglo-Japanese alliance, according to a Tokio cable to the Japanese daily Nippu Jiji.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

Federal Judge Holds War Act Unconstitutional.

Seventy Million Gallons Out of Bonded Warehouses.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 28.—Seventy million gallons of whisky, three-fourths of which is stored in Kentucky, was ordered released from government bonded warehouses by Federal Judge Walter Evans, in a decision rendered late last night, within a few minutes after the telegraph wires carried announcements of President Wilson's veto of the dry enforcement bill.

Although the decision is regarded by liquor men of Kentucky as a big victory for them, it does not mean that this enormous holding of whisky will be placed on the market again now, because Judge Evans ruled also that it must not be moved until the United States Supreme Court passes on the case.

The decision does not mean that Judge Evans overruled a motion made by the government and opposed by Levy Mayer, Chicago, and William Marshall Bullitt, Louisville, attorneys for the plaintiffs the Kentucky Distilleries and Warehouse Company, to dismiss the suit, but that he granted a temporary injunction restraining Elwood Hamilton, internal revenue collector for Kentucky, from holding the whisky in bond.

ACT UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

Judge Evans held that the war-time prohibition act was unconstitutional, and, furthermore, that the government could not confiscate or seize private property without paying for it, ruling automatically that the whisky was private property.

The case will be certified to the United States Supreme Court within three or four days, and will be reviewed by that tribunal by November 10, it is thought.

In presenting the distillers' argument before Judge Evans, Attorney Levi Mayer said:

"The President declared in his speech to Congress that the war is at an end, and can never be resumed. The War Department, in an order issued September 30, 1919, said: 'The act of war and the progress of demobilization are at an end.' Ten months before the President said three times in one sentence that the war is over, but he has withheld the date."

Judge Evans interrupted at this point to say that the date was withheld in order to keep the railroads under government supervision.

Mr. Mayer began by setting forth the facts. He said that most of the whisky now held by the government was distilled long before August, 1914, that the distilleries were licensed by the government to manufacture the liquor, and that large amounts of money had been spent in erecting warehouses.

"It is a question," he said, "of whether the government is authorized by the act of November 21, 1918, to take from us the right of sale or disposition of this whisky.

LEGAL RIGHTS INVOLVED.

Mr. Mayer declared that war necessarily creates legal emergencies, but declared that many unconstitutional measures were passed. These, of course, were necessary for the safety of the State. The Constitution was not suspended during the Civil War; it has always been the same.

"Since April, 1917," said Mr. Mayer, "Congress has enacted many acts which we did not then question because of the safety of the public, but now, since the question has come to cold analysis and since the war is over, the legal rights of the people must be considered."

Mr. Mayer quoted from the body of the act to show that the right of compensation was granted the Secretary of Agriculture in appropriating crops of grain, but that no such provision was made in the matter of distilled spirits.

Referring to the question as to whether whiskey is property, Mr. Mayer said it can be levied upon to satisfy judgment, is subject to taxation, and the inheritor thereof is made to pay inheritance taxes both to State and Federal governments. Stealing whiskey is a crime, and only property can be stolen. He scored the United States' policy of holding 225,000 barrels of whiskey and neither permitting it to be sold nor compensating its owners.

"ROOSEVELT GREATEST FRIEND OF THE WEST."

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Senator Phelan, the principal speaker at the Theodore Roosevelt memorial meeting in Washington, was a close friend of the late President, and paid the following personal tribute to the greatest friend of the West who ever occupied the White House:

"No man in high office ever had so complete a knowledge of his country nor better understood the needs of the people than Theodore Roosevelt. His life in the West broadened his vision and, at the same time gave him that abundance of vitality, which successfully carried him through a brilliant career.

"Theodore Roosevelt was a man of action. Strenuous, generous, he became a force for right, which brooked no opposition, and personal contact won the hearts of his fellows.

"In an age of luxury he had no dissipation, and, at a time of financial aggrandizement, he was without covetousness. His only passion was for service in the cause of country and humanity. He had abounding confidence in the American people—the average man and woman.

"Over his desk hung the picture of a typical countryman—farmer or mechanic—reading a newspaper in the parlor of an humble home, scanning news with thoughtful mien. Roosevelt would point to that picture, when specious pleas were made to him and say, with a self-satisfied and fond expression, 'That is the man I am working for. I want to know what he thinks!' There was the secret of his success. In the fullness of his power he was not lured from paths of rectitude.

"He followed a steady light—the welfare of the people and the glory of the republic. He was the spokesman for the inarticulate masses of men, aspiring and hoping for better things, yet always fearing the hand of injustice and oppression, but they felt secure and safe in the honor and courage of their President. Therefore in all walks of life men responded to his call, either to settle the problems of peace or the problems of war. He was a naturally-appointed leader. That he did not depend upon office was shown by the influence he exerted as a publicist, and when opposed by the two old political parties the tribute paid him by 4,000,000 voters. He filled the popular mind as a hero, because he was fearless, strong and unconquerable.

"The comment of a little child spoke the wonderment of the people when he passed away—'they had to take him in his sleep.' His fame shall grow with the years and his fine life and worth as man and President will be one of the dearest heritages of his countrymen."

PRESIDENT SITTING UP IN BED WHILE EATING.

WOUNDED SOLDIERS CALL WITH FLOWERS—MRS. ROOSEVELT GIVEN FRANK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—President Wilson continued to show progress, said a bulletin today by his physician. The bulletin follows:

"There is no special change in the President's condition. His progress continues. He takes his luncheon and dinner in a semi-sitting position, which adds greatly to the enjoyment of his food and causes no fatigue."

The President signed a bill extending the postal franking privilege to Mrs. Roosevelt, widow of the former President, yesterday, the sixty-first anniversary of the birth of her distinguished husband.

Five wounded soldiers from Walter Reed Hospital called at the White House today to present to the President a large basket of white chrysanthemums and American Beauty roses. They were received by Mrs. Wilson.

LIQUOR USERS GET ANOTHER WALLOP.

CAN'T KEEP BOOZE IN CLUB LOCKER UNLESS YOU LIVE THERE, BURNELL RULES.

Recently inquiries made of Mayor Snyder by representatives of certain social clubs of Los Angeles, as to whether or not it is permissible for members of social clubs to keep alcoholic liquors for their own use in their private lockers at such clubs, City Attorney Burnell, yesterday sent to the Mayor his opinion, as follows:

"I advise you, therefore, that it is unlawful for a club member to have or keep in a private locker, not in his own room at such club, any liquor which is in fact intoxicating;

"The club or its officers are liable to prosecution under the Gandier ordinance if a member is permitted to drink liquor intoxicating in fact upon the club premises, except under the condition referred to in paragraph No. 4, below;

"If the club has a city liquor license a member may keep in a private locker any alcoholic liquors not intoxicating in fact. He may not do so, however, if the club has no liquor license.

"A member who actually resides at the club may have and keep in his own private room any alcoholic or intoxicating liquors for his own personal use, and may there serve the same to his guests, as an act of hospitality alone, and without consideration.

GRAND JURY SUSTAINS APPEAL FROM BREWERS

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—An orders sustaining the demurrer to the Federal grand jury information against Rudolph Samet, president, and Louis Heinrich, secretary, of the Rainier Brewing Company, on charges of violating the War-time Prohibition Act, was issued by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals here today.

The order was entered after a stipulation by Frank M. Silva, Assistant United States District Attorney, that as the word "intoxicating" was not mentioned in the information in relation to the defendant's output, the action should be dismissed.

Thin, Weak Folks Need Blood-Iron Phosphate

If you are thin, weak and emaciated and lack strength, energy, vigor and endurance; if you have that worn out, all gone, tired feeling, the chances are that it's because your nerves need phosphate and your blood needs iron. Either phosphate or iron by itself is insufficient; both must be supplied at the same time. For this purpose pure Blood Iron Phosphate is unequaled. A 5-grain tablet taken at meal times three times daily restores nervous energy, enriches the blood and helps you to put on pounds of good stay-there flesh in a manner that is little short of marvelous. Get enough pure Blood-Iron Phosphate from The Owl Drug Co., or any other good druggist for a three weeks' treatment—it costs only $1.15—50 cents a week—and take as directed. If at the end of three weeks you haven't gained several pounds in weight and don't feel stronger and better than you have for months; if your eyes aren't brighter, and your nerves steadier; if you don't sleep better, and your vim, vigor and vitality aren't more than doubled, you can have your money back for the asking and Blood-Iron Phosphate will cost you nothing.—[Advertisement.

WET AGAIN IF TREATY PASSES.

they declared their position was not altered by the fact that President Wilson was prepared to cut through legal doubt and wipe out a law the necessity for which he believes to have passed.

DEPARTMENT TO ACT.

With today's action by the Senate the Department of Justice is ready to deal with any offenders against the drastic provisions of the new act. At best heretofore, prosecutions were more or less haphazard and necessarily so, it was said, because of the loosely-drawn language of the act, but the new law gives ample means of breaking up the traffic.

So drastic is the enforcement act that a man, for instance, may be fined or put in jail for displaying a picture of a brewery or a keg, but his right to store liquor in his own home stood up against all attacks in committee and both houses of Congress.

Warning went out tonight to dealers selling 2¾ per cent. beer, without apparent risk heretofore, that the new law fixed one-half of 1 per cent. as the legal limit of alcoholic content.

APPEAL BY ROPER.

Law-abiding citizens, churches, civic organizations and welfare societies were summoned tonight by Commissioner Roper to aid the bureau of internal revenue in enforcing the prohibition law.

Any flouting of the law, Mr. Roper declared, would bring into disrepute the American form of government.

While the bureau is made the agency directing the enforcement of the measure, with the Department of Justice conducting prosecutions on evidence obtained by the bureau's men, responsibility is not confined to Federal officers, the commissioner said. State, county and municipal officials are expected to do a full share in stopping and punishing violations and the successful administration of the law, Mr. Roper said, will be measured largely by the manner in which these officials meet their requirements.

ENFORCEMENT STAFF.

Mr. Roper's plans contemplate the organization of a prohibition enforcement staff which will be devoted entirely to that work and completely dissociated from the tax-collection activities of the bureau. There will be a deputy commissioner in Washington in charge of the prohibition section and deputy collectors in each district with an efficient force of men under them. Pending the organization of this force, employees qualified for the work who can be spared from the tax work of the bureau, have been directed to co-operate to the fullest extent with the public and local officers.

To prevent delay, collectors and agents have been instructed to confer with United States district attorneys with regard to co-operation in obtaining and presenting evidence.

VIEW OF ROPER.

"The national prohibition act is now the law of the land," said Commissioner Roper. "It makes the bureau of internal revenue the directing agency in the enforcement of both war-time prohibition and prohibition under the constitutional amendment. The secretary and the commissioner of internal revenue urgently expressed to both committees of Congress the hope that this important responsibility would not be imposed on the Treasury Department, burdened as it is with fiscal and revenue matters. Congress decreed otherwise, and the department purposes to respond in the fullest degree to the duty placed upon it.

"Close co-operation between Federal and State, county and municipal officers is of the utmost importance. Collectors have been instructed to get in touch with governors and mayors in each state and request their co-operation in urging upon sheriffs and all other local officers the vital necessity of immediately assuming their responsibilities under the new act.

ASK CO-OPERATION.

"We expect unreserved co-operation from those moral agencies which are so vitally interested in the proper administration of this law. Such agencies include churches, civic organizations, educational societies, charitable and philanthropic societies and other welfare bodies.

"We undertake the task entrusted to us with a sense of assurance prompted by the same abiding faith in the American people that enabled us to appeal to them successfully in the enforcement of the war revenue laws. The public has supported us so nobly in tax matters that we are confident it will not fail to respond in the enforcement of a measure which, like the income tax, now is a part of the Constitution of the United States."

The vote on the prohibition act in the Senate was 65 to 20, eight more than the necessary two-thirds majority.

The roll call follows:

FOR OVER-RIDING THE VETO:

Republicans—Ball, Capper, Colt, Cummins, Curtis, Fernald, Frelinghuysen, Gronna, Hale, Harding, Johnson of California, Jones of Washington, Kellogg, Kenyon, Keyes, Knox, Lenroot, Lodge, McCormick, McCumber, McNary, Moses, Nelson, New, Newberry, Norris, Page, Phipps, Poindexter, Sherman, Smoot, Spencer, Sterling, Sutherland, Townsend, Wadsworth, Warren and Watson—38.

Total for, 65.

AGAINST OVER-RIDING VETO.

Republicans—Borah, Brandegee, Calder, Edge, Fall, France, LaFollette, McLean and Penrose—9.

Democrats—Gay, Gerry, Hitchcock, King, Phelan, Ransdell, Robinson, Shields, Thomas, Underwood and Walsh of Massachusetts—11.

Total against, 20

Of the eleven Senators not voting, Senator Elkins, Republican, West Virginia, and Johnson, Democrat, South Dakota, were paired for the motion with Senator Stanley, Democrat, Kentucky, opposing, and Senators Beckham, Kentucky, and Martin, Virginia, Democrats, for, were paired with Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, against.

Other Senators absent or paired and not voting, were:

Culberson, Democrat, Texas; Dillingham, Republican, Vermont; Pittman, Democrat, Nevada; Smith, Democrat, Maryland; Smith, Democrat, South Carolina.

STERLING TAKES CHARGE.

When the bill was received from the House, Senator Sterling, Republican, South Dakota, who had charge of the measure when it passed the Senate, asked unanimous consent for its immediate consideration. Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, objected, and then Senator Sterling moved that the Senate, which was in open session for debate on the peace treaty, proceed to legislative business.

Objection to laying aside the treaty was made by Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, the administration leader, who has opposed prohibition measures in the past. Although Senator Sterling said he was sure the bill's disposition would require but a very short time, Senator Hitchcock urged that debate on the treaty continue, declaring the people were beginning to believe the Senate was deliberately delaying the treaty.

Senator Nelson, Republican, Minnesota, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, endeavored to cut off discussion by declaring Senator Sterling's motion nondebatable. Republican Leader Lodge and Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, also quoted rules declaring the prohibition bill was privileged.

Senator Lenroot, Republican, Wisconsin, who was presiding temporarily, ruled that the Sterling motion was debatable.

Urging that the President's veto be sustained, Senator Underwood, Democrat, Alabama, said war-time prohibition was unconstitutional because it involved confiscation of private property without adequate compensation.

Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, remarked that as a result of President Wilson's statement on the coal strike and his prohibition veto message "he was utterly bewildered" as to the ending of the war.

"The President's statement to the miners declared the war is not ended and their contracts are in effect," said Mr. Borah, "while this message declares the war is closed."

Senator Underwood's charge that proponents of prohibition had broken faith by virtually discarding the one-year clause in the constitutional amendment, thus preventing disposition of stocks of liquor on hand, was sharply resented by Senator Sheppard, Democrat, Texas.

The one-year provision, Senator Sheppard said, had been put in "as a matter of grace and not as an obligation," adding that the Supreme Court had held there was no such thing as property right in intoxicating liquor.

VIEW OF THOMAS.

Senator Thomas, Democrat, Colorado, said he could see no emergency requiring interruption of the treaty debate, and he urged that the Senate fix a date for a vote on the treaty. Senator Fall, Republican, New Mexico, said he would soon propose an agreement to that end.

The war-time law, Senator Thomas said, resulted in confiscation of property in the liquor traffic. There was an implied agreement, in adoption of the Constitutional prohibition, he added, that time should be given for disposal of liquor and saloon interests.

Urging the Senate to override the veto, Senator Norris of Nebraska said the President had no power to declare prohibition at an end until the war actually ends and demobilization has been completed.

Senator Lodge, Republican leader, explained that while he had been opposed to the Constitutional prohibition amendment, now that it has been acepted by the country it must be enforced.

The Massachusetts Senator, however, added that the President in his annual message to Congress has said that the war was at an end, while in his veto message he had declared demobilization complete. He said he could not agree with the President in his views on this bill and he thought to prevent the measure from becoming law, especially in view of the present disturbed conditions over the country, "would be calamity."

Two Days' Fight Ends in Call for Resignations.

President Declares He Can't be Kicked Out.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
PHOENIX (Ariz.) Oct. 28.—After ...ssing nearly two days in the ... the majority in the State ...deration of Labor finally has suc... ...ded in bringing to a vote its res... ...tions denouncing President T. J. ... and Secretary G. D. Smith as ...sympathizers of the I.W.W., ene... ...mies of the American Federation of Labor, and disrupters of the State Federation, and demanding their resignations. The resolution passed by 42 to 17.

Precedent was much of interest. Croaff, at bay, warned the majority that he considered himself elected by a popular vote that could not be overriden by a mere convention, and that he would keep his seat till the toll of the new year. He also took up the roll of accusations and made personal mention of a considerable number of the twenty-nine signers. As a rule, when he had finished capitulation of his enemies' shortcomings, the individual referred to arose and, without particular heat, stated "the presiding officer is a liar." Sometimes there were variations, though this was the usual form of rejoinder, with something added concerning Croaff's own dirty linen.

PROTEST AGAINST REDS.

The action was a protest against extreme radicalism within the federation, especially as voiced by the Arizona Labor Journal, called by Delegate Barry "a disgrace to labor." Delegate Neeley called attention to the fact that opposition to Croaff is from the best-organized labor centers. Murdoch of Jerome complained bitterly of the operations of stool pigeons within the ranks, and then it was discovered that the speaker was a suspended member.

It developed that the failure of a general strike in Phoenix lately was due to the refusal of the bricklayers to come in.

In his final speech Croaff denied that he carried a red card, though he liked some of the I.W.W. principles. He belittled the work of the American federation as something "going into the scrap heap of capitalism." He said that one of his accusers now is being paid by cotton producers that are bringing thousands of Mexicans into Arizona; that another had been paid by copper companies on a certain political excursion; that another was drunk on the floor of the last State convention; that another had stabbed after praising him; that another had been discharged from political position for immorality, and that another had tried vainly to land a village assistant postmastership.

The catalogue of transgressions, with its occasional interruptions, furnished an hour's entertainment, after which the previous question was forced.

Secretary Smith had pleaded for united action on the part of the workers as the only way in which they could secure control of Industry, such united action as advocated by the I. W. W., generally referred to by the delegates as the one big union. Anything short of a general strike is a farce, he said, and he prophesied failure of the steel strike and all other such strikes till there shall be worldwide action.

When he precidted a railroad strike on the Plumb bill, there came prompt denial by a Tucson railroad delegate.

Croaff had charged director McCoy of the Government Employment Bureau with responsibility for the charges. McCoy denied in a letter read that he charged Croaff and Smith with attempting to establish a soviet government in America, with conditions such as have turned luckless Russia into a charnel house and brought millions to starvation.

One delegate brought out the fact that the start of the attack on Croaff was when he called a general Mooney strike in Arizona, an order disobeyed by all the unions and especially scored by the Tucson Trades Council. This delegate observed that Croaff is far better than arson.

PRESIDENT IS CONDEMNED.

Earlier in the day Secretary Smith had presented a resolution condemning the action of President Wilson for desertion of the principles for which the country had gone to war, for acceptance of infamous secret treaties and of the principle of self-government of small nations; for agreeing to the Shantung feature, and for waging a private war on the Russian soviet. Sympathy was expressed with the struggling workers of Russia and condemnation of the efforts of Allied capitalism to starve the soviet. Removal of troops and recognition of the soviet was urged.

Other resolutions offered were against physical examination of workers, for physical examination of school children, for creation of a State Building Trades Council, for legislation to prevent the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific from taking car repairs to Southern California from Arizona, against the jailing of Debs and in favor of the Plumb plan.

FOURTEEN DEAD IN LAKE STORM.

Michigan Gale Drives Steamer Into Port Pilings.

Coast Guards' Efforts Futile in Raging Weather.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
MUSKEGON (Mich.) Oct. 28.—With fourteen known dead and six or more missing, only time can bring an accurate count of the toll of the great seas which early this morning bodily lifted the Crosby passenger steamer Muskegon, formerly the City of Holland, and smashed her to pieces on the piers at the entrance to Muskegon Harbor. The list of dead is being added to almost hourly.

The steamer, a side-wheeler, bound from Milwaukee after outriding a night of gale, made for the harbor in the early morning darkness, but is said by Capt. Edwin Miller to have struck the bar at the entrance. A wheel paddle jammed in the sand, checking headway, and the great combers threw the ship about and hurled her into the pier. There she hung, momentarily, pounding into wreckage, and then slipped off into the deep channel, going down in fifty feet of water and blocking the harbor entrance.

Fifty of the passengers and crew, guided to safety by a single flashlight in the hands of a coast guard, are known to have been saved. It was feared several were caught between decks. Survivors, most of whom escaped only in their night clothing, were being cared for by the Red Cross.

LIST OF DEAD GROWS.

James C. Reilly, Grand Rapids, was added to the list of unidentified dead tonight.

Graphic stories of terror, suffering and heroism were told by survivors and the bravery of Capt. Miller and his officers and crew, who remained at their posts to the last, was recounted. Capt. Miller, sensing disaster as the vessel was driven toward the pier, ordered all to leap for their lives, and the time-hallowed sea rule, "Women first," was followed. Only four women, one of whom was employed on the boat, were known tonight to have been lost.

Capt. Miller declared the undertow swung his ship after she struck the bar.

"I told the cabin boys to waken the passengers and crew and ordered all over the rail," he said. "Those who moved quickly were saved. The ones who held back lost their lives."

To R. J. Kakenborsky, a coast guard, many of those saved owe their lives, according to survivors. Approaching as closely as possible to the suspended steamer, while others of the coast guard struggled to free men and women from the tangle of wreckage, he held a flashlight, directing the way to safety.

TERRIFIC IMPACT.

"It seems that the ship was lifted out of the water, striking with terrific force," said Kakenborsky. "The lights went out and the boat was pounded to kindling wood."

The Muskegon was an iron vessel built in 1881 by the Holland Steamship Company and lately rebuilt for the Crosby line. She was 241 feet in length and had a gross tonnage of 1148.

George Watson, a passenger who found his way from the darkness of the stateroom deck, assisted a woman to escape. Watson flung life preservers in the darkness, climbing the steeply-inclined decks to an outer door. He found a woman crying and assisted her to safety down a line from the housing over one of the wheels. Watson said the heroism and quick work of coast guards and crew did much to quiet the panic resulting from the crash. He escaped with the dying screams of the unfortunates in his ears.

Harry Ries, second engineer, was found dead on the beach. He had been washed overboard, others of the crew said, after being caught in the steam of bursting pipes in the engine room, where he had remained as long as possible. Apparently he reached the shore safely and crawled some distance from the water. Exhaustion and injuries inflicted by pieces of wreckage are believed to have caused his death.

To the cabin boys and a stewardess, Mrs. Jessie Hopkins of Muskegon, who gave her life, is given credit for wakening and thereby saving many of those who escaped. Knowing themselves imperilled, these members of the boat's complement made their way to staterooms along the ship's darkened passages, pounding on doors and arousing the few who slept despite the storm. Then came the crash and the pounding requiem of the waves.

COAST GUARDS HELPLESS.

The crash came almost within the shadow of the coast guard station but the heavy sea rendered futile efforts to launch lifeboats. Launching of boats and rafts from the steamer also was impossible. The exact number of dead may never be known, as the passenger list went down with the vessel. Nothing is left of the ill-fated steamer excepting tons of wreckage strewn along the shore of Lake Michigan.

The City of Muskegon left Milwaukee in clear weather last night but was caught in a raging northwester that struck Lake Michigan early this morning. Riding the storm well, Capt. Edward Miller decided it was safer to attempt to make the harbor than to turn about. Just as the bows of the vessel came into the channel, a big wave caught it and smashed the craft against the end of the pier.

RADICALS WANT CLASS REVOLT, SAYS SPROUL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
NORTH ADAMS (Mass.) Oct. 28.—The labor unions of the country are beset by radicals who would destroy them to clear the way to a class revolution, said Gov. Sproul of Pennsylvania tonight at a political rally.

"It would suit these destructionists exactly if they could get hold of the forces of public safety in this country," said Gov. Sproul. "The municipal governments, then the State governments, and finally the national government would then be easy game."

HOUSE COMMONS WILL SUPPORT GOVERNMENT

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
LONDON, Oct. 28.—The government tonight received a vote of confidence in the House of Commons.

The bill renewing the powers of the defense of the realm act was under discussion. Sir Frederick Banbury, having obtained the speaker's indorsement of a technical objection to the bill, moved the adjournment of the debate to secure withdrawal and the substitution of a new bill.

Andrew Bonar Law, the government spokesman, basing himself on the speaker's admission that the bill could be remedied in committee, refused to withdraw the bill and made the question one of confidence.

The Danbury motion was then rejected by a vote of 283 to 77.

SAN FRANCISCO TAKES HAND IN DOCK STRIKE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—Two moves were made today toward settling the strike of longshoremen that has crippled waterfront traffic here for the last two months. The Waterfront Employers' Union agreed to meet tomorrow with the conference committee from the Riggers' and Stevedores' Union, while the Chamber of Commerce sent out an appeal to its members for funds to be placed at the disposal of the industrial committee of the chamber for use in restoring traffic to its normal condition.

The Chamber of Commerce announced that its action was without regard to the merits of the controversy between waterfront employers and employees, and was taken because freight already was being diverted to other ports and an embargo on San Francisco threatened.

BROOKLYN IRON MEN STRIKE.
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—More than 2000 iron workers are on strike today at James Shewan and Sons' shipyard in Brooklyn, tying up work on several vessels there. They demand a forty-four-hour week and a 25 per cent. wage increase.

Don't Neglect Your Breakfast

The Fear of Indigestion Often Prompts One to Start the Day Wrong. Eat What You Like, Take a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet and You're Safe.

Breakfast offers many of the most savory dishes of all the things we eat. And yet more people than otherwise go without breakfast save a roll and cup of coffee for fear of indigestion. If you like a fried egg, or some buckwheat or sausage for breakfast go to it and follow with a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet. You'll have no trouble. The average person who neglects breakfast will be hungry before noon. Most men smoke to kill the appetite, or munch on something to carry on till lunch time. An empty stomach under these conditions is not storing up energy, but on the contrary, is susceptible to many influences that may work hardship for the next meal.

It is advisable to eat three good meals a day and digest them. If the stomach seems to be weak, to help it or give it assistance is the rational thing to do. Try a good breakfast and follow it with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and you'll soon learn that regularity of meals follows a natural tendency, not an acquired one. You will find Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets on sale in almost all drug stores throughout the United States and Canada.—[Advertisement.

CONVENE WORLD LABOR MEETING.

Delegates of Many Countries Open Sessions Today.

Admission of Teuton Representatives Favored.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The first of the international bodies created by the treaty of Versailles to meet in America, the International Labor Conference, will convene at noon tomorrow in Washington. Sessions in conference are expected to continue for nearly a month and to lay the foundation of a world-wide movement for improvement and standardization of workers.

Although the legal status of the gathering still is held in doubt in some quarters, members of the Organizing Committee and officials of the Department of Labor were agreed today that the delegates who have arrived, representing more than thirty countries, should proceed to organize some sort of a conference and discuss the agenda prescribed in the peace treaty. Secretary of Labor Wilson still holds the view that only those states which have ratified the treaty can participate in the official conference, which is part of the machinery of the League of Nations. A plan, however, has been proposed which is expected to reconcile technical legality with the practical necessity of holding the conference at this time.

In opening the conference tomorrow, Secretary Wilson will describe the assembly as the "conference in the process of being organized," it was said today. Through the interpretation, it was pointed out, the provision of the treaty calling for the opening of such a conference on October 29 will be fulfilled and advantage will be taken of the power of the United States as "organizer" of the conference to admit nations which have not ratified the treaty.

The programme tomorrow will include an address by John Barrett, director of the Pan-American Union; report of Arthur Fontaine of France, committee chairman; provisional adoption of draft of standing orders and election of a committee on credentials.

CONSIDER GERMANS' STATUS.

The question of the admission of Germany and Austria also will be submitted tomorrow. While the Organising Committee will not make a recommendation on this point, indications are expressed themselves strongly in favor of their participation from the time of their arrival.

Following the conference session separate meetings of delegates representing governments, employers and workers will be called for the purpose of choosing nominees for offices of the conference and the secretarial board. The election of officers and the report of the Committee on Credentials will take place Thursday.

The conference will settle down to work Friday, taking up first the question of the eight-hour day and the forty-eight-hour week, according to present plans.

The opening of the meeting of the International Federation of Trade Unions, called to meet Monday, was postponed again today, owing to further delay in the arrival of W. A. Appleton of England, president, and other officials. No date was set for the meeting, but J. Oudegeest of Holland, secretary, stated that the labor-union men may await development in the International Labor Conference.

WOMEN'S CONGRESS OPENS.

Speeches in four languages and songs in as many more constituted the opening session today of the first international congress of working women. Some fifty of the delegates came from foreign countries, eleven nations and the United States being represented in the gathering. Under the services of a corps of young women interpreters, all of the addresses made during the day were fully understood.

Mrs. Raymond Robins, as president of the National Women's Trade Union League, called the gathering together, and hailed it as not only the first assembly of its kind, but also as the forerunner of many similar ones to come. As she concluded, a girl who had taken her remarks down in shorthand read them off again in French, while others who followed recited them again in Polish and Bohemian.

Dr. Alice Moreau, who responded to the welcome in behalf of Argentina, was warmly applauded for her assertion that "women must organize to overcome the old prejudice that she is some sort of an inferior animal to man."

Mrs. Margaret Bondfield, who is attached to the English delegation, attending the International Labor Conference, spoke of the Congress as "working to build a new civilization that will have none of the evils of the old."

At the afternoon session Miss Mary Van Kleeck, formerly of the Labor Department, discussed the participation of women in labor organization and industry, predicting that a few decades would find them out of the class needing special protection, by reason of their ability and organization. Miss Van Kleeck condemned both radicals and conservatives of extreme views, and advocated a middle course in meeting social and industrial problems.

The conference will elect permanent officers tomorrow and proceed to business.

SCHMIDT BOASTS OF GERMAN PROSPERITY.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BERLIN, Oct. 28.—Germany's economic prospects are more favorable, the country being provisioned with corn, meats, vegetables and fish for a long time to come, according to a statement made by Herr Schmidt, Minister of Economics, before the National Assembly yesterday.

"We are constantly endeavoring to increase production," said Herr Schmidt, "and the development of our industries is promising. Any attempt to stop the output of the mines must be prevented, and the government will take action against any political strikes. We must open up new coal areas, but we will be unable within measurable time to produce 350,000,000 tons yearly, as assumed abroad.

BALLOON ACCIDENT HELD UNAVOIDABLE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company of Akron, O., owner of the dirigible balloon which crashed in flames through the roof of a bank building July 21, causing death to thirteen persons, today was exonerated from all blame by a jury of technical experts and a coroner's jury which investigated the disaster.

KISS OF QUEEN FOR NOLAN'S DAUGHTER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Little Corles Theresa Nolan, the auburn-haired daughter of Congressman and Mrs. John I. Nolan of California, carried off the most-coveted royal honor of the day during the visit of King Albert and Queen Elizabeth to the House of Representatives.

Noticing the red-brown curls of the youngster from her seat in the gallery as the tot sat with her father in the chamber, while the King made his response to the welcome of Speaker Gillett, Queen Elizabeth, when she held an impromptu reception in the Speaker's room later, sent for Miss Nolan and gave her a royal kiss.

She is quite the envy of all the ladies in the Congressional delegation and is the happiest little girl tonight in all Washington.

BANKERS DUPES IN MOTOR FRAUD

Leading Financiers Indorse Scheme Through Letters.

Gen. Crowder's Namesakes Appeal to Patriotism.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Witnesses in the Pan-Motor trial in which thirteen officers of the company are charged with using the mails to defraud, today testified that two brothers named Crowder, who were selling Pan stock in Colorado, posed as cousins of Provost-Marshal-General Crowder, and told prospective buyers of stock that United State soldiers were improperly equipped and that they played on the patriotic feelings of the people.

C. F. Hafley of Montrose, Colo., said the Crowder brothers tried to sell him stock, urging patriotic motives and stating that they were representatives of the Pan-Motor Company. "I said, 'How does that make you government representatives?'" Mr. Hafley testified. "They replied, 'The Pan-Motor Company is working on government contracts.'"

Testimony relating to witnesses buying or subscribing for stock of that company from agents was objected to by Attorney Fletcher Dobyns for the defense on the ground that connection between all the defendants and the persons selling the stock had not been shown. Judge Landis overruled the objection.

USE PATRIOTIC APPEAL.

The objection to the ruling came during the testimony of Ralph N. Smith of Colorado, Colo., who testified that he bought twenty-five shares of Pan-Motor Company stock September 25, 1918, from an agent named Crowder.

The Crowders told S. H. Kettle, also residing in the vicinity of Colona, on September 24, 1918, that the company was filling government contracts, and that the taking of shares would be a patriotic act, according to his testimony.

They told Mr. Kettle, according to his testimony, that American soldiers were without steel helmets, and that they had to use their arms to ward off the blows aimed at them by the Germans.

Mrs. W. W. Bowers of Albuquerque, N. M., a widow, identified some of her husband's signatures and declared she had not known during his life that he held stock in the Pan-Motor Company.

Mrs. Lena Williamson, who was formerly Miss Lena Wind of Albuquerque, said she worked for S. C. Pandolfo during the latter part of 1917 in his Albuquerque office.

She testified that all money taken in through the sale of stock was evenly divided, half going to the Pan-Motor Company and half to Pandolfo and that all expenses of selling the stock were paid out of Pandolfo's half.

BANKERS AS TOOLS.

George B. Baxter, Melrose, N. M., in his testimony, identified a letter which he had given C. Pandolfo, head of the company, and which had been used by the latter in his stock-selling activities. Baxter admitted having received three shares of Pan-Motor stock as payment for signing the letter, which expressed the opinion that the business of manufacturing automobiles offered an attractive field for investment.

ALMOND ORCHARDS.

By our co-operative development plan, for a cash investment of $2500, part in cash and the balance in monthly payments of $25 each, or $10 per month for 4 years a ten-acre almond orchard of your own will be set out each year more than the year cash investment. We know this because our experts, who have been developing almond orchards in the Paso Robles district for the past few years, have proven it to be a fact. The same experts will select your nursery stock, plant your trees, cultivate your ground and give orchard their personal attention and will spare no expense to obtain the best results. We now own 160 acres of this land and know that it is the very best in the Paso Robles district, containing all those properties necessary to the culture of the almond.

We take one-half the purchase price out in stock in the ALMOND-LEY GUARANTEE YOU A FULL STAND OF BEARING TREES and the Title Insurance and Trust Company of Los Angeles is custodian of the development fund.

If you are looking for a 100 p. cent. investment and are willing to wait a few years without returns and then receive 1000 per cent. returns, investigate who we are and what we have. We have an illustrated booklet explaining our plan in detail and we welcome investigation.

SUICIDE ENDS DOUBLE LIFE.

"Miss Michaels" to Friends; "Mrs. Moore" at Hotel.

Cuddled in a cradle made of four large chairs placed together and covered with a mound of cushions spread over with a lavender bathrobe, Miss Laura Michaels, 24 years of age, late yesterday afternoon ended her life by inhaling gas in her apartments in a hotel near Ninth and Figueroa streets. With her suicide, Miss Michaels ended, without explanation, a double life which she had been leading since last August.

Police Detectives Wood and Murray, who investigated the suicide, learned that the girl registered at the hotel in August as Mrs. O. M. Moore. With her was a young man who claimed to be her husband. From an address found in the dead woman's apartments the police located a Mrs. Bertie Stotts of 1702 West Burlington avenue, and learned that Miss Michaels, alias Mrs. Moore, received all her mail under her family living in Oklahoma. Under her maiden name at that address, and called for it once a week. Mrs. Stotts told the police that she had given Miss Michaels permission to have her mail addressed to her home, but knew nothing more of the girl.

From Charles W. Crotty of 933 Bonsallo avenue, who discovered the body, the police learned of a strange love which they believe furnishes the explanation of the suicide. According to Charles Crotty, a brother, James Crotty, a taxicab driver, 22 years of age, was the dead girl's fiance. For many months the two had planned to be married. A few days ago the youth went to San Diego on a business trip, telling Miss Michaels that he would return today. Despondency over the departure of her lover and the tangled condition of her affairs, the police think, caused the young woman to end her life.

ments and smelled escaping gas. He tore a screen from a window and, entering the apartment, discovered the young woman's body in the bathroom. Surgeons called from the Receiving Hospital declared her dead. Following the investigation the body was removed to the undertaking establishment of Godeau & Martinoni.

The identity of "Moore," who registered at the hotel with Miss Michaels as her husband, may remain a mystery. Crotty yesterday declared that he had never heard of such a man and believed that Miss Michaels was living under her maiden name. Today, when James Crotty returns to the city, Detectives Wood and Murphy will again take up the investigation and attempt to learn who "Moore" really is. Efforts will also be made to establish the identity and whereabouts of Miss Michaels's mother and father, known to be living somewhere in Oklahoma.

"IRISH COUNT" GOES TO JAIL.

Mother-in-Law Accuses Him of Raising Checks.

Lifted Seven-Dollar One to Seventy-five Hundred?

Green Ink and Fountain Pen Figure in the Case.

Green ink and a fountain pen owned by Randal Dunne Taaffe, sometimes known as the "Irish Count," because of his claims to a large fortune in Ireland, will play an important part in his trial in the Superior Court, it was indicated, yesterday, at his hearing before Justice Palmer. Taaffe was held to answer on two charges of forgery, yesterday, after his mother-in-law, Mrs. Martha J. Kilpstein of Bakersfield, testified to giving him two checks for $5 and $7, which the defendant is accused of raising to $500 and $7500, respectively, and cashing them.

Mrs. Kilpstein testified that on September 20, her son-in-law, at her apartments at the Pico Heights Hotel, asked her for a check for $5 to buy gasoline. She had no ink, nor a pen, so he wrote the check with his fountain pen, which contained green ink, she testified. Seven days later, he asked her for a check for $7, she continued, and he again wrote out the check. Mrs. Kilpstein signed the name of her husband, Henry J. Kilpstein, with her initials, and Mr. Kilpstein testified that he was present both times.

U. B. Pitman, owner of the O.K. Vulvanizing Shop, West Ninth street, testified that Bob Cohn, an acquaintance of Taaffe, showed him a check signed by Mrs. Kilpstein for $500, which he indorsed. The witness testified further that on September 27, Taaffe told him about a "streak of luck" and gave him a check of Mrs. Kilpstein's for $7500, in settlement of money due him.

Justice Palmer ordered that a special commitment be made out for Taaffe, charging him with raising one check from $5 to $500 and one from $7 to $7500. Taaffe was then committed to the County Jail in default of $2500 bail. His wife did not appear in court.

AUTO BANDITS BEAT OIL STATION OWNER.

EMPTY REGISTER AFTER FIGHT WITH WRENCH FAILS TO STOP ROBBERY.

Two automobile bandits robbed William Mittendorg, owner and operator of an oil station at 221 East Eighth street, last night and escaped with $60 in cash and two badly bruised heads. In the fight, Mittendorf, who lives at 3363 Van Ness avenue, sustained injuries which were treated at the Receiving Hospital.

Mittendorf was alone in the oil station when two men in an automobile drove up and purchased oil.

They handed him a $10 bill and when he opened the cash register one of the bandits picked up a heavy rocking chair and broke it over Mittendorf's head.

As he fell to the floor, the other bandit seized all the money in the register, about $60. Mittendorf grabbed a monkey wrench and attacked his assailants, hitting them several times over the head. The men ran and jumped into their automobile and escaped. Mittendorf said one of the men drew a revolver, but he knocked him down.

EASTERN MEN START BROOM MAKING HERE.

KANSAS CITY MANUFACTURERS DECIDE TO STAY; FACTORY IS QUICKLY FOUND.

Two weeks after arriving in Los Angeles, F. W. Morrissey and Thomas Kempstar, broom manufacturers of Kansas City, decided that this was a good place for a factory and located themselves at 414-416 East Thirty-second street. A one-story structure with about 6000 square feet of floor space was acquired and the factory is now being equipped for the turning out of the product as soon as possible.

The new factory will operate under the name of the Bona Fide Broom Company and will employ about twenty men, developing in a short time to a capacity of from 150 to 200 dozen brooms a day. The company plans to supply local trade and to extend its business to cover other parts of the Pacific Coast. The company is maintaining its factory in Kansas City, where the plant is about the same size as that proposed for Los Angeles.

HEIRESS FREED UNTIL INQUEST.

"Poor Little Rich Girl" Tells Police Strange Story.

Estranged from Family, Lives with Doll, Lapdog.

Huge Motor that Killed Man Her Lone Amusement.

Miss Louise Marshall, pretty 20-year-old heiress, whose big Packard either killed Samuel Lund or frightened him to death Monday night, was released on her own recognizance yesterday pending the outcome of the inquest over the body of the dead laundry-wagon driver. She had been held in the City Jail since the accident, charged with suspicion of manslaughter.

Of herself, Miss Marshall told the police an extraordinary story which investigation bore out. She lives alone with a lapdog, a canary and a doll, the latter almost her only companion since she was 2 years old. For recreation she drives the huge touring car, her own property, alone.

All her life, she said, she has wistfully watched other girls of her age playing and laughing, dancing and strolling with their friends, while she lived in seclusion. First she watched life from the window of a convent in Minnesota, then from her lonely room at 1923 San Pedro street, in this city. She was fascinated by life, yet she was afraid of it and after witnessing the pleasure and happiness of others from her cloistral window, in the end she would pull down the shade and sobbingly tell her troubles to her doll, her only confidant.

LIVES ALONE.

When a little girl, she was placed in a convent at St. Mary's Minn., by her parents. There she met only the other girls and the nuns. Her time was spent with her studies and religious instruction, until she was 18. Then her mother died. Her father came to move to Los Angeles with Louise. Shortly after his arrival here, he married again. Miss Marshall says she did not like the new arrangement and decided to live by herself, as she was financially independent. Her mother had left a large estate in her in the care of a trustee. The income of the estate is entirely hers.

Finding a room, she installed there her "family" the doll, the toy Pomeranian, named Boogie, and the canary.

One pleasure she had. That was to drive about Los Angeles in a luxurious Packard touring car, she had bought from her income. Occasionally she used to go to the shop where a cousin worked and bring him in her car to her aunt's residence, where they would dine together.

It was while she was on her way to bring her cousin to her aunt's home on Monday evening that the accident occurred that resulted in her detention in jail. She was driving south on South Park avenue when Mr. Lund stepped from a street car into the path of her machine. She swerved sharply to one side, but he fell in front of her car. As he fell he threw up his arms and screamed, according to her story which is supported by that of eyewitnesses.

TELLS OF ACCIDENT.

"I shall hear that scream the rest of my life," she said yesterday as she left the jail to go to the home of her aunt. "It was terrible—unearthly. It was like a cry I heard once—the death cry of a horse who was being burned to death in a blazing barn. It seems to me I can hear that scream now."

After Mr. Lund fell in front of her car, Miss Marshall fainted, she said, and her car plunged across the curb, crashed through a signboard and came to rest in a vacant lot. She soon came to and drove to her aunt's house, where she told them what had happened. Then she drove to the Police Station and reported the accident. The authorities detained her overnight. She became hysterical on being led to her cell. The whole night she sat on the edge of her cot, nervously drumming on the cell wall with her fingers. She could not eat nor sleep. Finally she was freed.

"I am going home and talk to my doll, and 'Boogie' and the canary," she said, in a voice that trembled for fear that some one would laugh at her.

A pathetic feature of the accident which cost Mr. Lund's life was that it occurred before the eyes of his wife and two little children, who had alighted from the street car with him and who had reached the sidewalk in safety. Witnesses say that Miss Marshall's car ran past the standing street car and Mr. Lund was caught. The bereft family resides at 434 East Fifty-seventh street. They are far from rich, and the loss of the bread winner is doubly terrible to them.

The Coroner's inquest will be held on Thursday. Mr. Lund's body is at the White undertaking parlors. According to Assistant Police Surgeon Goodrich, who examined the corpse, there were no marks on it to show that death was caused from injuries received from collision with Miss Marshall's automobile. Dr. Goodrich expressed the belief that the man died from heart failure before the car struck him.

LAWYER BANKRUPT.

A. C. Vaughan, an attorney of this city, filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court yesterday. He gives his debts as 6056.65 and his assets as $15,713. Of the latter, $6000 is in the shape of life insurance policies exempt under the law and $6900 consists of notes held by the petitioner, on which no payments have been made.

The Girl, the Packard, the Lap Dog.

INDORSE OPEN-SHOP STAND.

Twenty-one hundred employees of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, at a meeting in the shipyards, at noon yesterday unanimously indorsed the stand taken by the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce, a few days ago, declaring itself in favor of open-shop conditions for the harbor district.

The indorsement was made by the Crafts Committee of the shipbuilders, an organization made up of seventeen chairmen from the committees of three representing each shipbuilding craft. This action is regarded as of great significance, since a great number of union men and former union men, who are now employed by the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, stand behind it. The resolution follows:

"Whereas, the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce has declared for the principle of the open shop; and,

"Whereas, in the declaration thus made there is no expression of intent to combat the principles of organized labor or the principle of collective bargaining by employees; now, be it

"Resolved, that we, the Craft Committee, representing over 2100 employees of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, indorse the expression and stand of the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce on the question of the open shop, and pledge our support to the members of the chamber and to the business men of San Pedro who have subscribed to this policy."

LUNCHEON TO PIEZ TODAY.

Complimentary to Charles Piez, former Director-General of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, members of the Chamber of Commerce and other business men will give a luncheon in the main dining-room of the Hotel Alexandria at 12:30 o'clock today.

Mr. Piez, according to an announcement made last night, will speak on the industrial situation in the United States, with particular reference to shipyard strikes, upon which he is qualified to speak with authority.

At present Mr. Piez is not connected with war work. He retired from the Fleet Corporation last May and has since devoted all his time to his own business enterprises. He is a Chicagoan, and in that city he is president of the Link Belt Company, the Electric Steel Company and the Illinois Manufacturers' Casualty Company.

Arriving here Sunday after a tour of North Pacific Coast cities, Mr. Piez stated that he will shortly merge the San Francisco and Los Angeles offices of the Link Belt Company, and will in all probability establish a western Link Belt factory in this city in the very near furture. He is regarded as one of the most prominent business men of the country. Busines men who are interested in the industrial situation are invited to attend the luncheon.

BROTHERS RUN OVER, DYING

Two boys, brothers, will probably die from injuries received late yesterday afternoon when they were run over by an automobile. The brothers, Eusebius Garcia, 9 years, and Marcello Garcia, 12, were riding on the rear end of a delivery wagon, owned by the Crescent Creamery Company and driven by W. A. Gibbons.

At Sixth and Chicago streets the wagon struck a rut in the street and the boys were bounced off. An automobile, driven by James David of 1100 Mateo street, was following the wagon and ran over the two boys before the driver could stop the car.

The younger brother suffered a possible fracture of the skull, a lacerated scalp and serious cuts on his body. The older boy received a skull fracture and internal injuries and both legs were broken. Surgeons at the Receiving Hospital stated both will probably die. The Garcia brothers lived at 2333 Opal street. David, driver of the automobile that struck the boys, was found by police investigators to be blameless.

STRANGE MARRIAGE HOLDS.

After she believed she was the bride of Talamaha Angelou and discovering that all that bound them was a marriage certificate, Mrs. Beatrice B. Perhach Angelou, the young daughter of Gaza S. de Perhach, a portrait artist, insisted that Mr. Angelou have a marriage ceremony performed. This was done, but when Mrs. Angelou told her husband she would send him to her father, Mr. Angelou declared he had to go to San Francisco on business, and he never came back.

Yesterday Mrs. Angelou was in Judge Cail's court seeking an annulment of the marriage on the ground that she had married without the consent of her parents. She told the court Mr. Angelou informed her it was a matter of life or death with him. If she became his bride, it would be life; if she refused, it would be death. He obtained a marriage certificate and told her she was his bride and they lived together. Subsequently, a woman friend informed the young woman that she was not Mr. Angelou's wife, and then a real ceremony was performed, October 13, 1916. The same day Mrs. Angelou told her parents she was married, Mr. Angelou went north and that was end of her romance.

Mr. de Perhach, who is a famous Hungarian painter, told the court he did not know his daughter's exact age. He believed she was 17 when she was married.

Judge Crail denied the annulment. He held that an annulment did not lie unless Mrs. Angelou was under the age of 15 at the time of her marriage.

DECREE SET ASIDE.

Judge Crail some time ago granted Mrs. Alice M. Brumel a divorce from Burleigh E. Brumel. The court received a letter recently from Mrs. Brumel stating that the couple had been reconciled. He asked them to come into court and yesterday they did and he set aside the decree.

DRIVEN TO JOB, CHARGES WIFE.

"After Supporting Mate and His Family for Years."

She Quits Work; Gets Out of Home; Asks Divorce.

In spite of her advanced years, Mrs. Gussie Clark supported her husband and the three children of his first wife during five of the eleven years of her married life with John M. Clark of this city, national secretary of the Half Century Association and formerly postmaster at Mount Pleasant, Tex., according to allegations made by Mrs. Clark in a suit for divorce filed by her attorney, H. M. Lee, yesterday. Then, when Mr. Clark obtained a position and she suggested she should quit work and stay at home with the children, Mrs. Clark asserts her husband told her she could either continue to work and "help support the family or else get out of his house." Both parties to the divorce action are past the half-century mark and both have been married before. Mrs. Clark asks a divorce on the grounds of desertion and non-support.

When they were married, January 21, 1908, Mr. Clark was postmaster at Mount Pleasant and had a comfortable income. But when the present Democratic administration came into power, Mr. Clark lost his postmastership, according to Mrs. Clark. He then came to Los Angeles. Funds ran low, and means of supporting the family became a pressing necessity, she relates.

Although there were no children born to them, Mr. Clark had three children by his first marriage and Mrs. Clark had two children born to her during her first matrimonial venture.

To support the family, Mrs. Clark declares she was forced to work, often at hard manual labor, for five years. She worked at various jobs, one of them in a clothing factory. She bore her lot philosophically, she said, until her husband found a position several years ago.

Then it seemed to her that she might very well quit working and enjoy some home life with the children. She stated that Mr. Clark made enough money to support the family, but her husband differed with her, it is charged. There were quarrels. Finally, Mrs. Clark told his wife, by way of an ultimatum, she says, that she could continue working or leave the house.

Mrs. Clark left.

Then she brought suit for divorce.

FORCED VERDICT FOR DEFENDANT?

Extraordinary Conclusion to Lingo Lost-Love Case.

Court Scores Suggestion to Disregard His Charge.

Jurywoman's Sick Daughter Hastens Decision.

The $50,000 Trimble-Lingo lost-love suit came to a conclusion at 11 o'clock last evening with a verdict for the defendant, which had the appearance of having been forced by circumstances. It was reached on the sixteenth ballot after the jury had been deadlocked, eight to four, for seven hours and through fifteen ballots. Three women and one man held out for the plaintiff, Miss Lydia Trimble, who was suing Mrs. Lucy Putman Lingo alleging that she enticed away George Lingo, former husband of the plaintiff.

Shortly after 10 o'clock the jury came in and reported itself apparently hopelessly disagreed. Judge Wood instructed them to return and said that, if they could not reach a verdict, it would be necessary to lock them up overnight. At this Mrs. Lauretta Chase, a jurywoman, protested, saying she has a sick daughter so subject to epileptic attacks that she cannot be left overnight. Judge Wood assured her that he would see that the daughter was properly cared for.

Half an hour later the jury again reported itself deadlocked as before, after fifteen ballots. Mrs. Chase again addressed the court, asking if it were not possible for the trial body to disregard the court's instructions in finding a verdict, and intimating that by so doing a verdict could be reached. Judge Wood scored the suggestion severely, declaring that such a verdict would be illegal and unjust. He sent the jury back again, giving them a few minutes more before ordering them locked up.

Within seven minutes the jury reported itself agreed in favor of the defendant. But one more ballot had been taken. The court again addressed the panel on the duties of a jury and dismissed them.

The evidence showed that Mr. Lingo came to Los Angeles, met Mrs. Putnam as he claimed without previous engagement, and they occupied rooms in the Ritz Hotel. Subsequently they went to San Fran-

How Housewives of Southern California Chase the Chill Away.

There is no other locality where the inhabitants can await with less concern the coal strikes scheduled for next Saturday, and yet it seems more necessary every year for the dweller in Southern California to give consideration to the question of effective and economical heating.

Every year the problem is more easily solved. A few years ago the steam-heated apartment was a rarity. Sunshine and the air tight were the generally accepted methods of combating the chill of winter days, and the apartment with the south front was greatly in demand. Now every modern apartment is equipped with radiators and the foggy morning or rainy day entails no discomfort so far as warmth is concerned. And there are no high smokestacks fouling the air with soft coal smoke and gases, for the oil-burning heating plants do away with all smoke nuisance of the average city.

The dweller in the modern home is equally fortunate here. To those who for years in colder climates have been accustomed to struggling with a heating plant for some seven months of the year, whose last duty at night was to bank the fire, who rose half an hour earlier every morning in order to shake down the furnace, get the fire started, sift and carry out ashes, who was always haunted by the fear that the fire would go out the coldest night of the year and all the pipes would freeze, to that recently emancipated person there's something magical and Aladdin-like in the idea of sitting in an easy chair, reaching out and pressing a button and feeling the heat come pouring out of the registers.

The modern gas furnace has reached such a state of high efficiency that whenever it is practicable to install one, heating worries are over. There are no fires to kindle, the heat can be regulated from the main floor, there is no odor, soot or dust, and the heat response is practically instantaneous. There are a number of excellent ones on the Los Angeles market, several are manufactured here, and the prices for sizes suitable for moderate-sized homes range from $90 to $225, not installed.

Where a gas furnace seems too expensive a luxury, or the home is not a permanent one, there are other very satisfactory methods of modern gas heating. A heating device which heats by radiation and so more nearly approaches the comfort of a coal or wood fire is being extensively sold here. It is free from all odor, practically noiseless in operation, and burns with a cheerful orange glow. Although it is usually installed in a fireplace, where it simulates the charm of an open fire, yet there is a smaller size which can be placed in any room having a gas connection. The prices on these very satisfactory substitutes for the coal or wood fire range from $25 to $65 installed and the average cost of operation is 2 to 3 cents per hour.

In many homes the gas connections are not such that gas heaters can be satisfactorily installed. In such instances the electric heater offers a convenient and satisfactory method of heating. Electric heaters are easily changed from room to room, they also heat by radiation, throwing the heat in any desired place, immediately the switch is turned, and are especially satisfactory for quickly taking the chill off of bath and dressing rooms. Their prices range from $11 to $18 and the cost of operation is comparatively small. The luminous ones give the cheerful glow and warmth of an open fire without the danger of flying sparks.

But when it comes to low cost of operation there isn't anything that can compare with the little air-tight heater. They range in price from $2 to $12 and they'll burn anything. Until the writer saw them in operation she was always skeptical about that act in "La Boheme," where the poet's manuscript kept them all from freezing, but since her experience one winter when one evening newspaper provided sufficient fuel for the next morning's heat all season through, she is reassured that Mimi could easily have been kept from freezing with a few sheets of paper—and an air-tight stove.

Many of the higher-priced stoves of this type have a heavy lining and coal, briquettes and wood can be burned in them, insuring a more lasting fire. The greatest objection to a stove of this type is its tendency to accumulate soot, but many people claim this can be overcome by burning a few scraps of zinc on the coals.

KITCHEN HELPS.

If you will sprinkle your clothes with warm water instead of cold, you will find that the work of ironing is much easier.

Before placing a new oil cloth on the table, paste squares of heavy muslin on the inside of the cloth just where the corners of the table will come.

Old, thin outing flannel makes excellent cloths with which to dry windows. There is no lint and it absorbs the moisture quickly.

RECIPE FOR GREEN TOMATO MINCE MEAT.

With the approach of the Christmas season our readers are beginning to consider the cost of fruit cakes and mince pies and other delicacies of the holidays. One writes: "Will you give in your recipes one for making mince meat, using green tomatoes instead of meat. Please publish this soon, as tomatoes will soon go by and I have heard several wishing for the recipe.—Laura A. Udell, Fillmore, Cal."

The accompanying recipe was published some months ago as one of our prize recipes and will surely prove satisfactory. Mrs. Merlan called it mince meat sans meat.

Seventy-five medium size green tomatoes, chopped medium fine, let stand a few hours, draw off juice and add as much water as was juice, add five pounds light brown sugar (or half brown and half white if preferred.) two pounds chopped raisins, cook all slowly until tender, add two tablespoonsful each of cinnamon, salt, cloves and allspice, add one cupful of vinegar and boil until thick; stir constantly. Lastly pare six large sour apples, core and chop, cook and when done add to the first part and mix thoroughly then seal while hot in Mason jars.

This is nice mince meat and can be used for fruit cakes, plum pudding and pies. Add butter if used for pies. Will keep indefinitely. Mrs. F. H. Merlan, 634 West Sixteenth street, Los Angeles.

CAN'T CONTROL RENTS.

No Power to Adopt Proposed Laws City Council Decides.

The City Council decided yesterday that it had no power to put into force legislation on rentals in the city proposed by the Los Angeles Rentpayers' Association. The Council adopted the report of the Public Safety Committee taking this stand.

The association wanted the city to acquire land, erect houses and rent them at cost prices and to adopt an ordinance requiring the payment into the city treasury of all amounts above 10 per cent. on investment collected for rentals in Los Angeles.

RHUBARB AND FIG MARMALADE.

Cut rhubarb into small pieces and weigh three pounds. Take one-half pound of figs, cut into small pieces, one-half pound of candied orange peel with two and one-half pounds of sugar, the grated rind and juice of one large lemon. Put in the kettle in layers with the sugar, cover and let stand over night. In the morning boil down slowly till thick—about an hour should do. Put in glasses and cover as jelly. Delicious served with cream cheese as bar le duc jelly.

HOME LIGHTING IS AID TO HAPPINESS.

AN EFFECTIVE ILLUMINATION SHOULD BE GIVEN MOST CAREFUL ATTENTION.

With the changing of the time last Sunday we lost our extra hour of daylight and acquired a longer evening, so it is an opportune time to consider the subject of a well-lighted home. A recent article in the Philadelphia Ledger says:

"The importance of the lampshade as a factor in interior decorating and the importance of the whole question of home illumination as it affects the color scheme of a room are two subjects deserving more attention from the home-maker than they generally receive.

In these days of efficiency in all things, even to lampshades, the poorly lighted room, in the sense of a room inadequately lighted by dim illuminants, is the exception; but so also is the room where decorative lighting has been given proper consideration far from the rule. How often, alas! do we find a room that is charming by day in the richness or the softness of its color scheme, yet which at night, at the very time when most of our social life goes on, loses that charm because of a hard or too bright illumination; because of the glare from an overlighted ceiling or the glare from improperly shaded lights?

The first of these objections, an over-lighted ceiling, by destroying all shadows in a room and giving that even distribution of light which is the pride and boast of the semi-indirect methods of lighting, also destroys all sense of coziness and those artistic effects of high lights and shadows for which the decorator, as well as the landscape artist, must continually strive. This has been the most serious evil to offset the many advantages which the popular new systems of lighting afford. The home-maker has lamented that with a highly efficient lighting scheme the artistic quality of her room is lost, while the father of the family, as a rule, cares less about artistic effects than about "enough light" to read by, or to eat by, as the case may be.

So, between these two opposing voices, there have come about in the last year many improvements in this field of indirect and semi-indirect lighting for the home, and none more interesting than the several new ways of combining direct and indirect lighting in a table lamp. For the average room, with ceiling of ordinary height, it is now possible to provide enough light for all occasions without the installation of any ceiling fixture whatever, or even side-wall brackets, and with only the use of one, or at most two, of these especially equipped lamps.

Nor is it necessary to buy a certain type of lamp already equipped for the purpose; some of these special reflectors are made so that they may be installed in almost any lamp of suitable size at the time it is wired for electricity, and the best fixtures of this sort are made with their several light bulbs controlled by independent switches, so that, when desired, one may be turned on which will evenly illuminate a large area of ceiling (the entire ceiling of a small room,) while the turning of another switch illumines the silk or parchment shade and diffuses a soft light downward over the room, and, with still another switch, a strong light may be thrown directly down over a book or any work at the table.

Where one of two lamps in a room is equipped with one or other of these new means for both direct and indirect lighting—say a floor lamp fitted with the special reflectors, which, of course, are hidden by its large shade, and a table lamp fitted with ordinary high-power bulbs and a shade which diffuses the light—even a fairly large living-room may be brilliantly illuminated for festive occasions or for serious work, yet at other times be lighted for restful and artistic effects. Nor is it necessary to use electricity as the illuminant, for almost as wonderful as the strides made in electric lighting of the home within the last few years are the advances made in artistic and efficient lighting by gas, and this idea of combining the good points of both direct and indirect lighting in a single lamp is as possible by one means as by the other.

These new developments in the art as well as in the science of lighting the home go a long way toward meeting both esthetic and practical ends, and as the day of smoky oil lamps and dim burners is a long way past, so, let us hope, is the day of the glaringly brilliant home, which apes the office building or the laboratory in its shadowless illumination, well on its way.

Now let us see what part the lampshade plays in creating or preserving artistic effects.

Perhaps we may sum it up by stating broadly that the shade of a lamp may be of virtually any color or any fabric on the outside, so long as on the inside there is a lining of some tone of yellow or rose or plain white. No other colors throw a soft and restful or becoming light, and only for producing certain unusual effects in decorative lighting can we ever depart from the straight and narrow path when it comes to the lining of a shade. If the outside of it is already of some color and material which will diffuse a mellow light from the lamp, the lining may always be white, though yellow or orange intensifies the "golden glow" so much to be desired if the lamp is one used for reading purposes, while a rose-colored lining works magic for the complexions of those who sit under the light.

More important is it to know that by the intelligent use of yellow and orange and rose in our lampshade linings we can make a blue lampshade, or a violet one, or any other which would ordinarily throw a cold, unattractive light, a cheerful and cozy addition to a room. For on the outside the lampshade must be harmonious with the color scheme of a room or all is lost. So remember that ecru and gold color are the two tones which harmonize with any scheme and can be safely used in any room. When in doubt play these trump cards and you will seldom go wrong.

Rellenos or Stuffed Peppers.—Brown ten long chili peppers in broiling oven till brown, let stand a few minutes then peal. Cut lengthwise and remove all seeds and veins, fill pepper with a strip of cheese cut lengthwise about a half an inch thick. Fold over side of pepper to hold the cheese, sprinkle outside of peppers with flour then beat two eggs, whites and yolks separately, sift about one tablespoon of flour into the egg mixture. Season to taste. Roll peppers in batter, and fry on hot griddle till golden brown. Serve with tomato sauce or catsup. Percival Porter, South Pasadena.

DISHES FOR CHILLY DAYS.

More popular and more in demand than any other recipes have been those for Spanish dishes. Among those submitted in a recent Times contest were the following, sent us by Mrs. M. Collins of the Chandler apartments, Los Angeles. She tells how Spanish dishes are prepared in Costa Rica and they'll surely be just as appetizing in California. Her first recipe is for Spanish rice:

One pound of rice, four pints of boiling water, three average size tomatoes (ripe,) three large sweet peppers, one large onion, one small chili pepper, one-fourth pound of boiled beef, finely chopped, three and one-half tablespoonfuls of lard.

Boil the rice in salted water. Put lard in iron skillet or pot. Slice the onion in the hot grease and let fry until golden brown, add the rice and fry for fifteen minutes, stirring to keep from burning. When fried add the tomatoes, peppers and chili pepper, all chopped fine, the chopped boiled beef and the boiling water, stir thoroughly and cook until the water has boiled away, stirring often. Leave on a very slow fire until the rice is dry.

Here's a good way to serve the mammoth Kentucky Wonder beans. If you can obtain them of the size some of our proud gardeners have exhibited you would only need a couple of them in serving young string beans.

Boil a dozen string beans until very tender in salted water. Beat the white of an egg until it reaches a thick froth, then add the yolk and beat them together. Add black pepper and sprinkle with onions chopped very fine. Roll the beans in the beaten eggs and fry in hot grease.

Use an enameled, tinned or aluminum boiler for boiling. Bring 11 gallons of water to the boiling point; then add entire contents of can (5 lbs.) Mel-O-Malt Brand of Malted Barley Syrup and 4 lbs. of white or brown sugar. Stir well so sugar will not go the bottom and burn. Add one-half (3 ozs.) of the package of Acme Hops. Let boil for 50 minutes; then add balance of hops and boil 10 minutes longer. Total boiling one hour. Take boiler from stove, strain liquid through piece of muslin into fermenting vessel (earthenware crock, wooden keg with head removed or a wooden tub will do); add the package of Acme Clarifying Powder. When liquid is lukewarm add 3 cakes of FRESH Fleischman's Yeast dissolved in a cup of the brew and stir thoroughly. Set in a room of even temperature, cover the fermenting vessel with cloth and let ferment from 3½-4 days.

During fermentation skim frequently. After fermentation is completed, filter and bottle. When fermentation is practically through there will be no more skum:—Just a little froth on the surface.

SOCIETY.

BY VIRGINIA WOODS.

For a Bride.

Mrs. Thomas Weeks Banks is hostess this afternoon at a smart tea at which she is complimenting Mrs. Clare Woolwine (Portia Clark,) whose marriage to Mr. Woolwine was a brilliant society event of October 4, in Ashland, O.

Mrs. Banks has asked to assist her Mmes. Ray Bayly, Asa V. Call, Edward Laurence Doheny, Jr., Jack Macfarland, Ernest E. Duque, Robert Fite (Dorothy Lindley,) Wayland Morrison and Misses Byna Kinsley and Louise Hunt. There are to be fifty guests. Upon their return from the East, Mr. and Mrs Woods R. Woolwine are to give a large reception in honor of the young couple.

For Mrs. Wells.

Mrs. G. Wiley Wells has returned from a four months' trip in the East and South and is home for the winter at the Hotel Darby. To welcome her home, Mr. and Mrs. Bradner Wells Lee gave a dinner party.

During her sojourn Mrs. Wells visited in Louisville, Ky., at Glen Burnie on Lake George; at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., where she enjoyed the races. She also visited Miss Taylor at South Norwalk, Ct., and Mrs Heaks of Lewiston, Pa., and was for a time in New York City.

For Miss Busch.

Miss Amy Busch, whose marriage to Mr. Van Buren Jarvis is to be an event of next month, is honoree at a luncheon today at which Miss Louise Forve is hostess. Miss Mary Forve, who has been visiting in the East since spring, is expected home in a few days.

Miss Richards's Music Tea.

Miss Maude Elizabeth Richards of 2208 Western avenue provided a charming bit of hospitality yesterday when she entertained half a hundred guests at a music tea. Her reception rooms were made into floral bowers. Friends sent her hundreds of big crimson dahlias and as many more bunches of holly from Catalina Island and this was used to decorate the big living-room and dining-room, while gorgeous yellow chrysanthemums were used in the den and sun parlor.

This marked the first of a series of such affairs that Miss Richards will give this winter.

Those who appeared on the programme were Mrs. Daniel Webster Millone and Mrs. Amy Titus Worthington, composers who gave their own compositions; Misses Ruth May Shaffner and Blanche King Owen, pianists; Mrs. Beatrice Marcher Murray, who sang, and Mme. Henreich, who gave some violin selections. Miss Richards, who is herself one of the most talented singers in Los Angeles, also sang a group of songs. Miss Helen White of Toronto, Can., sang and so did Miss Mary Mullin and Countess Von Hordenburg.

Off for the East.

Mr. and Mrs. William Pratt Herbert are leaving tomorrow for a month's trip to New York and Philadelphia, combining pleasure with business. During their absence Mrs. Herbert's mother, Mrs. E. C. Thomas, will remain at the Herbert home in Pasadena.

BOTTOM DROPS OUT OF QUIZ?

Sugar Investigators are up Against Stone Wall.

Can't Get Facts, it is Said; Delays Jury Action.

Add Cafeterias to List of Profiteering Suspects.

Unless more information is secured soon, it is possible that the sugar investigation will end just where it began, it was whispered yesterday at the Federal Building. At any rate, the matter will not be ready for the Federal grand jury this week, as the special agents of the Department of Justice are finding it exceedingly difficult to get needed information. In fact, it is more than hinted that the whole situation is so complex that only a nation-wide investigation will make plain the causes of the present shortage in the sugar supply, and its concomitant of advancing prices.

An investigation of the local cafeterias, with a view to discovering whether or not unreasonable prices are being asked, as charged in many complaints received by United States District Attorney O'Connor, was yesterday included in the investigation involving the high cost of living in Los Angeles.

Agents of the Department of Justice yesterday began looking into the local cafeteria situation, and if sufficient evidence of profiteering is disclosed as a result of the current inquiry and investigation, the matter will be reported to the Federal grand jury, it was declared.

Complaints have been filed with the Federal officials declaring that, in many instances, prices are being charged that are out of all proportion to the cost of the material used or the service rendered.

The value of agitation to reduce the price asked for some of the foods served by the cafeterias was indicated a few months ago, Federal agents stated yesterday, when the local press referred to the fact that 7 cents was asked for an order of fried or mashed potatoes. The price was dropped immediately to 5 cents, but no sooner was the agitation over than the price was automatically switched back to 7 cents where it still remains in the standard cafeterias, it is stated.

Among the items to be investigated are meat, fruit, etc., it being declared that the prices asked are much higher than a fair profit would seem to suggest. The complaints do not touch what are known as the popular priced places, but others where the service is better and only the highest class of foods is served.

AIR POLICEMAN HURT ON TRAIN.

It Jolts, His Rib Breaks and Now He Must Stay in this City.

Lieut.-Col. Herbert Mapes, deputy chief of the aerial police of New York City and formerly of the army air service, is confined to his room at the Hotel Alexandria as the result of a train accident at Modesto, when he received a broken rib by the sudden jolting of the train throwing him against a chair. He will be unable to leave for San Diego today with the visiting aviators who are arranging the around-the-world air derby and will be unable to accompany them to San Francisco to be present when three commissioners sail on November 3 to continue their journey around the world. Col. Mapes will return to New York as soon as his injuries permit him to travel.

ANIMAL HALLOWEEN KEEPS JUDGE AWAKE.

FIRST CAT, THEN TWO HORSES PROVIDE A BUSY NIGHT AT HIS RANCH.

Judge Wood has an orange ranch near Claremont. Monday night, according to the story he told yesterday, was Halloween for the animals, judging by the activities of a cat, two horses and a dog, to say nothing of a coyote, who were busy with boyhood pranks designed to cause the greatest annoyance possible.

First, he was awakened by the baby and discovered that the baby had been awakened by a cat that had managed to get up on the roof and was making all the noise possible. Having chased the cat Judge Wood went to sleep again. Next it was a loud noise among the orange trees. He put on his bath robe and slippers and sneaked out in the darkness to find two horses running wild among the trees. He chased them away and went back to bed.

Then a coyote came along and the judge's Airdale discovered him and let everybody know about it by his barking. The judge decided then that it was time for him to get up.

RB ROCK BOTTOM STORES

"We split the Nickels" QUALITY GROCERIES

Who is Running the Country; Politicians or Sugar Refiners?

The talented attorney-general says that $10.00 per hundred pounds is a sufficient price for the wholesaler to charge the retailer for sugar. The sugar refiner pays as much attention to the talented attorney-general and the administration as the kaiser did to his counsellors. The beet sugar refiners retaliated on the gentleman's profound knowledge of sugar prices by raising the price of beet sugar $1.00 a sack, or 1c a pound, yesterday.

During the war, Mr. Herbert Hoover, one of the deepest thinkers and one of the most patriotic citizens of our country, decided that the combination sales with sugar were objectionable to the highest degree and to such an extent as to cause a revocation of food licenses. The attorney-general's versatility gets astride of the question in the following telegram:

"Combination sales would be objectionable where grocer used them to compel customer to pay excessive price for other commodities or buy unusual quantities or in excess of needs."

It probably is consoling to some consciences to be informed by the administration's arbiter of law—and should we say as well, moral ethics of justice—that it is not objectionable to exploit a dire necessity in foodstuffs, such as sugar, in times of stress. The ROCK BOTTOM STORES has a conception of right—of fair dealing with its patrons—with which such an opinion, however talented its source, does not coincide.

We are still selling sugar one pound to a customer as long as it lasts. We will be satisfied with the decision of the public. If they want to continue being held up for $2.00 worth of groceries for every pound of sugar, it's their choice, not ours.

WALNUT RECORDS SMASHED

With money pouring into their pockets at the rate of more than $500,000 a day, the walnut growers of Southern California are experiencing a high tide of prosperity. All records in the marketing of walnuts were broken Monday by the California Walnut Growers' Association, with the shipment of more than 2,000,000 pounds of nuts, which brought in $618,000 for the day's business. C. Thorpe, general manager of the association, stated yesterday that this money was distributed to the growers through thirty local walnut associations within two hours after it was deposited in a local bank.

The growers are highly elated over the new crop estimate, which places this season's walnut production at 50,000,000 pounds, an advance of 4,000,000 pounds over an estimate which was made early in the season. The total production is valued at $15,000,000, which is about $3,500,000 more than was realized by the 1918 crop. This excess is being rapidly absorbed by the market, stated Mr. Thorpe, and at prices which are a half cent a pound in advance of the season's opening prices on all grades.

"Our heavy shipments of the past two weeks are a direct result of the late September rains, which caused husks to open and started the nuts to falling at a rapid rate," said Mr. Thorpe. "When the harvest began the growers caught the spirit of the thing and began rushing their walnuts to the packing-houses at such a rapid rate that nearly all of the thirty houses have since been packed to the roof and kept working day and night to keep pace with the demand for early shipments.

"It begins to look as though the entire California walnut crop will be shipped before the holidays this year. Early shipments mean, of course, that better distribution is secured and a heavier consumption of the product is assured."

EGG CONTEST LATER.

Beginning of State-Wide Event is Delayed Two Weeks.

The State-wide egg-laying contest to be conducted in connection with the Santa Cruz Farm Bureau has been postponed from November 1 to November 15. This will give the many poultrymen in the south an opportunity to get their birds entered and acclimated before the contest begins.

It will be conducted one year under the supervision of the poultry division of the University Farm at Davis. It is open to poultrymen from all over the State, each contestant to enter ten fowls with two alternates. The birds will be housed half in the standard university house and the remainder in a Smith house and will be under the direct supervision and care of a man furnished by the State university throughout the entire period.

This contest offers an opportunity to poultrymen to have some of their best birds trapnested and to obtain official egg-laying records for them throughout a year.

Haswell, for fifteen years an attache of the public service department of Los Angeles as clerk, assistant auditor and for several years past as business agent of the bureau of water works and supply, yesterday tendered his resignation to the Board of Public Service Commissioners, to become effective November 15. Mr. Haswell is to take an important position with a private corporation.

AIR MEN SEE FILMS.

Derby Promoters Enthusiastic Over Flying Conditions Here.

The party of aviation leaders headed by Commodore Louis D. Beaumont of New York and Paris which is here arousing interest in the around the world aerial derby, spent yesterday in inspecting the Chaplin, De Mille and Ince aviation fields and the site of the municipal field donated by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company. The visitors expressed themselves as delighted with the progress shown here in aviation, and were especially enthusiastic over the ideal flying conditions which prevail in this section.

The around the world commissioners — Commodore Beaumont, Maj. Charles J. Glidden, air service, U.S.A., and Benjamin Hillman—and other members of their party, including President Alan R. Hawley of the Aero Club of America, were taken through the Goldwyn motion picture studio, where moving pictures were taken of them. Today the visitors will spend in sightseeing and will leave this evening for a one-day visit to San Diego, returning in time to connect with the Lark, arriving in San Francisco on Friday morning. The commissioners sail on November 3, to continue their journey around the world in the interest of the aerial derby.

FOR VALLEY WELLS.

Bids were received yesterday by the Board of Public Service Commissioners for a further supply of casing for the series of artesian wells being sunk in the Owens Valley for the purpose of increasing the flow of the Owens River in dry periods. WOMEN FINED FOR CONTEMPT.

Judge Sternly Rebukes Two for Applause in Court.

Tells Them They Must Behave as Well as Mere Men.

Case of Cancer Cure Doctor Goes to Jury Today.

Hand-clapping in court will not be permitted and women must learn to behave in court the same as men, said Judge Willis yesterday, when he fined Mrs. Ida Margaret Itan and Mrs. Mabel Purcell $10 each for contempt, during the trial of M. M. Winchell.

Winchell, acused of involuntary manslaughter for the death of Mrs. Nettie E. Daniels and with practicing medicine without a license, was on the stand. He was asked by Deputy District-Attorney McCartney to name the ingredients of the defendant's so-called "cancer cure."

"I refuse to answer," replied the defendant.

"Name one ingredient," said Mr. McCartney.

"Salicylic acid," was the reply.

"Name another," persisted the prosecutor.

"I refuse to answer," repeated Winchell.

The two women applauded loudly, much as in a theater.

"Bring those women here, Mr. Bailiff," ordered the judge, who pronounced them in contempt of court.

"I fine you $10," said the court "or one day in jail for each $2."

Frank R. Baker, attorney for the defendant, arose and said: "May I say a word in explanation?"

"Not a word from counsel," said the court. "The court expects women to behave in the courtroom as well as men."

The women paid their fines without a word, one borrowing $3 from the other.

Argument in the case followed and the court will charge the jury today.

Winchell said he did not know that Mrs. Daniels had a cancer. He said he had employed a physician to diagnose the case, but the doctor had not reported a cancer. He claimed that none of the "cancer cure" was injected into Mrs. Daniels's arm, as it "leaked out" both times he tried. The prosecution claims the injection brought about the death of Mrs. Daniels either by causing a blood clot or an air bubble.

RECOMMEND REPEAL.

Referendum Petition Causes Action on Anti-Soliciting Ordinance.

The Safety Committee of the City Council decided yesterday afternoon to recommend the repeal of the ordinance prohibiting soliciting at the railroad stations and standing of vehicles for hire in portions of the streets adjacent to the stations. This is the ordinance on which a referendum petition was filed a few days ago, and which was found to have sufficient qualified signatures to require either the repeal of the ordinance by the City Council or its submission to a vote of the people at the next city election.

KARR ON THE STAND.

Star "Graft" Prosecution Witness Tells His Story Again.

Horace Karr, star witness for the prosecution in the trial of William Hackett, sergeant of police charged with bribery in connection with the so-called graft prosecutions, was on the stand all day yesterday, re-telling his story to a jury in Judge Houser's court.

Attorney Joseph Ford subjected Mr. Karr to a gruelling cross-examination, but as usual Mr. Karr answered deliberately. Mr. Hackett sat apparently unconcerned near his attorneys.

Because she says her husband objected to her taking swimming lessons, Mrs. Berdie S. Mendal filed papers in a suit for a separation yesterday. She alleges that she and her husband, Dan G. Mendal, separated following a dispute over her desire to learn how to swim.

"I only married you for a housekeeper, and you must stay on the job," her husband said, according to Mrs. Mendal.

The couple were married in December, 1915, and separated on October 21.

FORBID SALE OF WAR BEER.

Cafe Men Warned that Any Who Sell "Any Kick" will be Arrested.

Two hundred cafe owners in the downtown district were notified by Sergeant Gifford of the Metropolitan Squad, yesterday afternoon, that, beginning this morning, they are forbidden to sell 2.75 per cent. beer. The notice was served following the receipt of information that the Senate at Washington had followed the example of the House and passed the prohibition enforcement bill over the President's veto.

Liquor licenses permitting the sale of 2.75 per cent. beer are held by about 200 cafes and restaurants in this city. Sergeant Gifford stated last night that a squad of special officers has been detailed to watch the cafes, and arrests will be made if any of the cafe men are caught selling the beer.

BALL TO HONOR HERO.

British to Entertain for Wearer of Victoria Cross.

British societies of Los Angeles are to hold a joint meeting tonight at the Hotel Northern, 420 West Second street. Plans for the reception and dance to be given in honor of Sergt. W. L. Rayfield V. C., are to be discussed. It is the purpose to hold the affair Saturday evening, November 8, at the Ebell Club House.

Sergt. Rayfield is now a resident of Los Angeles. He volunteered while in this city and was engaged with the Canadian forces in Flanders. While the Germans were making their last final drive, he crawled 200 yards across No Man's Land, captured a German machine-gun crew, killing two and bringing in eight others prisoners.

The plucky Canadian was honored by King George of England and the citation, signed by the King, will be read and special mention is to be made of the brave acts that resulted in Sergt. Rayfield's being awarded the Victoria Cross, the highest award that can be granted a soldier in the British army.

To serve with him as officers of the board J. E. Carr was elected first vice-president; S. P. Mulford, second vice-president; W. M. Bowen, secretary; Robert Honner, assistant secretary, and George I. Cochran, financial agent and treasurer.

The resignation of A. E. Pomeroy, who had served as secretary for the past ten years, was received with regret by members of the board, who expressed high approval of his work.

Dr. George Finley Bovard, president of the university, made an encouraging report and important details for the new $500,000 administration building were completed. This building is now under construction.

ON POSTAL CHARGE.

Joseph Miller was taken into custody yesterday by Deputy United States Marshal Bassett on the charge of receiving from the local postoffice a registered letter addressed to Fred Naughamout, and supposed to contain a valuable enclosure. It is understood that the missive in question is but one of a series of letters that Miller has received by representing himself to be Naughamout. United States Commissioner Long held Miller in a bond of $1000 for his appearance before the Federal grand jury.

FOR UPBUILDING OF INDUSTRIES.

Auto Accessory Men to Help Chamber of Commerce.

Support Pledged by Hundred and Thirty Concerns.

Auto accessory manufacturers representing 130 establishments yesterday pledged the co-operation of their industrial unit to the industrial bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, at a conference luncheon held at the Hotel Clark.

Sidelights on Los Angeles' industrial expansion since the armistice was signed were furnished by A. G. Arnoll, manager of the industrial department of the chamber, who announced that more than 200 industries have been added to the list since November 11, last, and that the accessory establishments in the city are now turning out approximately 80 per cent. of an automobile. It was also brought out that Los Angeles has the largest brake-lining manufactory west of Pittsburgh and is supplying the territory between Los Angeles, Seattle and Chicago.

COMMITTEE TO ACT.

Enthusiastic co-operation with the chamber work was pledged and the following committee was appointed to confer in the near future with the industrial department of the chamber, with the view of arriving at a definite plan for future co-operation: Charles H. Link, chairman, R. M. Graham, J. L. Pike, W. W. Van Dusen, John D Rauen, A. D. Mulford, W. G. Smith G. J. Woodward, J. G. Foster, James Sheriffs, Harry Miller, A. C. Lillie and J. F. Huber.

Frank Wiggins, veteran secretary of the chamber, opened the meeting in the absence of President Moreland, and told the business men that the chamber now is building up the city industrially as it developed it agriculturally and as a tourist center.

He turned over the meeting to James H. Hill of the manufacturers' committee, who told of the plan of bringing the various industrial units of the city into closer union with the chamber and the success being achieved through the co-operation of the different branches of the industry.

GOOD DATA NEEDED.

Mr. Arnoll urged upon the accessory men the importance of an accurate survey of their industry in dealing with manufacturers seeking information before entering the field here.

During the discussion it developed that many automobile parts are made here in large quantity and the city is amply able to supply automobile assembling plants for manufactories to be located here.

Other conferences are planned for the near future with representative industries, and such meetings will be held until the complete organization is effected.

MAY MEAN OPENING OF MONOLITH PLANT.

Councilman Criswell introduced a resolution at yesterday's session of the City Council, which was adopted, calling upon the heads of all city departments, where it is applicable, for a report on the approximate amount of cement their departments will use during the remainder of the fiscal year, and setting forth the necessity of the city saving, in every possible way, on the price of materials it uses. The advisability of the reopening of the municipal cement plant at Monolith, which was established during the building of the Los Angeles aqueduct, is mentioned, and the reports called for are to be the basis of determination as to whether or not the city would be justified in resuming the operations of this plant.

CALL AT COURTHOUSE.

FIEND ASSAILS AGING MOTHER.

Fifty-Year-Old Breadwinner Attacked by Autoist.

Man Arrested on Suspicion, Identified by Victim.

Following a brutal assault made upon Mrs. Daisy Blake, 50 years old and the mother of seven children, in Coyote Pass last night, C. E. Rice was arrested at his home at Cumulus and Oregon streets by deputy sheriffs and lodged in the County Jail on suspicion of felony.

Mrs. Blake, who supports an invalid husband besides her children, was returning to her home, 5117 Brooklyn avenue, late in the evening from the walnut groves near the Sewer farm, where she is employed at picking walnuts. As her large family is in dire circumstances, Mrs. Blake was walking the long miles home to save carfare.

While she was walking through Coyote Pass, a man who was alone in an automobile stopped the car and invited her to ride. Mrs. Blake entered the automobile and the driver attempted to turn it into a dark gulley. She tried to jump, but the driver seized her and a terrific struggle ensued. Mrs. Blake was badly scratched and bruised and her clothing was torn from her body.

She succeeded in freeing herself and ran to the home of a Mr. LaBeck, who notified the Sheriff's office of the outrage. Capt. Hotz sent Deputy Sheriffs Wright, Bell, Dewar and Harrington to the scene of the assault. They searched the hills surrounding the Midwick Country Club for the assailant. They had the number of the automobile and a description given by Mrs. Davis, and neighbors in the vicinity told the deputies where Rice, suspected of the assault, lives with his wife. The arrest of Rice at his home followed.

Rice denied any knowledge of the affair. Mrs. Davis identified him as her assailant. The number on Rice's car also tallies with the number of that driven by Mrs. Blake's assailant. She was in a critical condition at her home last night.

MAYOR BERKELEY TO SEEK RE-ELECTION.

SANTA MONICA ANNEXATION TO BE ISSUE AS RESULT OF HIS CANDIDACY.

At a meeting of his friends in Santa Monica last night Mayor Berkeley announced that he was ready to be a candidate for re-election and plans were made to have petitions circulated today for the placing of his name before the voters at the coming elections. While those at the meeting urged that the question of annexation to Los Angeles be forced into the background it was predicted that the Mayor's move for re-election would make the question a prominent issue hereafter.

Both G. B. Dickenson, president of the Merchants' National Bank, who is an active candidate on a platform opposing annexation, and Jack Steele, real estate dealer, who favors joining Los Angeles, will oppose Mayor Berkeley. It was generally predicted that nothing could keep the annexation question in the background as the Mayor's supporters desire.

A petition also is being circulated for Harmony Brown, a cigar dealer of Ocean Park, and friends of T. H. Dudley, president of the Ocean Park Bank, are trying to get him to run. Chief of Police Henderson is also willing to run, it was stated. All petitions must be filed before November 12.

U.S.C. SOCIAL.

Spanish students of the University of Southern California and students studying the Spanish language, forming La Tertulia club, will hold a social meeting this evening in the Y.M.C.A. hut on the campus. Miss Maria Sesma is arranging a special programme to be followed by refreshments. This will be the first social event of the Spanish club for this school year.

STILL ON "STRIKE."

Street Railway Unionites Vote Not to Declare It Off.

By a vote of ninety to fifty-four the few union platform men of the Los Angeles Railway who left their jobs and are still in the city, decided last night, at a meeting at Labor Temple, not to officially declare the strike off. Members of the strike committee informed them that there is no prospect of their being reinstated in their old jobs. It was stated that 1400 men went out but most of them have scattered, finding other jobs. About ninety, the union men said, have returned to work for the company.

FORESTERS' BAZAAR TO OPEN TOMORROW.

The Purple Cross Relief Committee of the Independent Order of Foresters will open its annual bazaar and fair tomorrow in the Independent Foresters' Building at 240 South Hill street. It will run for three days. This annual fair is participated in by all the courts of the order in Southern California and the funds are used to carry on relief work. In addition to the regular features a dance will be held tomorrow evening and a children's Hallowe'en party on Friday evening. The general public is invited.

MONTGOMERY BROS.

357 S. BROADWAY

WE BELIEVE that there is a watch built in the United States whose timekeeping mechanism is superior to that of the foreign-built watch. That watch is a WALTHAM. We know that the variable grades of Swiss watches are constantly for repairs in every jewelry store. Jewelers know to their sorrow, Swiss watches are difficult to repair owing to the lack of proper materials and the growing scarcity of watchmakers. The sale of Swiss watches, of the quality sold today, are apt to prove a menace to the jeweler's good will in his own community.

We know WALTHAM WATCHES. We believe in WALTHAM WATCHES. We believe that AMERICAN-made watches are better than the medium price and cheap made Swiss watches.

WALTHAM WATCHES are good watches—fairly priced. No dealer can profiteer on Waltham prices — WALTHAM WATCHES are for sale everywhere. It's a free for all race. Quality and price should be the same. Fortunately for us.

Today we have a full, complete line of all new standard grades and sizes of WALTHAM WATCHES, stock enough now ready, in our vault, to carry us over Christmas. We are well provided for. Few stores, we understand, have a complete stock of WALTHAM WATCHES. We are doing a splendid business in good reliable Waltham movements cased in 20-year goldfilled cases. In real values. Our special leaders are the following:

$42.00 Jewel Series—much smaller Bracelet Watch, Chain or ribbon. Same Watches in 14-K. gold, $42.00 to $65.00.
The smallest American Watch made, 7½ Ligne in 14-K. gold, $175. Same in white gold, $200.00. In Platinum case and Bracelet from $250.00 to $400.00.
In diamond set cases from $300.00 to $1250.00.

In Men's Pocket Watches—we have the same cheerful story to tell you. Every size—12 and 16, every grade, every quality—in all the new shapes and odd styles.

We commence with a 12-size Waltham made watch in a 20-year case, a reliable timekeeper, $19.00, next one $25.00. The next a 17-jeweled movement, $31.00; then the Royal 17-Jewel, 3 positions adjusted to $42.00. Then the Riverside 19 jewels adjusted to 5 positions, $58.00. 21 jeweled Waltham, 5 position adjused, $58.00. The Vanguard, 23 jewels, 5 position, adjusted, $72.00.

All of the above prices are for 20-year gold filled cases. We have each of the above in solid gold cases at from $20.00 to $35.00 more.

Then comes the "Kingly Colonial A" series of watches. The Aristocrats of all American made watches in quality, in style, in real artistic beauty cased in 14-K. gold, 14-K. White gold and in Platinum cases. Priced at $150.00, $165.00, $200.00 and $250.00.

Possibly this year you are thinking of buying a good watch as a gift. Our advice is buy a WALTHAM, buy it from MONTGOMERY BROS., and enjoy the advantage of a wide assortment of styles and prices. We will lay aside any watch you may select and keep it for you until Christmas.

Kindly give us the privilege of showing you our stock of Waltham watches. Let our expert watch salesmen talk over the watch question with you. We will greatly appreciate the favor of a call.

Get the Watch You Have Decided to Buy

Substitution usually breeds dissatisfaction. There is nothing "just as good" to a man or woman who has set mind and heart upon something else. And the dealer who sells a customer against the wishes of that customer is a poor business man.

This obvious fact is the foundation of all Waltham Watch advertising. The layman knew very little about a watch. To him it was a mystery of wheels and gears and pinions, and he believed almost everything he was told about it. So we took the mystery out of a watch—took him on a tour of inspection through its "works" and showed him by illustration and simple language why the Waltham has become universally famous as a time-keeping mechanism.

And this was the first time in the history of watchmaking upon this continent that the prospective purchaser of a watch had been educated, provided with many facts—hitherto unpublished—and given many reasons why his watch selection should unqualifiedly be—a Waltham Watch.

We could do this because we were the first watchmakers in the New World to apply American mechanical genius to making the parts of watches absolutely uniform in quality by marvelous machinery, to making them more accurate, giving them a flawless standardization which protected every purchaser of a Waltham Watch from those material variations which are natural attributes of foreign watches made by hand.

We were enabled to open wide the door to the works of a Waltham Watch because there were many exclusive Waltham inventions and metallurgical discoveries enshrined in its creation which we were proud to reveal. And because a fallacy was abroad in the land—that the foreign-built watch was superior to this American masterpiece—we were glad to do our part to dispel this misleading idea.

Therefore we welcomed the opportunity to make comparisons. As Americans we take pride in defending American genius, American watchmakers and American horological achievement as demonstrated in the Waltham Watch.

People did not generally know that Waltham had won a large majority of the highest honors at the world's greatest expositions—that Waltham had obtained over six hundred Kew Observatory "A" certificates from stock models at London—perhaps the severest test of time-keeping performances that can be given a watch.

And now the demand for Waltham Watches is greater than the supply—our enormous resources are taxed to the utmost. Some one has to wait. The dealer is not to blame. But substitution is a poor exchange for conviction. If you have decided to buy a Waltham Watch, your good judgment equals that of any other man. We prize most that in which our own faith is invested.

A Waltham Watch is a lifetime investment. If it is the watch you have decided to buy, and cannot get it immediately, wait for it. You will be amply repaid. It will give you that faithful, dependable time-keeping service which has made Waltham the World's Watch Over Time.

PROFITEERING.
The country is harvesting a three-billion bushel corn crop—the greatest ever. Just think of the profit ears!

SOME CHILL.
It was ten degrees below zero at Bismarck, N. D., on Sunday. That's what they get for naming the place after a cold-blooded Prussian.

LORDS AND LADIES.
They are fixing it so that ladies of the peerage will be eligible to membership in the British House of Lords. Possibly they are doing this for the lords' sake. If the ladies will introduce knitting and embroidery at the sessions this branch of Parliament may become of conspicuous service to the state.

NOT THAT SORT.
President Lewis of the Mine Workers' Union says that, like Abraham Lincoln, he thanks God he lives in a country where men can strike. It is little short of blasphemy for this labor-union leader to defend his course with the name of the martyred President. Abraham Lincoln wouldn't have shut down the coal mines of the nation in midwinter because he couldn't have a six-hour day. It grieved his mighty heart that the days were only twenty-four hours long and he gave them all to the cause of humanity without any argument over the wage. When any $15-a-day labor agitator begins to talk about his fellowship with Abraham Lincoln it is time for the nearest sane person to pick up a club.

THE LONDON ALARM.
Over in London they are worrying over the fact that out of a population of some six millions they have a divorce docket with nearly 2000 cases. They never had over 800 before and hardly know what to make of the present rush for matrimonial freedom. The experts want to blame most of it on the war, but don't know exactly how it can be done. Probably there were a great many hasty or pension weddings because of the call to the colors and now the courts are reaping the natural consequences. But if Los Angeles had six million souls within her borders she would never worry over a little matter of two thousand divorces. We can have pretty near that many on the calendar as it is. Here we can divide the responsibility between the war and the films if we want to.

MORE PAY, LESS WORK.
The head of the Mine Workers' Union declared some days ago that men in the coal industry were making only about $75 a month. Now he admits that the average pay of the workers last year was $1228—and this includes the unskilled labor. Those engaged in actual mining have made from $8 to $12 in an eight-hour day. As they have not always had a full week, however, they are now demanding a reduction of the day to six hours, and an increase of wages that would give them even more money than they would receive on an overtime week under the present schedule. Practically all the strikes now under way or threatened mean a falling off in production if successful. No group of men are asking for more money for more work. They all demand a lot more of dough for a lot less of delivery. There never can be any reduction in the cost of living under those circumstances.

IRON FIST NEEDED.
The world must look with amazement at the spectacle of the United States continually paying ransom to Mexican banditi. It takes one back to the days when this country yielded tribute to an African potentate for the privilege of trading in the Mediterranean. There came a time when the government at Washington awoke to the absurdity of "coughing up" annually to the Dey of Algiers, so the dark-skinned gentleman was panned and told to be good. In dealing with banditry and deys with itching palms one cannot afford to be gentle and watchfully patient; they must be made to feel the iron fist. As Senator Poindexter says: "Every necessary agency of the government should be used to give complete protection to the lives and lawful rights of American citizens in Mexico." Senator Poindexter may not have much chance to become the candidate of the G.O.P. in 1920, but he certainly hits the bell with his strong talk on the necessity for a firm policy in dealing with outrages in Mexico.

The other nations cannot help regard the present policy as ludicrous and not what is expected from a first-class power. The history of the dealings with Mexico of our Democratic administration is a sad one from first to last. "The launching and withdrawal, without definite purpose or result," of the military expedition to Vera Cruz has been deservedly denounced by Senator Poindexter, and the same condemnation applies to the expedition which was to capture Villa dead or alive and failed. The Times is not among those who hastily cry that America must go below the border and "clean up" the Mexicans, but it does insist on a strong policy which will not expose the country to the indignity of seeing its consular agents kidnaped and its aviators held for ransom.

NO WELCOME FOR THE DISLOYAL.
Los Angeles has been signally honored of late by visits of the great and the near-great. First came the President on a high mission that made him thrice welcome. Then came the King and Queen of Belgium and in their generous reception the whole city joined. An oriental potentate, once a sergeant in our Marine Corps, but now a full-fledged Sultan of Llang Llang, is shortly to arrive and will doubtless have a fitting welcome. And now is to come one whose high-sounding title of President of the Irish republic has a phony ring. The republic exists only in the imagination of a few misguided enthusiasts; and if its so-called President were to land on the Irish coast, for any purpose, he would promptly be seized by the officers of the law as a fugitive from justice.

The Times was in full sympathy with the welcomes given to the President and to Belgium's heroic rulers; but The Times advises that the biggest icicle that can be found be handed to the adventurer, De Valera, on his arrival in Los Angeles and that the hose be turned on him. Any patriot should be ashamed to serve on a committee doing honor to a pro-German. It will be a reflection on the loyalty of Los Angeles if the city extends hospitality to De Valera in a municipal or official way.

The only thing about De Valera to endear him to any American heart is the fact that his mother was an Irish colleen. He is an expatriated American, a fugitive from British justice and one who worked like a junker during the war for the triumph of Germany.

De Valera not only fomented rebellion in Ireland at the time when the result of the great war was hanging in the balance; he and certain of his associates were arrested in May, 1918, at the time when the German hosts hung like a cloud both over the channel ports and over Paris, on well-grounded charges of collusion with German agents and conspiracy with Germany. A British government report made in May of that year recites that the Sinn Fein leaders were actually plotting for landing German troops on British soil. De Valera and his associates rendered more service to the Hohenzollerns than any three army corps under Von Hindenburg's command.

There were thousands of men of Irish birth who fought nobly for the cause of free peoples. But every one who did so was declared by De Valera to be a traitor to Ireland. Not content with urging the Irish people to resist conscription with force of arms; not content with leading them into open rebellion and causing Great Britain to keep one hundred thousand troops in England and Ireland when they were so sorely needed to check the great German drive in the spring of 1918, De Valera declared that every Irishman who fought under the British flag, for any cause and against any enemy, was a traitor.

It must not be forgotten that Ireland is a component part of the British union; that it has a greater per capita representation in the British Parliament than any other part of the British Empire; that it bears the same relation to the British government that any American State bears to the American Union. The British Parliament freely offered Ireland home rule if the Irish would agree to accept the same burden of war responsibility as that carried by England, Scotland and Wales; and De Valera was the first to cry that, if home rule was to be purchased by conscription, Ireland didn't want it. It was the reply of a miserable slacker.

The American government would not have tolerated for a moment the kind of rebellion in one of our sovereign States that disgraced Ireland during the war. The Conscription Act was as binding upon Ireland as upon any other part of Great Britain; but the faction which De Valera represents refused to fight in the war against Germany. Had an American State done that it would have quickly felt the weight of the armed fist of the nation. There are a hundred persons in this country now serving twenty-year sentences for disloyalty and treason who did not commit a tenth part of the treasonable acts of which the Sinn Fein has boasted. There are widows and orphans right here in Los Angeles who owe the loss of husband or father to the failure of 250,000 young men in the southern part of Ireland to do their duty to civilization.

Put the shoe on the other foot for a moment. How would we feel in this country if Debs and Emma Goldman had escaped from a Federal prison during the critical summer of 1918, made their way to England and had been received there with open arms and lionized as patriots because they had sought to cripple England's ally when the fighting was hottest?

De Valera was arrested about the same time as Bolo Pasha. The charges against the two were the same: collusion with German agents and conspiring with Germany against the Allies. Bolo Pasha has paid the penalty of his crimes. But if he had escaped from prison, as did De Valera, while his trial was pending and fled to this country, what would have been his reception outside the Hearst newspaper offices and other pro-German circles? What has De Valera done that he should be lionized for that which caused Bolo Pasha to be executed?

His offense was not only against Great Britain, but against every Allied country; for he and his party were plotting for the triumph of Germany. How any loyal American or any friend of an Allied people, especially one who mourns a gallant soldier sleeping on the field of honor in France, Belgium or Italy, can do him honor is a mystery that The Times is unable to fathom.

By reason of the treasonable acts of the members of the party the very term Sinn Fein has come to carry a pro-German taint. With it rests the responsibility for a stain upon the fair name of Erin that centuries will hardly efface. It is due to them that Ireland lost in the war as much as Belgium won. The Times is well aware that a large number of people in this country are sincerely, although we believe mistakenly, attached to the Sinn Fein cause. But they forget that, during the war, the Sinn Feiners played the part of slackers. They believed Germany could win and did their best to bring about that result, even to the extent of mobbing American soldiers and sailors in South-of-Ireland cities. That was the spirit which De Valera instilled in his Sinn Fein followers. Certainly there is nothing about it to win the respect or support of a loyal American.

These charges of disloyal plotting with Germany on the part of the Sinn Fein leaders are not lightly made. They do not originate with The Times. In another column of this issue there appear extracts from an article on hostility in the Sinn Fein to the American troops landed in Ireland, written for the "World's Work" by Rear-Admiral Sims, who was in command of the American navy in European waters.

Rear-Admiral Sims gives a solemn warning to all loyal Americans to beware of espousing any cause with which De Valera and other Sinn Feiners are connected. He says: "The members of this organization were not only openly disloyal, they were openly pro-German. They were not even neutral—they were working day and night for a German victory." After relating how American soldiers and sailors landed on the coast of Ireland were maltreated by the Sinn Feiners he continues: "But the Sinn Feiners interfered with us in much more serious ways than this. They were doing everything in their power to help Germany. With their assistance German agents and German spies were landed in Ireland." Does any loyal American desire stronger testimony than that as to the actions of De Valera and his associates?

De Valera hopes by his trip to foment discord between the American and British peoples. He hopes to sever the ties that are bound by the blood of mutual sacrifice. That he should be received with eclat in a German city would not be past understanding; but this country has no use for slackers, even though they try to disguise themselves as Irish patriots.

The writer of this editorial is of Irish descent. He, too, dreamed in his salad days the dream of Irish freedom. But the world war brought to him an awakening; and he would no more touch the hand of De Valera with his German tainted war record than he would that of a Hohenzollern. The way to Irish freedom was the road to France. It might have been won upon the plains of Flanders. De Valera and his Sinn Fein followers were too stupid or too craven to follow that road.

A "LITTLE" FAR-FETCHED.
Richard Henry Little, wandering around Russia and other countries which the average man would consider rather unhealthy, is introducing readers of The Times to men, great and small, who are making history in the disturbed country from which Bolshevism emanated. It is interesting to follow Mr. Little as he journeys from Finland to Letvia and over the border in the general direction of Petrograd. The newspaper man has such a charming way of using his "I's" that one sometimes forgets that it isn't Mr. Little's doings we want to know about, but what is really happening in Russia.

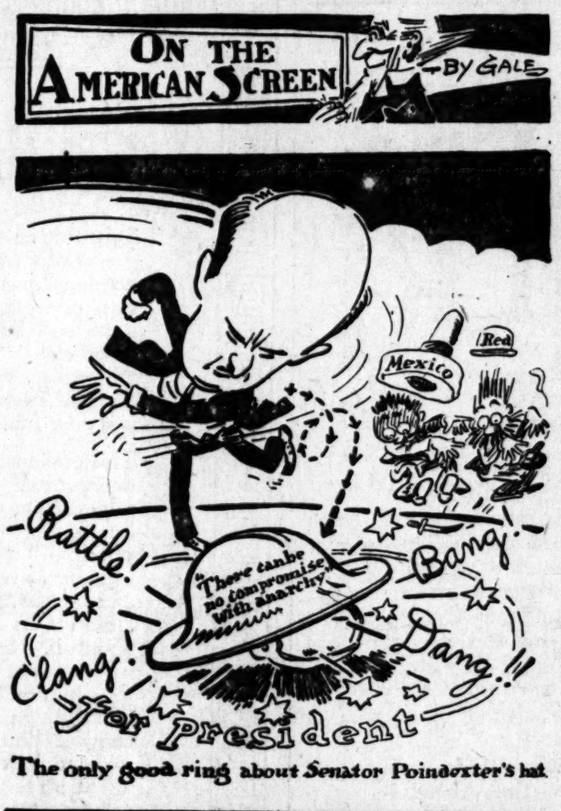
The world is certainly indebted to Mr. Little for his unique description of Gen. Rodjianska, now known to fame as the Russian Northwest Army's champion go-getter general, full of American pep and spouting American slang.

One can safely accept Mr. Little's word for it that when he first met the tall, mud-spattered general that military person had a three-days' growth of whiskers; but Mr Little might have saved cable tolls by cutting out the words "on his face." Where else would he expect the general to have his three-days' growth?

And then the picture he draws of the "go-getter" not sending his men into battle, but leading them in, "waving his long sword in one hand and firing his revolver with the other," is certainly a masterpiece. One would imagine that while the general is doing the sword-waving he finds it hard to take correct aim with his revolver and he must cut a queer figure with the wind playing through his whiskers. But perhaps Mr. Little is unconsciously exaggerating, or maybe Gen. Rodjianska made him sore about something so he's getting even by holding him up to ridicule. But let the general cheer up! Nobody believes he ever charged into battle just as Mr. Little describes him.

POINTS OF POINDEXTER.
Senator Poindexter, in announcing his candidacy for the Presidency, adds that when he is nominated the Republican National Convention will have to conform to his platform. The Senator need not worry. By the time the party has chosen him as its standard bearer it will be not only ready to let him write its platform, but its last will and testament. In filing his declaration of principles the Washington Senator is absolutely mute upon the covenant of the League of Nations, to which he has heretofore been rigorously opposed. He does speak bravely about protecting the rights of American citizens in Mexico and elsewhere, but the impression left is that this must be done by silent prayer or the exercise of new thought. At any rate the use of American soldiers in Mexico and elsewhere is severely criticised. He does not seem to contemplate a world alignment of the forces of civilization. He appears to be quite enthusiastic over the idea of America for Americans—which is the favorite companion of the politician of today. He is very much down on the radical leaders of the labor unions and thinks that strike threats should be impossible. Some time ago it required courage for a politician to say this much in criticism of organized labor, but that day has passed and now they are all reaching for their hammers. Senator Poindexter wants the alien agitators deported. In this desire he will have the good will of all true citizens, but he is not entitled to any medals for priority of discovery. He is no pioneer of the thought. If Poindexter proposes to divide with Hiram Johnson the anti-league vote of the Pacific Coast neither will have enough to take him farther than the vestibule of the Republican National Convention.

NO USE ARGUING.
After mother gets one of the children to sleep when the little tad has been bawling all night with the toothache, father will sneak into the house and tear all the pictures off the walls and bust up all the furniture for spite just to wake the baby up, at least that's what mother says. The truth of the matter is that doggone hall-rack walks out into the middle of the hall so father can fall over it. But there is no use arguing with a woman.—[Arkansaw Thomas Cat.



BACK TO NATURE.
There is no doubt that the new woman is a lady of backbone. Neither does she hesitate about placing the same on exhibition. Pictures of the living models in the gowns designed in Paris and New York for the next season indicate a lavish display of back extending clear to the waistline. A rear view of a smartly-dressed woman indicates nothing much but a short skirt hung from the shoulders with a couple of shoestrings. There are not very many that can get away with it. The fat dame or the skinny kind would look like a section of the side show; but the maid or matron with an ivory back with a hint of plumpness about it would seem quite alluring—yes, alluring would be the word for it. But if we are going to have a coal famine this winter, what will our bare-backed fairies do about it? It may be necessary to start a fund for the relief of open-backed movie maids. If Venus had had her picture taken in the wide-open garb of the present season the Olympians would have had her pinched. As it is, pinching backs is going to be the favorite sport of the fall crop of lounge lizards. The idea of economy in the smart set is to make a gown out of about a yard of material and then put a thousand dollars' worth of trimming to it. If a society woman had to go to bed dressed as she goes to dinner you could see her blushes in the dark.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

SQUARE DEALING.

You'll have customers contented
If the goods in which you deal
Always are as represented in your advertising spiel.
But if you deceive your patrons, lured by falsehoods to your store,
There'll be angry men and matrons thirsting for your rich red gore.
Claiming wool and selling shoddy will not get you anywhere,
And excuses large and gaudy will not make the matter square.
I can sell a tinhorn sonnet to consumers now and then,
But when they want odes, doggone it, they won't come to me again.
I must do the best I'm able every time I sell a song or
Some gent will prod my gable with a pitchfork's rusty prong.
Such excuses as I offer, broken health or Jim H. Jams,
Find the scorner and the scoffer, and I cannot sell my psalms.
Once you've fooled a human being you have earned an ebon mark;
And a hundred, that mark seeing, will avoid you as a shark.
Let no bilking schemes enchant you, put temptation on the ice;
You may sting me once, I grant you, but you cannot do it twice.
And the dealer who is wiser than a wise old setting hen
Is the honest advertiser who would have you come again.

WALT MASON.

THE TREASON OF THE SINN FEINERS.

BY REAR-ADMIRAL SIMS,
In the "World's Work."

During the nearly two years which the American naval forces spent in Europe only one element in the population showed them any hostility or even unfriendliness. At the moment when these lines are being written a delegation claiming to represent the "Irish Republic" is touring the United States, asking Americans to extend their sympathy and contribute money toward the realization of their project. I have great admiration for the mass of the Irish people, and from the best elements of these people the American sailors received only kindness. I have therefore hesitated about telling just how some members of the Sinn Fein party treated our men. But it seems that now, when this same brotherhood is attempting to stir up hatred in this country against our allies in the war, there is a certain pertinence in informing Americans just what kind of treatment their brave sailors met with at Sinn Fein hands in Ireland.

The people of Queenstown and Cork, as already described, received our men with genuine Irish cordiality. Yet in a few weeks evidence of hostility in certain quarters became apparent. The fact is that the part of Ireland in which the Americans were stationed was a headquarters of the Sinn Fein. The members of this organization were not only openly disloyal; they were openly pro-German. They were not even neutral—they were working day and night for a German victory; in their misguided minds a German victory signified an Irish republic. It was no secret that the Sinn Feiners were sending information to Germany and constantly laying plots to interfere with the British and American navies.

At first it might be supposed that the large number of sailors—and some officers—of Irish extraction on the American destroyers would tend to make things easier for our men. Quite the contrary proved to be the case. The Sinn Feiners apparently believed that these so-called Irish-Americans would sympathize with their cause; in their wildest moments they even hoped that our naval forces might champion it. But these splendid sailors were Americans before they were anything else; their chief ambition was the defeat of the Hun and they could not understand how any man anywhere could have any other aim in life. They were disgusted at the large numbers of able-bodied men whom they saw on the streets, and did not hesitate to ask some of them why they were not fighting on the western front. The behavior of the American sailors was good; but the mere fact that they did not openly manifest a hatred of Great Britain and a love of Germany infuriated the Sinn Feiners. And the eternal woman question also played its part. Our men had much more money than the native Irish boys and could entertain the girls more lavishly at the movies and ice-cream stands. The men of our fleet and the Irish girls became excellent friends; the association, from our point of view, was a very wholesome one, for the moral character of the Irish girls of Queenstown and Cork—as, indeed, of Irish girls everywhere—is very high, and their companionship added greatly to the wellbeing and contentment of our sailors, not a few of whom, indeed, found wives among these young women. But when the Sinn Fein element saw their sweethearts deserting them for the American boys their hitherto suppressed anger took the form of overt acts.

Occasionally an American sailor would be brought from Cork to Queenstown in a condition that demanded pressing medical attention. When he regained consciousness he would relate how he had suddenly been set upon by half a dozen roughs and beaten into a state of insensibility. Several of our men were injured in this way. At other times small groups were stoned by Sinn Fein sympathizers and there were many hostile demonstrations in moving-picture houses and theaters. Even more frequently attacks were made, not upon the American sailors, but upon the Irish girls who accompanied them. These chivalrous pro-German agitators would rush up and attempt to tear the girls away from our young men; they would pull down their hair, slap them and even kick them. Naturally American sailors were hardly the type to tolerate behavior of this kind, and some bloody battles took place.

AIN'T IT JUST SO?

Billie Lale says he has watched
Prices skyrocket for years, and
At first he laid it on the Euro-Pean War, but that ended and still
They rise, and he never could Find out until yesterday what Caused it, when he seen by the Paper that it was on account of Restricted Output, and it was a
Great relief to learn the trou-
Ble, even though it didn't make shoes
Any cheaper, or sugar any easier
To get, and Billie says now he Knows how the Waddell family
Felt in the Winter of '15 when
The Old Man had a breakin' out on His back that made him want to Scratch all the time, and when
Doc Schwartz called it the Itch
They were awfully ashamed, until
One day they asked Doc Bailey
About it, and he called it "Derm-Atitis Herpetiformis," and the Family felt ever so much better
Over it, and even a little proud
Of having such a "Tony" disease
In their midst, even though Dad
Did have to keep on scratching
Just the same.

There's the Western avenue line.

Four times as many cars for Grand avenue as for Western.

In diplomacy as in some other things we often back the wrong horse.

That proposed government railway project seems to be sadly out of Plumb.

What President was it who once remarked that he had only a one-track mind?

Two big celebrations for the coming month—Thanksgiving and Armistice Day.

With eggs in sight of the dollar-a-dozen mark there ought to be a chance for the super-hen.

If, as claimed, Charlie Chaplin is to appear in "Hamlet" it will be a big boost for Shakespeare.

Seems to be a dead heat between the United States and England as to which country can report the greater number of strikes.

Folks in this town unable to find a house for lease are not willing to join with Eva Tanguay in the rollicking song, "I Don't Care."

Everybody is talking all at once and nobody is listening. Recalls the old-fashioned mite society held to raise money to pay the salary of the preacher.

Women are getting into politics deeper and deeper, but they will never do much toward running an office until they abandon French heels and hobble skirts.

Atty.-Gen. A. Mitchell Palmer is giving a fairly good imitation of an attempted trust-busting, thus indicating that he is in the field for the Democratic nomination in 1920.

It now transpires that Bela Kun only took one million dollars with him to Vienna, filched from the Hungarian treasury. That is bad enough to furnish a Vienna roll for Bela.

It is proof positive that the investigations are not getting anywhere so long as prices remain high. Of course, we are officially advised from Washington that "the cost is downward."

President Wilson is accumulating a lot of material for that book on administration, fraught with tremendous things, was never charged with world-affecting issues as at the present time.

Some of the alleged liquor hoarded on the kitchen stoves of the proletariat is said to be strong enough to eat the bottom out of a tin can. How natural that must feel and taste to the man who cannot let it alone.

Remember when the milkman used to give you twenty quarts of spigots for a dollar? Them were the happy days. And there used to be cream on the milk, too. But that was before the time of condensed milk, whatever that is.

Another heirloom left by the Democratic Congress is a deficit of about three billion dollars to expect at the end of the current year. Like the dishonored name they have left the child on the doorstep and skipped by the light of the moon.

With cotton jumping it a cent a pound over night it will soon be time that folks will be investing in cotton. And they do say that the wily Japanese are taking advantage of the unusual situation here by buying pure silk in the United States cheaper than prices asked for purely cotton fabrics. Leave it to the Japs to get a chance to do business.

The holders of liquors in this country might as well make up their minds that they will be compelled to export the stuff if they ever get their money out of it. Gen. A. Mitchell Palmer has the kibosh on the dry bill in his possession and is now an active candidate for the Democratic nomination for the presidency next year. Put this and that together and try to figure out what hope for the wets. Just what the bankers will do who have their millions of dollars on which is something else again.

The Junior College team plays the University of California (southern branch) next Friday afternoon. There is said to be as much rivalry over the result of this game as over a Los Angeles High-Poly contest.

POLO ON THE BOOM AGAIN.

California to be Center of Country's Sport.

Invitational Tourney to Start on February 1.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

DEL MONTE, Oct. 28.—California is already laying plans to become the polo center of the country for this winter and coming summer. The Del Monte Club has been awarded dates for an invitational tournament, February 1 to 10, and the annual spring tournament, March 28 to April 15, by the Polo Association of America.

The programme of events for these tournaments are now being prepared with a view of attracting the interest of poloists from the East as well as Canada, England, Honolulu and Mexico

TO COME BACK.

Polo came back with a bang at Del Monte this past season. The sport was practically dead during the war, due to the fact that practically the entire rank and file of the polo players entered the service of their country in response to the call to arms. All of the players got back into the saddle and the exciting sport on horseback immediately was installed into popular favor.

At the close of the summer polo season at Del Monte work was started in order to put the two regulation fields into tip-top condition. There will also be a practice area and everything is being prepared for the coming of a large number of teams to the Coast.

PAPER CHASES.

Del Monte has been allotted two tournaments for this coming season instead of one, as ruled heretofore. Plans are also being layed for a number of paper chases, horse shows, Gymkhanas and other events that will attract the interest of the horsemen.

The Pacific Coast subcommittee of the polo association, which is composed of John B. Miller (chairman,) Samuel F. B. Morse, Francis Carolan, Maj. Colin G. Ross and Harry Gordon Pattee, is also laying plans for polo tournaments in other sections of the Coast. Visiting polo players are assured of an active season of the sport on the Pacific Coast.

REDLANDS GRID STARS TO RETURN TO GAME.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Oct. 28. — A. Cunningham, coach of the University of Redlands football team, is about to get the half dozen or so of his star men who have been in the hospital on the field again. Quarter-back Randall is able to be out in a suit again, although his knee, which was badly twisted in a practice game before the Redlands-Pomona fracas, is not to be depended on entirely yet.

Full-back Smith had a stiff leg for more than a week as a result of getting kicked in the Pomona game, but he will be out for practice again this week. Bill Yount, with his twisted hand; Untereiner, whose shoulder was hurt, and Hatcher, who had a Charley horse, are all out in suits again this week.

The Bulldogs will meet the Whittier team in the next conference game which will be played here.

KERILLIS, FRENCH ACE, TO LAUNCH AIR ROUTE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Capt. L. Kerillis, French "ace" credited with downing forty-six German airplanes, arrived on the La Lorraine today with two sixteen-passenger and four two-passenger machines to be used in the projected air line between Havana, Key West, Miami, Palm Beach and Jacksonville. The service will start December 1, he said, and later will be extended to New York.

Five other French "aces" will arrive later to assist in establishing the lines and in training Cuban aviators.

NORMAN ROSS AT HONOLULU FOR RACES.

The meet has been postponed until November 1, 3 and 4.

Prior to the war Porte planned a flight across the Atlantic Ocean. A large flying boat named America was built at Hammondsport, N. Y., for this purpose.

SHADE-HERMAN DRAW.

BY KAY OWE.

There was a main event at Jack Doyle's fight arena last night, but Tillie Herman and Billy Shade didn't fight it.

Young France and Tommy Carter put up the fight of the evening and the referee gave the decision to France. The fans didn't agree with him and booed for several minutes. The battle looked like a pretty fair draw and Tommy Carter looks like a comer.

The Shade-Herman affair would make a good curtain-raiser in almost any arena, but as a main event it was a "dud." The gents sprawled and pawed each other through four rounds and then gave up the ghost. How either one of 'em could ever lick anything is a puzzle to the buga. Shade can scrap—his earlier fights prove it—but he didn't do any of it yesterday. Herman came out with a pair of brand new yellow pants but that was all he had. The referee didn't try to give a decision at the end of the argument, but called it a draw. Deciding which one was the worse was too difficult even for him.

But the bugs had their money's worth at that. Young France and Tommy Carter put up as nifty a scrap as could be wished. They started at the first gong and were at each others's throats every minute. Carter opened the proceedings by landing an upper-cut on France's jaw that would have rocked anything on legs. Such things seldom worry France to any great extent and he came right back and stayed with it.

Carter is just as fast as France and hits even harder. He has a good left and right and knows how to use 'em. On points the referee may have been right in giving France the decision, but it had all the appearance of a fast draw.

WAS SCARED.

Battling Savage should have been named Archibald even though he did get a decision over Frank Moy. Savage stood around with a rather scared look on his face most of the time and let Moy do the work. But he did land a couple of swats that put Moy in the land of nod. Once Moy took the mat. The other time he wandered around the ring in a dazed sort of way, awaiting the finish, but Savage didn't administer it.

Ray Smith won a decision over Joe Gomez. Eddy Denny took a bout from Young Romeo. This was a speed battle and if Romeo had ever managed to make his terrific blows land on anything he would have been O. K. Red Bresnan defeated Eddie Newton in the first event of the evening.

Charlie Murray introduced "Babe" Ruth and the big Red Sox slugger was given an ovation. The bugs wanted a speech, but Ruth patted his chest, coughed a couple of times and having satisfied everybody that he had a bad cold, retired blushing.

SOCCER NOTES.

The Sons of St. George Order has backed up Jack Percy with a whole wad of money along with promises of plenty more if necessary. Of course it takes a lot of money to keep up the game, especially when no "gates" are to be had.

The games on Exposition Park are of couges free to the public, not even war tax being required? and also money back if not satisfied.

Every club in the local field will have a general clean-up and all of them will have different uniforms and colors as soon as the orders can be filled.

Billy Amess is the live-wire chairman of the executive committee. Billy's motto is: "Let's Do Things This Year."

Santa Monica is the first club from outside Los Angeles to join the association. If Pasadena and Long Beach will join us, a good working schedule would result.

The playing pitch at Exposition Park is being fixed up all brand new. The field will be laid out on a larger scale than before, and will be 70 yards wide by 112 yards long, new posts and markings and a fast playing pitch. This is all being done through the kindness of Mr. Raitt, Superintendent Playgrounds, who wants to see soccer flourish.

Application forms will be supplied to the club secretaries any time after Wednesday. Every player will have to sign the form before he is eligible to play after the first game.

The soccer schedule will be started next Sunday with two games, one in Los Angeles and the other at Santa Monica. The Sons of St. George (Geordies) will invade the beach town for the opening game. The game will be played on the High School grounds. Both teams are at full strength. This game will give a line on the players, especially the Santa Monicans, who are new-comers in the local association.

The Geordies will have most of their old players, and also a sprinkling of new blood. The familiar face of "Dad" Delly will be missed. "Dad" reached his goal on the Flanders Field.

The kick-off is set for 2:45. Two forty-five-minute halves will be played.

The United vs. L. A. Athletics will be seen in the opener at Exposition Park on Sunday afternoon. These teams are rivals of old and are both nearly up to their normal standard. The last two seasons they have broken about even, each team winning a trophy. The game is called for 2:45 sharp. The executive committee will appoint the referee and perhaps the linesmen at the committee meeting Wednesday night.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28. — Six of the sixty-two army aviators, who started the airplane race twenty days ago today remained in the contest. Lieut. H. W. Sheridan, at Buffalo, N. Y., 323 miles from his starting point, Mineola, N. Y., since Saturday hopes for weather that will permit him to attain his goal.

Lieut. R. S. Worthington, the only westbound flyer not yet home or disqualified, today was at Rock Island, Ill. He had been held up there nearly a week. Lieut. D. B. Gish planned to take the air today from North Platte, Neb., where he was stopped yesterday by a frozen radiator. Lieut. R. M. Bagby and Lieut.-Col. H. E. Hartney were 118 miles ahead of him at St. Paul, Neb., where bad weather forced them to land. Capt. F. Steinle was at Battle Mountain, Nev.

Lieut. D. B. Gish left North Platte, Neb., at 10:29 a.m., for St. Paul, Neb., and hoped to reach Rock Island, Ill before the end of the day.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 28.—With the "big" game with the Bear cubs from the University of California only three weeks off, the Cardinal "frosh" are commencing to round into form. In the meantime their schedule is unsettled, but Manager Ames is promising them at least three more practice games with high schools in the vicinity.

Last Saturday, in a practice game with Berkeley High School, the Cardinal babes loafed through the first two quarters and as a result were on the wrong end of a 10-to-3 score at the end of he first half. However, they came out of their slump later and finally defeated the Berkeley team 23-13. "Bob" Cravens of Pasadena, and Trago, at quarter-back were the stars of the game. Trago was injured in the last quarter and had to be taken from the field. He may be able to get back in the game before the U. C. "frosh" contest, according to Coach "Art" Acker.

RIFLE MATCH ON SUNDAY.

The Southern League of California Riflemen, will stage its second match of the season next Sunday, November 2. A special match will also be shot for the Capt. G. L. Wotkyns trophy, a case of Springfield ammunition, which will be awarded the winner of the longest run of bulls at 600 yards.

The Los Angeles Rifle and Revolver Club won the first match of the southern league, San Diego Rifle Club getting second place. Last Sunday the local trigger squeezers were out practicing. Several high score were shot.

"BABE" RUTH IS WITH US.

World's Greatest Batter Arrives and will be Here for the Winter.

BY ED O'MALLEY.

Well—he's here boys—the great George (Babe) Ruth. The world's champion hitter of all times in the diamond sport arrived here last evening on the Santa Fe Limited, accompanied by Mrs. Ruth and his secretary. As his well-known features flashed through the glass doorway of a Pullman sleeper he was immediately recognized by a coterie of Los Angeles newspaper men chaperoned by Gene Doyle, the advance agent of Los Angeles welfare.

No sooner had Babe bounded blithely from the steps of the Pullman, than Eddie Maier joined the reception party. Then a few moments later Buck Weaver, an old friend of the batting king, and Jacques Fournier hove in sight to bid Ruth welcome.

BIG SHOULDERS.

Babe wore a brown leather overcoat and cap. In physique (he tips the beam at 210) he is built somewhat on the lines of Jim Jeffries. His shoulders are a happy medium between square and round and speak ample room for swinging movement of the arms. His features are well-browned, regular, with a slightly flat nose, but in the ensemble they are what might be termed good looking, especially as they are constantly wreathed in a bonhomie smile.

Mrs. Ruth is a petite, stunning brunette, whose eyes seldom wander from the vicinity of her liege lord and whose affection has discarded the pet name of "Babe" for plain, prosaic George. However, when she articulates "George" there is a hushed, beseeching softness to it that brings a doting smile from Babe; a smile that is sure to chill feminine tuft hunters on the very threshold of launching, at a venture, a coquettish smirk.

TO LOOK PRETTY.

Like all topnotchers in the various lines of human endeavor, Ruth had to pay the penalty of greatness. He had no more than placed his toe on terra firma than he was asked to stand uncovered and look his prettiest while a bustling photographer with a Bolshevik mania in the powder line turned night into day with an explosion that almost knocked standers-by off their feet. It was then that the last word in baseball was turned over to the tender mercies of "yours truly." Among many other things he vouchsafed the following:

"Say, I've been coming out here for four years, but something has always happened at the last moment to prevent it. At last I'm here and I'm glad of it. Why, it was only yesterday I told Mrs. Ruth, 'Just think, only one more day and we'll be there.' I've heard so much about Los Angeles." It was here that a member of the reception committee apologetically put in with, "Well, we don't have many cool evenings like this."

DENTAL SMILE.

"Cool evenings," shot back Babe, with a dental smile, "say, you don't call this cool? Why, this is mild to what we had in the East just before we left."

We had thought of a thousand things to ask Ruth, but with his beautiful wife standing so close to him the spark plugs in our dome became fouled and our memory bucked something awful. However, with a supreme effort, we finally got our mind back on our work and ventured. "How about the movies, Mr. Ruth?"

"Well—I don't know just what I'm going to do. I have several offers from the big studios here but may have some trouble closing with one of them for the simple reason that I will not do movie work on Sunday."

HOW ABOUT BOBBY?

Dropping the sordid line of mundane affairs we hinted at Bobby Meusel, the Babe Ruth of the Pacific Coast. "Suppose you've heard of Meusel? He surely can slam the old pill some himself."

To our utter consternation and the complete demoralisation of our village pride, Babe suavely answered, "Never heard of him."

Well, Babe, we don't wish to be invidious but we really think you will come to know Bobby before many more suns have bathed the Land of Beulah with ardent rays.

We don't know whether to call this the cut direct or cut sublime, but if we were Bobby we'd just get that old wagon tongue of his marked, "Made in Los Angeles" and sandpaper all the rusty fuzzy off it that must have accumulated on it since the late Apostles-Tiger unpleasantness, and show the Eastern intruder that we have a whale of a slugger here that needs only some one to knock it over the fence at

CARD CAMPUS MAD WITH JOY.

Stanford Victory Over Aggies Sets University Agog.

Coach Evans's Confidence in Team is Vindicated.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 27.—Joy on the Stanford campus was without bounds following the announcement of the Cardinal victory over the Oregon Aggies. When the team left here for the north, the only Stanford enthusiasm that could be aroused was over the possibility that the Aggies might someway be held by the Cards. Coach "Bob" Evans's confidence in a Stanford victory seemed to be the confidence of a crazy man.

When the news came through, however, that the Stanford "forlorn hope" had made good and to the tune of a 14-6 victory, all Palo Alto was mad with joy. This coupled with the tiding of a California defeat by Washington State set the local dopesters to work.

Next Saturday's game with Saint Mary's College, seems to point towards another Stanford victory, according to the local experts, but it also points towards a real football contest. Although Berkeley rolled up a 19 to 0 score on the St. Mary's boys two weeks ago, the team from the Catholic institution put up a tough scrap. The next on the bill of fare is the game with Santa Clara University. Stanford's old rugby rival. Santa Clara, like Stanford, is in the transition period from rugby to American this year, and so far has not appeared in any intercollegiate games. However, Santa Clara is an unknown quantity and is not expected to be a factor in intercollegiate football this year.

These two teams eliminated, Stanford is left to face the two big games of the year, one with the University of California, and the other with the University of Southern California, on November 22 and 27 respectively. On these two games the dopesters remain silent, as they do on the Stanford defeat at the hands of the Olympic Club. If "ought to's" count for anything, Coach Evan's statement that the Cardinal varsity ought to have won from the Olympics by twenty points, should be taken into consideration. The consoling feature in the Olympic Club game comes to the Stanford supporters by comparing the score with the tie that occured in the Olympic-U. of Cal. game early in the season. As Pomona College was put out of the running by the University of Southern California last Saturday, and Occidental already being out of the way after her overwhelming defeat by U.C., the California State championship will probably be decided in the Stanford-U.S.C. and the Stanford-U.S. games next month.

As far as mid-season prognostications go, Stanford should be a strong contender for this honor. The fact that the Cardinal team has been able to win its first intercollegiate American football game in fourteen years from such a respectable team as the Oregon Aggies, gives this statement most of its weight.

"Rink" Templeton, the Stanford full-back and kicking phenom, seems to be Coach Evans's "ace in the hole." Eleven Stanford punts in the Aggie game netted an average vardage of 46.6 yards for the Cardinal against a ten-punt average of 40.8 for the O.A.C. team. That Templeton's educated toe was a factor in the Stanford victory is easily seen.

It is somewhat reminiscent of Rugby days when Templeton's booting was the object of every expert's praise following a game. Along with Rink's miraculous kicking ability, another element of former Stanford success has remained, in the eyes of press comment, and that is "fighting spirit." And if any one can instill this ingredient into a football team, it is Coach Evans. Evans is a little man, with a shrill voice, who drives his men forward by the sheer force of his nervous vitality.

Although the Stanford team is by no means a light aggregation, it seems to meet with most success when it tries aerial football. Out of five attempted forward passes in the Aggie game Stanford completed three. In this connection the Stanford ends merit some consideration. Pelouze, at right end, runs the 220 for Stanford in the track season, and is almost as fast on the gridiron as he is on the cinders. He learned to dodge in his Rugby days. Adams, at left end, weighs over 200 pounds, but is a fast man nevertheless. Witness his 70-yard run to a touchdown last Saturday after picking up the ball fumbled by the Aggie's full-back.

When the Stanford line gets down to work it usually is able to hold the opposition. "Swede" Righter at center is a heavy man and a hard fighter, and the two guards, Captain Caughey and "Herc" Bihlman, are there with the brawn. Curtice, at right tackle, is playing in splendid mid-season form, and is a goal-kicker of remarkable accuracy.

The Cardinal back-field is not exceptionally brilliant except for Quarter-back "Pret" Holt. When Holt is given the ball, he ducks his head down and plunges through the opposing line almost instictively.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Announcement was made today by Maj.-Gen. Seely, Parliamentary Undersecretary for the Ministry of Munitions, that the giant airship R-38 is to be sold to the United States at cost, which it has been stated "will exceed £500,000."

The airship is expected to be completed by the first of the year. Soon thereafter as the United States provides an airdrome it will be flown to the United States with an American crew, which will be trained by a British air crew.

JACK ANXIOUS FOR A MATCH.

Dempsey Expects to Re-enter Ring Next Month.

Fred Fulton may be Champ's Next Opponent.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Local followers of boxing will probably have an opportunity to see Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, in action next month. Negotiations for a match in which the titleholder will be a participant carried on unostentatiously for the last several weeks, will be brought to a head this afternoon at a meeting scheduled for Hotel Claridge, when Dave Mackay, Newark (N. J.) promoter, and Jack Kearns, manager of Dempsey, will get together for the purpose of discussing details of a match.

But it is understood Mackay is eager to arrange a return meeting between Dempsey and Fred Fulton, the Minnesota plasterer, who fell a victim to the Dempsey punch when the Utah mauler was battling his way to a match against Jess Willard. The match if arranged will be for eight rounds, the limit permitted in New Jersey under the Hurley law.

TIRED OF STAGE.

Dempsey, tired of the footlights and the show business, is eager to re-enter the ring and battle with any who question his right to the title he took from Willard. He abhors inactivity. For this reason it is expected the match will be arranged tomorrow afternoon if the inducements offered by Promoter Mackay are reasonably attractive.

The field of acceptable rivals for Dempsey is limited. Fulton tops the list, not only because of his size, but because of his cleverness and punching power. The Minnesota heavyweight was knocked out by Dempsey, but notwithstanding he still remains at the head of heavyweight ranks.

BRIGHT STARS IN PHOENIX CLASSIC.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.,) Oct. 27.—Some of the brightest of the racing stars of motordom will be in Phoenix for the last day of the State fair, November 8, officially designated as automobile day. Louis Chevrolet is sending three Frontenac machines for the $5000 100-mile race, they to be driven by Boyer, Goodso and Sarles, as well as a Hudson, to be driven by Nicholson. Three Pugeots, entered by Arthur H. Klein, are to come here from the California races. Eddie Hearne, with possibly Cliff Durant as partner, is to be here with a Chrevolet special. Omar Toft is to be along with his Toft special, and Waldo Stein has shipped his Oldfield special. The hundred-mile event is to be the main one, and is expected to develop as fast time as ever made on a circular trotting track.

Next in importance is a twenty-five-mile race open only to drivers of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona. This is expected to be filled by cars that have participated in the El Paso-Phoenix road contest. The money is in three parts, $500, $300 and $200. There also will be a freak race, designed to afford a maximum degree of amusement to the grand stand.

In charge of the day's programme is George Purdy Bullard, who has handled all such events for the fair ever since there was auto racing. Charles McArthur, Billy Ferguson and Cal Messner will be judges, Leon Jacobs will be starter and Tom K. Dunbar timer.

MERCURY HANDICAP SWIM NEXT EVENT.

EIGHT L.A.A.C. PADDLERS TO ENTER COMPETITION FOR McDONALD TROPHY.

Vance Vieth announces the next swiming event at the Los Angeles Athletic Club as a senior 500-yard handicap race for the Wallace McDonald trophy. It is to be held the second week in November.

Each swimmer, Vieth says, will be handicapped on the basis of his last performance. Eight of the best club paddlers have signified their intention of enetring the competition for the cup, which must be won three times by a racer before it becomes his permanent possession.

Those who have sent in their blanks are Jerry Witt, Edward Frall, a newcomer from Pittsburgh; "Old Man" Guy Sylvester, Gerald Vultee, Kenneth Carraher, whom Vieth styles as the giraffe-necked swimmer; Tommy Witt, kid brother of "Cotton Top" Jerry; Jack Kilburn, Southern California sprint champion, and Arthur Summons, a newcomer in middle distance swimming.

TIGERS' MASCOT STILL MISSING.

the best eleven that I have ever seen turned out there."

On form, U.S.C. figures to win easily. It has a heavy, powerful line, averaging 175 pounds from end to end, which will outweigh the Tigers ten pounds to the man. It charges fast and hard and opens up splendid holes for its backs.

TIGERS OUTCLASSED

Comparing the initial starts of the season for each team, Occidental is woefully outclassed. The Tigers failed to measure up to any kind of expectations in the Whittier game. On the other hand, U.S.C. did what none but her staunchest admirers believed possible, and that was to administer a decisive beating to the Pomona eleven, conceded to be a potential wonder. The victory was decisive by virtue of the Blue and Whites' absolute inability to gain yardage. Only because Henderson neglected his offensive to perfect his defensive was U.S.C. unable to score oftener.

What success Stanton's men will have against these hard-charging U. S.C. forwards is altogether problematical. Kirkpatrick is heavy and getting to be a hitter. Smith is fast and elusive. Curtis and Norton are rounding into form, and the combination may spring a surprise against the Trojans. What the Tigers have in the way of fakes will not be disclosed to the public until the tussle is on next Saturday.

SECRET PRACTICE.

Secret practice is the order of the day at the Tigers' lair. Civilians are persona non grata on Patterson Field. Taint like the good old days, when Oxy had an open-faced arena over on Highland Park. The overlunged college yell leaders used to implore you to come out and lend your encouragement to the men who were giving their all for the sake of the college's honor. Now, "studes" are tabooed along with the rest of the hicks.

Concerning the chances with U. S.C. next Saturday, the "Fix" is enigmatical.

"I can't figure my team," he says. "It's the first time in all my coaching career that I haven't been able to estimate my team's capabilities."

Which is where we were before we started.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BERKELEY, Oct. 25.—California's golden bear has been returned to the campus. The bear, former emblem of the rugby football team, was placed in discard several years ago but recently was stolen by several students of Stanford under the impression that the bear was cherished highly by the Californians.

In order to enforce the agreement between the two institutions that neither campus would be invaded by the rival college, President Wilbur ordered the bear returned. It has been covered with coat of red paint.

To prove that the bear has no longer any traditional importance, it is now in Strawberry Creek where it will remain indefinitely. No longer will it be gilded and kept in the fine condition which distinguished it in the days of the rugby team. The bear is the last of the relics which were so respected before the revival of American football.

Could Take in Both.

"You know, old man, I was going to ask you to dinner with me tonight but I just heard Smith remark that you were going to eat with him." "Oh—what time do you eat?" "Six o'clock." "Well, that's all right, old boy. Smith doesn't eat till seven."—[Exchange.

BOWLING NOTES.

NEWSPAPERS IN SPAIN FIGHT GENERAL UNION

"Suppose you will have some trouble finding a good bat here for fence busting work?" we resumed after the foregoing mental excursion

"Why, I'll hardly call on the clubs here for bats as I have brought two with me in my trunk. They are made of ebony and weigh five pounds each."

At this juncture, Buck Weaver, getting a nod from Babe, sidled up to the slugger who whispered a word or two to him.

"Bungalows? yes all you want, and at fifty bucks" informed Weaver the world's greatest third sacker.

DOYLE'S BOW.

Master Gene Doyle then butted in with a bow that would have put Charley Pike out of conceit with himself, and suggested a trip to the boxing matches at Doyle's after supper.

"Do ladies attend?" smiled Mrs. Ruth, and when informed that they did she added: "That would be capital, George."

Then Babe for the first time discovered that he had a keen eye for the Hogarthian line of beauty, for he rubbed his chin and cheeks apologetically and purred with a provincial twang: "Gee, I'm not shaved."

This brought the good-humored dispersal fair Mrs. Ruth, who look somewhat with how could you?"

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

DEL MONTE (Cal.) Oct. 28.—That too many rules exist in football as played today was voiced here over the week-end, when three famous old stars of the gridiron got together in a fannng bee. There were Jim Rodgers, who was a celebrated tackle for Yale in 1897; B. L. Thane, quarter-back for the California eleven which defeated Stanford in 1898, and Sam Morse, sturdy half-back, who captained Yale in 1906. "I do not believe that football commands that same interest and attractiveness that was the case some years ago," said Thane.

"The trouble, to my way of thinking, is that so many rules have been manufactured that the opportunities for a variety of plays is necessarily limited. The initiativeness of a player is curtailed because of the predominance of so many rules. When we were playing the game, we were permitted more latitude in carrying the ball, and I believe that we put on more attractive contests for the spectators."

Rodgers and Morse agreed with the California football star. Rodgers, who is now a dignified and influential business man of New York City, is paying a visit to California, and expects to take in some of the big contests on the Coast. He is remembered by Yale men as being one of the best tackles who ever represented the "Blue." He has been way from football for a number of years, as have Thane and Morse, but all three of the veterans naturally keep pace with the new rules and regulations and retain their interest in the great American sport.

YELLOW RACES MAKE BIG GAIN IN NORTHERN MEXICAN STATES

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CALEXICO, Oct. 28.—The presence in Calexico of a group of thirty-five Chinese calls attention to very interesting statistics regarding the northern district of Lower California in view of the fact that Gov. Cantu has issued a proclamation barring Asiatics from the territory and that the Chinese government has taken it up with Mexico City.

According to the official figures taken from the census of 1909, the last to be taken in the territory as a whole, the northern district had 8500 inhabitants. It is stated by persons in authority that figures now are men, women and children, all races, 19,000.

The Chinese population is very close to 6000 and there are about 800 Japanese, in both cases those being enumerated are only of the male sex. There are few Chinese women in the district and fewer Japanese.

Subtracting the number of Asiatics from the total number of inhabitants and estimating the number of men of the white races in the district, making the estimate by the universal rule of one adult male to five adult females and children, there are fewer white males than adults of the yellow race in the district.

This fact sums up in brief the contentions of those who object to the Asiatics, and is said to be the real reason for the proclamation by Gov. Cantu of a suspension of Japanese and Chinese immigration. In this, Gov. Cantu followed the example of the Governors of Sonora and Sinoloa States in refusing to admit within the borders of those States since two years ago members of the yellow race.

CLAIMS DAMAGES AGAINST OFFICER.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VISALIA, Oct. 28.—As the result of an attempt to serve a writ of execution and take possession of her sewing machine, Mrs. Katie Parks has filed suit for damages in the sum of $10,000 against Frank S. Myers, constable of the Angiola township, and C. J. Dyer, agent for the Singer Sewing Machine Company.

Mrs. Parks declares in her complaint that the actions of the two men, who forced their way into her home without due process of law, were such as to cause her severe illness. As a result of this illness, and for general reparation the sum is asked for which suit is brought.

SUBMIT DISPUTE TO RAILROAD COMMISSION

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BEAUMONT, Oct. 28.—The directors of the newly-formed irrigation district and the two water companies, the Beaumont Land and Water Company and the San Gorgonio Water Company, having failed to agree upon a price for the value of the holdings to be acquired from the companies, the Railroad Commission will hold a meeting on December 4, in the Beaumont City Hall, where a hearing will be given to all parties. The meeting is the result of an application for an appraisal made by the directors of the water district, and will result in the Commission's fixing a definite price for the properties.

GIRL LEADS OFFICERS A WILD GOOSE CHASE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, Oct. 29.—Annie Stanford, a 20-year-old girl arrested here on a charge of shoplifting and later turned over to the juvenile office, has caused the officers no end of trouble in attempting to locate her home and relatives. While being interrogated in connection with the shoplifting charge, the girl said her home was in Pomona. A few minutes later she said she lived in Ontario. Next she gave a Los Angeles address and it was found that there was no such street and number.

She later admitted that the Ontario and Pomona addresses given first were not true. Apparently becoming frightened she admitted she had not told the truth and gave a new address which took the officers to a ravine near the edge of the city where there was no house within a quarter of a mile. The girl also told several places where she had worked but it is not believed that she has given correct information. She is being held pending further investigation.

LOBBY FOR BILL.

Committee From Imperial Valley Goes to Washington.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

EL CENTRO, Oct. 28.—President J. S. Nickerson, of the Imperial Irrigation Board; Director R. D. McPherrin, Arthur M. Nelson and Walter B. Kibbey, of the American Legion, and O. N. Shaw, of the Committee of Fifteen, constitute the second delegation of the Imperial Valley to Washington to work in the interests of the Kettner bill, as amended, providing for storage in the Colorado river and the construction of an all-American canal.

The Committee of Fifteen also adopted a resolution stating that any action taken by the Secretary of the Interior in inserting a storage amendment in the Kettner bill would meet with the full approval of the committee.

Following the Committee of Fifteen's meeting, the committee met with the District Board and named the delegation. Most of the members expect to leave within a week. Each is pledged to work for the passage of the Kettner bill, as amended by the Mead conference, and with the storage amendment added.

FROST SPECIALIST.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, Oct. 28.—F. D. Young, government frost specialist, who has been in Pomona for the last two seasons conducting experiments which have been of great value to the orange growers, is expected to arrive within a few days to spend the coming winter in this section. Mr. Young will be in charge of the government work done in co-operation with the growers to prevent damage to the orange and lemon crop of the Pomona Valley. Last winter he gathered a large amount of data and prepared many sets of charts from the observations. In a dispatch from San Francisco announcing that he was leaving the northern coast for Southern California, the statement is made that Mr. Young is prepared to show that frost is more liable to come near to the ground than at the tops of the trees, and that the government expects to reduce the loss of fruit by freezing to a minimum this winter.

FLYER AT REDLANDS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Oct. 28.—Lieut. Harold George, who was in charge of the recent great transcontinental flight of government airships, was here yesterday with his wife to call on Senator Lyman M. King. Lieut George was one of the men in charge of training work at the great aviation base near Tours, France, when Senator King was there in charge of the business offices of one department of the Y.M.C.A., working in that aviation camp.

In that way they became well acquainted and Mrs. George did a great deal of work for Senator King as a stenographer. They say that Southern California is the most wonderful country they have ever seen. Lieut. George was intensely pleased at the showing made by Maynard, the flying parson in the flight, for Maynard was a pupil of his.

HE'S POOR PENITENT.

Although she sewed to earn her living while her husband was away and not supporting her, Mrs. Sarah May Case told Judge Taft in divorce proceedings against Paul T. Case yesterday that when he returned he asked her to forgive him.

She said: "He appeared humble, and I told him all right. Then he complained because I did not have meat for his meal. I had been sewing and earning my living while he was away, and I told him I could not afford to buy meat."

They quarreled and separated, she said. He told her, she related, that if she should get a divorce he would injure her.

Mrs. Case was granted a divorce and alimony of $25 a month.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

TULARE, Oct. 28.—Harry Hale, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Hale of Des Moines, Ia., owes his life to a nondescript mongrel dog which he picked up while crossing the desert on a motor trip with his parents to San Francisco. Near Lebec, while the boy was running about the sand a short distance from the machine, a desert rattler coiled to strike him. The dog jumped in just in time to receive the blow on his leg. Prompt action on the part of the boy, who remembered his Boy Scout training in first aid, was probably responsible for saving the dog, a veterinary here declared.

Alamitos Bay to Become Part of Long Beach.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, Oct. 28.—Magnus Christensen, a San Pedro shipyard worker, suffering from melancholia as a result of an incurable disease, is believed to have committed suicide at or near this city, according to a report made to the local police today by the man's wife. She told the police she had received a letter from her husband, postmarked Long Beach, in which he announced to her he had decided to take his own life because of his poor health. The police have instituted a search for the body.

Christensen is about 35 years old, and has three children. Arrangements were made by Mrs. Christensen to have the body removed to a local undertaking parlor in the event it is found here. She expressed the opinion that her husband would undoubtedly carry out his threat.

TO ANNEX SUBURBS.

City Commissioners were today presented with a petition signed by more than 50 per cent. of the residents of the district involved, for the annexation of Alamitos Bay, on the eastern borders of Long Beach. The legislative body will take steps for the calling of the annexation election at once, it was stated at the City Hall.

An election calling for the voting of $490,000 in bonds for the erection of new schools and construction of additions to others will be held in Long Beach Thursday. No outward opposition has developed to the issue.

ON NORMAL BASIS

Officials of the Long Beach Shipbuilding Company announced today that the local plant, with 1300 out of a regular force of 2200 men back at work, was practically now working on a normal basis, all effects of the recent walkout having been overcome. The present force will not be materially increased, it was announced.

ASKS TO BE SENT BACK TO PRISON.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

JACKSON, Oct. 28.—John Schofield, under parole after conviction in Riverside county of murder, surrendered ihimself today to Sheriff George Lucot and asked to be returned to Folsom prison.

Schofield said he had in no way violated his parole, but lived in fear of committing some crime, and believed he would be safer in prison. Sheriff Lucot asked by telephone the advice of the warden of Folsom prison, who referred him to the State Prison Board, whose decision Lucot is awaiting.

TEACHERS DECLARE AGAINST UNIONS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 28.—H. B. Wilson, Superintendent of Schools at Berkeley, declared at this morning's session of the Santa Barbara County Teachers' Institute that half the subjects taught in secondary schools are never used in after life. He indorsed the new State speller, in which the list of words has been cut from 12,000 to 2000, and believes that similar pruning should follow in the geography, which compels pupils to learn about the width and depth of rivers and they do not have time to learn general geographical world relations.

Organizers are expected here in an attempt to form a teachers' union, but sentiment is believed to be against this step. Resolutions condemning teachers' unions are predicted. Dr. Silas Evans, president of Occidental College, will deliver the principal address tomorrow, which is the last day of the institute.

RECORD PRICES.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BLYTHE, Oct. 28.—Cotton raisers of this district are jubilant. Several bales sold this week at $41.50 per hundredweight, and some ranchers are refusing to sell even at this figure, as it is reported that short staple sold in Yuma as high as 44 cents a pound.

Monday morning both gins here announced an advance of $3 a ton for cotton-seed, making the local price $50 per ton. The yards at both gins are piled high with cotton waiting its turn, and ranchers who have already disposed of their product are being requested to hold it till further accommodation is available.

Giving the World Its Own Six

The Alps had to be crossed.

—The Electric Auto-Lite, occupying extensive factories at Toledo, O. and Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; standard equipment on twice as many automobiles as that of any other lighting and starting system; with orders on hand demanding a production of 4,000 sets per day throughout 1920:

The new Six added another great industry to the group and demanded a great plant of its own. The plant of the Duesenberg Motors Company at Elizabeth, N. J.—formed a nucleus. Its capacity had been doubled to build war-motors. It was purchased, and, its war-capacity is being increased many fold.

Here, or at other plants controlled by and closely allied to the Willys Corporation, practically every item entering into the building of the Six—from raw material to finished product—will be produced.

The new plant, when completed, will have a capacity of 400 to 500 completed Sixes per day.

And a wonderful achievement the new Six is—a small car, 112 inch wheel base, with new economies for even that class, yet with all the roadability and comfort of the luxurious extravagant cars with 30 inches larger wheel-base. The radically new principle of spring suspension accounts for much of this.

New efficiencies are developed in the engine. The car has averaged 17 to 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline for over 200,000 miles of usage. Every feature has had 2 years of proving—200,000 miles, from boulevards to boulders.

A car for the eye as well as the purse—Pride of Ownership Stamped All Over It.

Anyone desiring further information about the plans and car program of the Willys Corporation should write for our booklet.

BULLSEYE'S PLANS.

PRESIDENT ARRIVES TOMORROW TO TELL OF PROJECT.

By Grace Kingsley.

There is to be no dearth of screen thrills and comedy if the Bullseye Comedy Company has anything to say about it. That husky young corporation, with its newly-occupied studios on Santa Monica boulevard, has some interesting plans ahead for expansion, which will be divulged when President Cohen of the organization arrives from New York tomorrow, when he will confer with Manager Nat Spitzer regarding the future plans of the company.

At present the organization has two comedy companies at work, one featuring Gaie Henry, the other The Billy West Company, which has just made a picture featuring Billy West, with Grace Gordon, Florence Gilbert and Milton Morante. The Morante company has leased the Balboa studio at Long Beach, where they began work last Monday, Mr Morante being a newly-blossomed star who promises much popularity. Besides, the comedy company has a new serial which has just been commenced, promising many thrills to the square inch.

Manager Spitzer announces the acquisition of a new and promising "find" in Grace Gordon, a clever young player whom he discovered while she was playing small parts with the Jay Bee Comedy Company. In fact, it was while Miss Gordon was playing an especially clever bit in a Jay Bee comedy one day about a month ago, whilst Manager Spitzer watched from the sidelines, that the youthful comedienne so impressed him that he inquired who she was and later engaged her. Then he telegraphed President Cohen in New York that he had secured a "find" and that she was being held by the company for a personal interview with him. Miss Gordon has received a number of offers, but it is likely she will accept the one presented by Bullseye, to feature her in her own productions.

Has Real Ghost.

Just one of the niftiest Halloween parties to be given in the whole wide world, probably, is that with which Clara Kimball Young will entertain a dozen of her friends Friday night at her beautiful new home on Western avenue.

The big feature of the party is to be a real live ghost! Or wouldn't you speak of a ghost as "live?" That is, the ghost has been invited. Whether it (Miss Young doesn't know the ghost's sex) will accept the invitation or not depends, probably, on whether said ghost would naturally enjoy a party, or whether it's a retiring, sour old ghost. Miss Young is inclined to believe it's a very clubby sort of ghost, from the way it just haunts and haunts her and her family at times.

Because you see the ghost is one belonging to a house at the beach which Miss Young occupies sometimes between pictures and during week-ends. She declares the ghost's long suit is "three knocks and an occasional groan."

"We haven't seen anything of it yet, and it hasn't clanked any chains," said Miss Young, "and if it does. I'm going to buy some oil and tell it to oil 'em. I can stand knocks and groans but not clanking. It's a very bidable ghost. If it gets to rapping too hard, we just tell it to go into the other room, and it goes. Of course we can't tell anything about its former station in life, but a ghost is a ghost, and being the only one on my calling list we can't afford not to invite it to my party."

Doug, Jr., Explains.

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., is feeling very serious these days, and writes to his famous dad to explain. It's all about that story which appeared a short time ago in a New York paper in which it was stated that Doug Fairbanks, Jr., had wrecked hotel where he was stopping in Atlantic City.

Said Douglas, Sr., yesterday: "My son now writes to explain that it wasn't he at all that wrecked the hotel, but the boy that was playing with him. 'Why, dad,' writes my son, 'I never did it at all. I was playing cowboy with Tommy Jones in the messanine floor, and I just roped him and jerked him down the stairs, and over and balustrade, and on the way down he just knocked against the chandelier and against the balustratepost and whacked them all to simthereens. So you can see I'm not to blame at all!'"

Mason Star Real Hero.

Richard Tucker, who is playing those two highly difficult roles of the American boy and the Prussian officer in "Under Orders" at the Mason, really served through the late war, and has a nice little scar to show for it. Also, as he was a prisoner for a short time in a German prison camp, he had a good chance to build up an idea of the Prussian officer's manners and habits, and this has indeed been an invaluable aid to him in his present role.

An interesting feature of Mr. Tucker's performance of the double role is the fact that the two men are supposed to be almost perfect likenesses of each other physically, hence the characterization depends entirely on subtleties of speech and manner for its differentiation.

Houdini to Flit.

There's to be a long procession of cameras traveling the globe, if all the stars who announce they are going to take pictures abroad really carry out their promises. Now it's Houdini, Famous Players Lasky star, who announces that in 1922 he will start on a tour of the world to make a thrilling mystery adventure picture in the countries he visits. Houdini is now at work at the Lasky studio on his second Paramount-Artcraft production under the direction of James Cruze. Mr. Houdini will sail for Great Britain on December 16 on the "Muretania." He will spend six months playing his Moss Empire contracts that have been postponed from 1915, and during his stay in England will make two pictures.

Sounds Reasonable.

Jack Holt, of the all-star cast filming "The Best of Luck," for Screen Classics, Inc., is fond of horseback riding, and owns a thoroughbred. He uses this horse in the Drury Lane melodrama, and because of this was unable to enter it in the Los Angeles horse show.

"Disappointed? I should say he was," was Mr. Holt's rejoinder. "Why, I had to buy him two pairs of shoes to pacify him, and you know what shoes cost these days!"

California Deal Complete.

Negotiations for the purchase of the California Theater by the Goldwyn Film Corporation which were started while Samuel Goldwyn, president of the films organization, was here about a month ago were completed yesterday and the new owners of the theater will take possession next Monday. This big deal was announced in these columns some weeks ago, but it was not confirmed until last night.

S. L. Rothapfel, creator of the programmes at the Rialto, Rivoli Strand theaters in New York City and acknowledged to be the leading exhibitor of moving pictures in the world, has been engaged for an indefinite period and is planning to inaugurate the same presentation ideas that made him his world-wide reputation.

The theater is to be closed for a period of five days starting Monday while many improvements and changes suggested by Mr. Rothapfel are put into effect. One of the things he will do will be to increase the already large orchestra to forty pieces made up of the best musicians it is possible to secure. The present leader, Carli D. Elinor, will continue as the conductor of the orchestra, but as Mr. Rothapfel makes a big specialty of music in his presentations it is expected that the public will be given something extraordinary along this line.

It is understood that the new owners of the California are negotiating with the "Big Four" pictures, but no information is as yet forthcoming as to whether the pictures starring Pickford, Chaplin, Fairbanks and the Griffith features will continue to be shown at the theater or not.

Fred Miller, Harry Leonhardt and Roy Miller who opened the California, are to continue in their present capacities, for the new owners are fully aware that it was due to the expert showmanship of these men that the California Theater became so popular a place of amusement in Los Angeles.

Jack Pickford Loses Skins.

Jack Pickford is mourning the loss of a half dozen beautiful gray squirrel skins. The pretty pelts with their silvery tails were drying on the roof of the cottage which he occupied at Keen Camp in the San Jacinto Mountains while his company were residing recently in that location. A defective flue in a nearby cottage caused no small conflagration, for Jack Pickford's cottage, several large barns, a score of massive pine trees and the brush of a good-sized mountain went up in hot flames. The players turned fire fighters and after carrying water, digging ditches with the forest rangers and standing guard of the burning ruins all night, it occured to Jack Pickford that he had lost his precious squirrel skins.

"That's a real disappointment to me," says the youthful star. "Of course, I could buy some more, but I was proud of those because I shot them myself. They would have made a pretty fur turban for Olive." The latter, of course, being friend wife, Olive Thomas.

Olive Thomas has New Play.

And speaking of Olive Thomas, that young woman is shortly to come West to make a film version of "Out of the Night," in which she will be directed by Ralph Ince.

Miss MacDonald's Latest.

Manager Sam Rork announces that Katherine MacDonald's latest picture, a film version of the famous novel by the Williamsons, "The Guests of Hercules," will offer his star some of the best opportunities that have so far come her way. The heroine, educated in a convent, wavers 'twixt duty and inclination—her duty being the life of a religieuse her inclination that of a gambler, a vicious inheritance from her father. However, she wants to see the world, she drifts to Monte Carlo, she lives and she gambles, but through it all she keeps her sweet and innocent purity of heart. A strong love interest runs through "The Guests of Hercules." Work on the new story will begin in a few days at the Georgia-street studio.

YOUTH'S RECORD BAD.

Stole Three Autos, Broke From Custody Three Times.

Stole three automobiles, escaped from jail, broke out of Juvenile Hall and is supposed to have escaped from a Kansas reform school—that is the record of Alvin Ernest, fifteen years of age, according to the report to Judge Reeve yesterday by the probation officer. Ernest told the judge that he had given a false name when arrested and that his real name is Orly Ortie. The probation officers will look further into his record and the judge remanded him to Juvenile Hall for another week.

Ernest, or Ortie stole his first machine at Pomona and when it ran out of gasoline took another in the same town and drove to San Bernardino, where he was arrested while parking it in front of the jail. He escaped from jail, stole another car and drove to Riverside, where he was recaptured. Another attempt to break jail failed. He was more successful when brought to Los Angeles for he ran away from Juvenile Hall but was caught again.

STEALS DICTIONARY.

Boy Says One at School Too Big So He Robbed Store.

Arthur Arsenault of 822 West Forty-third street was before Judge Reeve yesterday charged with stealing a dictionary from the Broadway Department Store. The boy told the court that the school dictionary was too large and that the one at the store was just his size. The judge stated that it was a new method of acquiring knowledge. The lad was placed on probation and told to use the school dictionaries when he needed to know more about words.

MUSICAL.

QUARTETTE OPENS PROGRAM SERIES AT EBELL.

By Edwin Schallert.

Now that we have in our midst a symphony orchestra, which measures up with the finest, it is a rare delight to know that there is also in Los Angeles a string quartette which has achieved a reputation throughout the country. The Zoellners opened their second season of ten concerts last evening at the Ebell Club auditorium and though there were few vacant seats, this organization is deserving of even better patronage than was vouchsafed at their first programme of the season. The Zoellners are on a par with the best organizations in the country both in the selection of their concert numbers and in the method of presentation.

One thing that is evident above all others in their work is their unanimity of style, whether it be Beethoven, of whom they played the Opus 18, No. 2, last evening, or Tschachowski, whose Opus 11 graced their programme. They have that common feeling that grows out of close relationship in music. It is a rare delight to hear a quartette of players who so closely measure their talents each by the other.

The programme which they presented adhered to that mould which is familiar to the concertgoer. I do not deny the effectiveness of such a choice for an opening event. There was only one novelty, the "Sunrise Song," by Charles Skilton, on an Indian theme, which was given its first performance. Both in this and the other numbers which they presented, they won the high approval of the audience.

The Zoellners adhere to tradition but they do not burden us with conventionalities; therefore, their concerts always hold an interest that is exceptional.

Theater to Close.

The California Theater will be closed for five days, following the engagement of "Fair and Warmer," which closes next Sunday night, and many improvements will be completed under the direction of S. L. Rothapfel, who is to be director-general of the house for an indefinite period. Mr. Rothapfel is the creator of programmes for the Rivoli, Rialto and Strand theaters in New York City and is acknowledged to be a leading exhibitor.

Among the many things that will be done at the California will be the augmenting of the orchestra to forty pieces, making it the largest theater orchestra on the Coast. It will continue to be under the leadership of Carli D. Elinor, but, as Mr. Rothapfel specializes in music in his original presentation of photoplays, the musical features of the California Theater, it is expected, will be one of its biggest attractions. Mr. Rothapfel has chosen the picture, "The Flame of the Desert," as his opening presentation.

UTICA (N. Y.) Oct. 28. — Utica was quiet tonight following a riot here early today by striking textile and clothing workers during which five persons were shot by the police. The wounded were members of a mob of strikers which attacked a police squad of twenty-seven officers on duty at the textile plant.

A Great Remedy.

The merits of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy are well known and appreciated, but there is occasionally a man who has no acquaintance with them and should read the following by F. H. Council Committee Discusses Housing Plan for Waiting Automobiles

After a long conference on the traffic congestion in the downtown district, the Public Safety Committee of the City Council yesterday decided to ask the traffic bureau of the police department to prepare and submit a report outlining a semi-business zone in which standing of automobiles may be regulated.

The idea was discussed of encouraging the erection by private parties of buildings of concrete to be used exclusively for the housing of cars. Recently the Council referred to the Board of Public Utilities a recommendation of the Board of Trade of Inglewood that all parking of automobiles be prohibited on Hill, Broadway and Spring streets, from First to Ninth streets.

The committee decided to confer representatives of the traffic bureau and of the Wholesale Dry Goods Association of Los Angeles, and with it next Monday afternoon discuss plans recently presented by the association for the relief of delivery vehicle situation.

COST OF FOREST FIRES IS HEAVY.

Bill Now Being Figured will Show Damage Worst in Reserve's History.

Figures now being prepared by Supervisor Charlton of the Angeles National Reserve on the cost of the recent disastrous forest fires in the San Gabriel and Pacoima canyons indicate that the history of the national reserve can show nothing so costly. It is believed that the bill, when all the items are audited will show an expense of not less than $150,000.

DEATH CLAIMS CITY TREASURER'S WIFE.

Mrs. Adeline Powell, wife of N. T. Powell, City Treasurer, died suddenly yesterday forenoon at their home, 1721 South Burlington avenue. Funeral arrangements are not yet completed, but the body will be laid to rest at Santa Barbara.

Mrs. Powell suffered from the influenza last winter, and since that time had been subject to attacks of ill health. Early yesterday morning she suffered from heart trouble, but recovered, and was feeling so well that Mr. Powell left as usual for his duties at the City Hall. Early in the forenoon, however, there came a recurrence of the heart trouble, and death followed. Mr. and Mrs. Powell had been married about twenty-four years. There are no children.

RUESS COMING BACK.

"Wild Bill" Takes Poultry Prizes and will Race Again.

W. R. ("Wild Bill") Ruess, winner of the Baldy automobile road race and holder of that record, sprung a surprise on his friends at the recent Live-stock Show by taking first and second pullet, first and second pen and third, fourth and fifth cockerel in the Cornish Indian Game class.

This was his first exhibit, as he has only been in the poultry business for a few months.

"Look out for me a little later on," said he yesterday. "I've got the ribbons to show I won in the poultry show. Now I'm coming back into the automobile game with a car that will stand these fellows on their head. That's enough said Watch our smoke."

FOR PATENT PAVING.

Warren Brothers Company, whose patented paving mixture is used in the improvement of many of the city's streets, yesterday filed with the City Council its agreement to furnish this material at certain fixed prices to all contractors bidding on city work. The prices quoted are 76 cents per square yard for surfaces of two inches in thickness, and 69 cents per square yard for surfaces one and one-half inches in thickness. This applies to all parts of the city, the former zone system of charges being abandoned.

URGES EFFORTS TO KEEP DEPOT.

Mayor Asks Business Men to Wire Our Congressmen.

Quartermaster Business Now Large Asset to City.

Pressure Needed to Prevent Local Office Closing.

Reviewing the efforts of the city administration and of the Chamber of Commerce to obtain nullification of the order closing the local quartermaster depot, Mayor Snyder says:

"We are doing all in our power to get this order revoked through our representatives at Washington. San Diego has promised to assist us and Congressman Kettner, who represents that district, has wired me that he will take the matter up with Secretary of War Baker.

"The Chamber of Commerce has done, and is doing, all that it can to get the order rescinded, but I believe there is room for individual action as well, and I urge every business man in the city, for this is a matter which directly concerns the business men, to wire our Washington representatives. The more pressure we can bring to bear on Washington, the more probable will be our success."

Washington officials give as the reason for closing the local depot the fact that the cost of operation of the Los Angeles office of the quartermaster has been in excess of the amount of purchases made by this depot.

NEW SYSTEM NOW

Under the new system of disbursements, however, which has been in operation since October 1, the business handled through this office has more than doubled, and expenditures for the month, and for the coming months, are in excess of $500,000, a total of about $6,000,000 per year, as compared with an average of $3,000,000 per year since the establishment of the quartermaster depot in Los Angeles in 1917. The operating expenses of the local office have been reduced by 29 per cent. during the past year, and it is believed that when the office is firmly established on a peace-time basis, expenses can be further reduced.

In order to handle the growing business of the local depot, a lease has just been concluded with F. W. Braun for the rental of a warehouse building at 906 to 920 East Third street. This building has three stories and a basement, and commands a rental of $950 per month.

The quartermaster depot has received the authorization to request bids for local manufacturers for 500,000 pounds of wheat flour and the bids are now being forwarded to flour manufacturers of Southern California. The value of this contract is estimated conservatively at $25,000.

OTHER THINGS NEEDED.

Bids are also to be received by the local office for a wide variety of spices, canned and cured meats, canned fruit and vegetables, dried fruits, sugar and articles of general use, such as chewing gum, cigarette papers, bluing, toothpaste and talcum powder. On account of the great variety of merchandise enumerated in this schedule, many manufacturers will be afforded the opportunity to get this business. The amount at which these contracts would be valued cannot be estimated on account of the numerous and varied articles specified, but it is believed this business will amount to several hundred thousand dollars.

Bids for these articles will be opened at San Francisco at the same time they are opened here, and consequently if this business is to be obtained by Southern California, merchants and manufacturers here will compete with manufacturers of the northen part of the State. A comparison of the list of requirements of the Quartermaster Department, as shown by this request for bids, with the list of articles canned or manufactured in Southern California, as compiled by the Chamber of Commerce, shows Los Angeles and the surrounding towns are in a very favorable position to compete and that many of these articles can be manufactured here. It is hoped that when the distribution of these requests for bids has been accomplished by the local office of the quartermaster, local manufacturers will enter their bids, because if this business, or a large part of it, is handled by the Los Angeles office, its position here will be greatly strengthened

GIRL DESERTS HOME.

Caught Smoking, Suspended from School, She Runs Away.

Because Irene Franger of 3218 Fir street, Graham Station, and three other girls were suspended from school for indulging in a little smoke, she left home Monday, according to a report to the Sheriff's office yesterday by the girl's father, C. C. Franger.

The girl, said the father, left a note asking him to advertise for her when her mother returned from the East, but not to try to find her in the meantime. An attempt is being made to locate her, nevertheless.

TRIAL GROWING FROM STRIKE IS DELAYED.

Upon the request of J. H. Ryckman, attorney for William Goldberg, accused of disturbing the peace near Covina at the time of the strike of orange pickers in Janary, the trial was continued yesterday.

Goldberg was convicted in the court of Justice Reed of Covina of "disturbing the peace by offensive conduct, threatening, traducing, quarreling, challenging to fight and fighting." He was granted a new trial by Judge Taft, August 25, and the case was set for trial yesterday before Judge Willis. Continuance was taken to November 28.

SWELL ROOSEVELT FUND

Total of Nearly Four Thousand Dollars is Reported Locally.

Poured in from the pockets of laborers, and given in generous sums from people in more affluent circumstances, the sum of $3800 has been raised to date in this city for the Roosevelt memorial fund. This announcement was made yesterday by Miss Mary E. Smith, campaign manager for Los Angeles county, who stated that this sum is exclusive of contributions that have been given at the various banks of the city.

The campaign will be continued until Saturday, inclusive. After that date announcement will be made of the grand total raised in Southern California, and specifically in Los Angeles city and county.

It was pointed out yesterday at headquarters, 311 H. W. Hellman Building, and 509 South Spring street, that the $3800 raised at the two headquarters is a free will offering, no pressure having been brought to bear upon the people to give to the cause.

FOR NEW CITIZENS.

Diplomas to be Given Tonight; Americanization Programme.

A celebration for new citizens will be held tonight in the auditorium of the Central Evening High School, 451 North Hill street, when the diplomas and naturalization papers will be given to a number of students who have just completed the course. An Americanization programme has been planned by the faculty, in which a number of students in costume will give several numbers.

The naturalized citizens will be given their papers by R. A. Shafer, assistant superintendent of schools, and Frederick Jones, naturalization examiner. Melville Dozier, member of the Board of Education, will present the diplomas awarded by the city schools.

WANT NEW SCHOOLS.

Owensmouth and Van Nuys Request Funds for Improvements.

At the request of the local authorities in Owensmouth and Van Nuys members of the Board of Supervisors yesterday investigated their requests for additional funds for improvements. The Supervisors found that Van Nuys wants a sixteen-room building at a cost of $110,000 and that Owensmouth needs additional ground. Marion, also, it was found, needs about $10,000 to fix up the High School.

TESTS FOR FIREMEN.

Oral promotional examinations will be held by the City Civil Service Commission today for 139 firemen who have served four years in the fire department. Written examination of these candidates has been held previously. These men will aspire to places on the eligible list for appointment as lieutenants.

SENTENCE FIREBUG.

For the burning of insured property, Tony Mircelli was sentenced to from one year to ten in San Quentin, yesterday, by Judge Willis. The case of Nick Rossi, jointly accused, was continued until Friday. Mircelli was previously convicted of the charge.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR RED CROSS CAMPAIGN.

COMMUNITY COUNCILS READY FOR DRIVE TO INCREASE LOCAL MEMBERSHIP.

Preliminary plans for the Red Cross membership drive, which opens here Sunday, were completed yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the precinct chairmen of the community councils of Los Angeles, the chairmen of the county community councils and representatives of the several city clubs. The campaign is to be known as the $1 membership drive and will be conducted during November, by the community council workers.

At the meeting yesterday, members of the executive board of the local Red Cross society explained what has been done with the funds already raised in this city. A large part of this money, it was stated, has been expended here by the society.

Posters, Red Cross 1920 buttons and window emblems were distributed to the workers yesterday, and they were given full instructions regarding the work of securing the funds. A thorough canvass for members will be made of all the city's industrial plants. Mrs. J. T. Anderson, chairman of the neighborhood division of the drive, presided at the meeting.

The community council has a large membership, Mrs. Anderson said, and all the members will become workers during the campaign.

GOES TO PRISON ON CHARGE OF ASSAULT.

George Anderson, 20 years old, was convicted yesterday by a jury in Judge Craig's court and was sentenced to San Quentin for from one to two years, for assault with a deadly weapon upon Arthur Gibeaut, a taxicab driver.

He was accused of assault with intent to commit murder, which carries a penalty of from one to fourteen years in prison. Anderson told his attorney, Robert J. Adcock, that he desired to "take his medicine" at once and was sentenced.

Charles Johnson, who was jointly accused with Anderson of luring the taxicab driver to a lonely spot on the Venice boulevard on July 18 and shooting him, was sent back to Colorado to serve a thirty-five-year sentence in the penitentiary there.

ANNEXATION ELECTION.

Voters in the St. Francis Heights district, adjacent to Annandale, will have a special election on December 2 on the proposition to annex their territory to Los Angeles. The City Council yesterday adopted the ordinances calling this election. Forty qualified voters of the district have petitioned for this action, which is more than the required number. The territory proposed to be annexed squares up the boundary lines of that portion of the city, and included territory that can be served with water from the highest reservoirs in that district.

ORDER MAMMOTH FLAG FOR PARK OBSERVANCE

CITY'S FALLEN HEROES TO BE REMEMBERED AT ARMISTICE DAY CELEBRATION.

The largest flag that has ever been made in the city of Los Angeles will be used in the decorative scheme for the double celebration to be held at Exposition Park, Armistice Day, November 11, when the service men of the city will pay tribute to the women who helped them so much in the war and the city in turn will pay tribute to the service men for their heroic efforts.

The flag is forty by twenty-four feet, and made of the heaviest silk. The order for the flag was placed yesterday by F. W. Blanchard, chairman of the general committee in charge of the celebration.

This is but one flag that Mr. Blanchard ordered. One will be a "gold glory" flag. This will be made of white silk with a gold star and will be presented to Mayor Snyder in honor of the fallen heroes of Los Angeles. Another will be the woman's flag, also of white silk, but with a special design commemorating the work of women during the war and a third will be a regular service flag. The woman's flag will be presented to a committee from the Red Cross and the service flag to a committee from the American Legion. All the flags will be eventually presented to the city.

OUR MESSAGE TO LABOR

THE WORLD is entering the fourth cycle of its development in which certain elements now called idealistic will take a firmer hold upon business. The three cycles we have passed through are the Creation, the Flood, and the Crucifixion.

THIS new cycle will require us to become a more economically united people, that we drop animosities, and "Live and let live," and that we consider production as a moral issue.

To function harmoniously with this progressive cycle each of us must align ourselves with Principle, become internationally minded and realize that we are a part of all existing reality. We must permit conscience to permeate our endeavors and as we thus take our place in the great co-partnership of social democracy wherein the capital of brain, the capital of money, the capital of labor and the general public works out their conflicting policies in a manner happily acceptable to all, we as individuals will be executing out trustee-ship with our neighbors, our world and our Creator.

TO AID UNBORN BABY OF LEPER.

Rare Affliction Works Woe on Victim's Family.

"Visit" Her Through Knothole in High Fence.

To provide for the future of the unborn baby of a woman leper, prominent clubwomen and ladies of the Episcopal churches of this city are quietly raising a little fund under the direction of Mrs. Harry Snyder of 902 East Edgeware road.

The afflicted mother-to-be is Mrs. Eunice Hutchinson, a British subject, who came here early last spring, from Chicago, with her husband and two little daughters, aged 4 and 6 years. Shortly after her arrival she began developing symptoms of leprosy, and her case was clearly defined within a few weeks. The city health department sent her to the leprosy bungalow at the County Hospital, where there is one other woman victim of the dreaded diseases.

The husband has been unable to obtain steady employment because he loses his job whenever an employer finds out that a member of his family is a leper. The two little girls are being cared for by a professional nurse in this city, the expense being borne by local charitable organizations. The husband is permitted to go to the County Hospital with the children once a week and talk with Mrs. Hutchinson through a knothole in the high board fence.

Mrs. Snyder, who first became interested in the case when the Hutchinson family was living in a little house on Corrilla street in Angeleno Heights, says Mrs. Hutchinson is shortly to become a mother, and charitably-inclined women have already arranged with the nurse who is caring for the two little girls to take care of the baby when it comes, if money for its support is provided. Good success is reported.

TROOPS AT KNOXVILLE HAVE STRIKE IN HAND.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

KNOXVILLE (Tenn.) Oct. 28.—Whether Knoxville is to have a general strike of all labor unions in connection with the striking street car employees will not be known until Friday night. Voting of individual unions proceeded today as ordered by the Central Labor Union last night.

It is understood that if sufficient unions favor the sympathetic walk out, it will be called to start Saturday. There are nearly 8000 union workers in the city. The resolution calling for the vote on the sympathetic strike, declares it shall continue "until the troops are withdrawn."

FOR SHIP LINE TO ORIENT.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—First steps in the establishment of a regular steamship line between Los Angeles and the Orient were taken today by the United States Shipping Board. By wire to the San Francisco office Director of Operation Cushing instructed the officials there to assign the first of a fleet of 8500-ton freight carriers to the Los Angeles Pacific Navigation Company, which has headquarters in Los Angeles and which is now engaged in establishing agencies in the Philippines, Japan, China and other parts of the Orient.

Assistant Director of Operations Eby of San Francisco also reached here yesterday for conference with the board on new policies for the conduct of shipping on the Pacific Coast and one of the first things he took up with Director of Operations Cushing was the assignment of ships to the Los Angeles company. His recommendations that the organization of the company and its personnel of active steamship men in all important executive positions, be approved, was indorsed by Director Cushing and the question of assigning such ships as are necesary for regular sailing was then taken up.

It was deemed unwise in view of the numerous delays in the completion of ships now on the ways in West Coast yards to make more than one assignment and it was suggested that the company in advertising sales that the name of the vessel be admitted to permit substitution of other vessels, which might be available. The number of vessels to be assigned to the Los Angeles company depends largely on the amount of cargo available and the speed with which Oriental business is developed for westbound traffic. Director Cushing's decision was hastened by a conference this morning in which Senator Phelan and Congressman Osborne told him that the new company in Los Angeles had complied with all the Shipping Board requirements and was anxious to advertise regular sailings and get under way as an operating steamship company of the first-class.

SMITH WON'T BE BLUFFED BY HEARST.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Gov. Smith announced today that he would speak tomorrow night in Carnegie Hall, which has been hired for a debate between him and William R. Hearst, regardless of the fact that Mr. Hearst has declined the invitation to a joint debate. He said he would then "say all I have to say" concerning Mr. Hearst's open letter, charging that the Tammany Club had hired the hall.

Jefferson Demont Thompson, who telegraphed both Gov. Smith and Mr. Hearst, announcing that a committee of 100 citizens had engaged Carnegie Hall and inquiring if both principals were "ready" for the debate tomorrow night, today denied that Tammany had hired the hall.

WINNIPEG STRIKE IS ABOUT TO COLLAPSE.

BREACH IN UNION FORCE WIDENS AND MEN ARE GOING BACK TO WORK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WINNIPEG, June 9.—Delegations of press and Commercial telegraphers visited the Canadian Press office and Commercial Telegraph offices late today and formally asked information regarding the terms upon which they might return to work.

The Winnipeg police force was discharged by the City Commission late today. The policemen refused to accept the city ultimatum to sign a pledge to not participate in sympathetic strikes. The city refused to accept a compromise offer.

The breach in the union forces seemed widening tonight. It was announced at the Board of Trade that spokesmen for various union crafts had made overtures regarding settlement, without permission from the Central Strike Committee.

ARMY'S AIR SERVICE IGNORED BY SENATE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. — The conference report on the general deficiency bill was adopted today by the Senate without a record vote, despite criticism by Chairman Wadsworth of the military committee and others of the conferees' action in eliminating entirely from the bill the Senate appropriation of $15,000,000 for the army air service. The House has yet to act.

Should an emergency arise, Senator Wadsworth declared, the United States would not be able to muster more than three squadrons of airplanes, and even those would be obsolete. Because of this country's dilatory tactics toward the development of aeronautics, he added, the airplane industry in this country practically had died out and if it died completely, twenty-five years would be required for this country to catch up with the other nations.

"Eighteen months from now," Senator Wadsworth added, "this great republic will have nothing, and I am not in favor of stripping this country in this brutal way, even though we did waste money in it before."

The aircraft industry in the United States, Senator New, Republican, Indiana, declared, has dwindled to less than 10 per cent. productive capacity, compared to that existing when the armistice was signed.

Other criticism of the elimination of the appropriation was expressed by Senators Thomas, Colorado; Overman, North Carolina, and Henderson, Nevada, Democrats.

Senator Jones of Washington called attention to the reduction from $17,000,000 to $6,000,000 in the appropriation for the completion of the Alaskan Railroad, and while deploring it, said he felt assured Congress would provide additional appropriations later, and that plans for continuing work on this road could go on.

HOHENZOLLERN SONS SEE THEIR PARENTS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

AMERONGEN, Oct. 28.—Three sons of the former German Emperor are now in Holland. Former Prince Oscar arrived last night from Germany to spend a few days with his father. August departed from Amerongen today for Wieringen for a several days' visit to the one-time Crown Prince who is residing there, prior to returning to Germany.

The Dutch government is permitting these visits largely in order to lighten the burden of former Empress Augusta Victoria, who is said to find separation from her family her greatest trouble.

Says Unions for League of Nations.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The ranks of labor stand firmly behind President Wilson in his efforts to find a solution of the problem to prevent war by the creation of a League of Nations, said Hugh Frayne, general organizer of the American Federation of Labor, in an address today at the Institute of Arts and Sciences of Columbia University. "Labor is opposed to wars and unanimously favors a League of Nations that will prevent them," he added.

INDIGESTION!

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin. The pepsin, the most effective of all the digestants, helps to digest the food and the laxative properties act on the bowels. It aids the digestive organs to work naturally so that in time medicines of all kinds can be dispensed with.

You can buy a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store for 50c and $1, the latter sufficient to enable an entire family to enjoy food for months.

In spite of the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, there bring over 6 million bottles sold each year, many who need its benefits have not yet used it. If you have not, send your name and address for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 511 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN THE PERFECT LAXATIVE

TORPEDOED!

Don't blast your Liver and Bowels, but take "Cascarets."

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, bad taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach and colds.

Are you keeping your liver and bowels clean with Cascarets, or shocking your insides every few days with Calomel, Salts, Oil and violent pills?

Cascarets work while you sleep; they cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Cascarets never gripe, sicken or cause inconvenience and Cascarets cost so little, too.—[Advertisement.

TEN CAR THEFTS THEIRS?

Complete equipment with which to alter automobile engine numbers and change license plates was seized yesterday by Detectives Hickok and Erven of the theft bureau of the Automobile club of Southern California, following the arrest at San Diego of Fred George, a life-term escaped convict from the State Penitentiary of Idaho, and George Sphiazenhouff. The two were arrested while attempting to sell an automobile stolen from Mrs. C. F. Adams of 2811 Menlo avenue, this city. Acids, stencil plates and dies were located by the police at 123 West Twenty-third street, this city, where the men lived.

According to Detectives Hickok and Erven, the two now under arrest at San Diego came to this city a number of months ago and at once started to steal automobiles. With their equipment, all stolen machines were changed, driven out of the city and then sold, the detectives' assert. The prisoners are believed to have stolen at least ten automobiles.

Today officers will leave for San Diego to bring the men to this city and efforts will be made to learn where the stolen cars have been sold. The two will be charged with grand larceny, although George will not have to stand trial, as he will be returned to Idaho.

A Happy Family

BY DR. S. G. POWERS

A happy family is one that can sit down to the table with keen appetites and good cheer. Plenty of the out-of-doors and cleanliness, inside and outside of the body, will make for health, wealth and happiness. Your doctor will tell you that anything from a headache to the most serious illness may result from allowing food to ferment in the intestines. The first thing to do in case you feel mean, logy, dull, perhaps feverish, is to flush the liver and kidneys, drink plenty of water, and take a dose of castor oil, or, something better, made of May-apple, aloin and jalap, and long sold by almost every druggist as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. This may save you from a fit of sickness, remove the poisons from the system and give the tissues of the body a chance to build up and resist disease.

People are realising more and more that the kidneys, just as do the bowels, need to be flushed occasionally. The kidneys are an eliminative organ and are constantly working, separating the poisons from the blood. Uric acid backs up into the system, causing rheumatism, neuralgia, dropsy and many other serious disturbances.

This can be avoided by stimulating the kidneys to increased action, and because of its tonic effect on these organs I would advise any one to get Anuric (anti-uric-acid) which is to be had nowadays for sixty cents, at almost any drug store.

Restored to Health by Taking Tan...

"I have been in poor health for thirty years, and have tried every treatment and medicine that was recommended for my kind of trouble, but I never got any relief until I commenced taking Tanlac," said Mrs. Rose Kimmerle, who lives at 609 Echandia street, San Pedro, Cal., while talking to a friend representative a few days ago.

"When I commenced taking Tanlac," continued Mrs. Kimmerle, "I had given up all hope of ever being a well woman again, suffering as I did for thirty years, but I can hardly realize that I am well and that I am now enjoying perfect health again. I had a severe case of indigestion and constipation. In just a short time after starting Tanlac the first thing I would be conscious of was that I could breathe up with gas I could hardly get my breath and my heart would flutter something awful on account of the gas pressing up against it. Then at times I would have severe pains in the pit of my stomach and be very nervous all the time. At night I was so restless that I could not get enough sleep to do me any good. I was badly constipated, and had to take a laxative every day of my life. In fact, I had reached the point where I was perfectly miserable all the time and was so discouraged over my condition I didn't know what to do.

"I heard of a lady who suffered just like I did and who had been greatly relieved by taking Tanlac, and I naturally thought that this medicine had done her so much good it ought to help me, so I commenced taking it. Well, I can truthfully say that when I had taken the first bottle of Tanlac I began to feel like a different person. I continued to take Tanlac and continued to improve right along, and after taking six bottles my indigestion was all gone, and I am as well and strong as I ever was in my life. I don't have a sign of indigestion or any such trouble of any kind, my appetite is fine and I eat three hearty meals every day and can eat agrees with me perfectly, my nerves are all right and I sleep just fine every night. I have the utmost confidence in Tanlac as a medicine I have ever seen, and am more than glad to recommend it to everybody."

HAD SUFFERED THIRTY YEARS

Had Tried Every Medi... She Ever Heard of.

Had Given Up Hope of Ever Being Well Again

Restored to Health After Taking Tanlac.

"I have been in poor health for thirty years, and have tried every treatment and medicine that I was recommended for my kind of trouble, but I never got any relief until I commenced taking Tanlac," said Mrs. Rosa Kimmerle, who lives at 609 Echandia street, Los Angeles, Cal., while talking to a Tanlac representative a few days ago.

"When I commenced taking Tanlac," continued Mrs. Kimmerle, "I had given up all hope of ever being a well woman again. After suffering as I did for thirty long years I can hardly realize that it is all over and that I am now enjoying perfect health again. I had a very bad case of indigestion and stomach trouble, in fact a short time after I ate anything I would be so badly bloated up with gas I could hardly get my breath and my heart would pain me something awful on account of the gas pressing up against it. Sometimes at times I would have severe pains in the pit of my stomach. I was very nervous all the time and at night I was so restless I couldn't get enough sleep to do me any good. I was badly constipated, too, and had to take a laxative every day of my life. In fact, I had reached the place where I was perfectly miserable all the time and was so discouraged over my condition I didn't know what to do.

"I heard of a lady who had suffered just like I did and she had been greatly relieved by taking Tanlac, and I naturally thought that this medicine had done her so much good it ought to help me, so I commenced taking it. Well, I was literally say that when I had taken the first bottle of Tanlac I was like a different person. I continued to take Tanlac and continued to improve right along, and now after taking six bottles my trouble is all gone, and I am as well and strong as I ever was in my life. I never have a sign of indigestion or stomach trouble of any kind. My appetite is fine and I eat three hearty meals every day and everything I eat agrees with me perfectly. My nerves are all right now, and I sleep just fine every night. I have entire confidence in Tanlac that I have for medicins I have ever seen, and no one could be more glad to recommend it to everybody."

BY CHAPIN HALL.

Business struck an air pocket yesterday, and as a result there were few local developments of importance. About this time every month there is a slowing down tendency pending the striking of balances and the preparation for a fresh start. At that, there was no retrograde movement, only a breathing spell, in which investment activities were light, stocks somewhat inactive and loans few. Some think that the unsettled national conditions resulting from the possible coal strike and the scrambled prohibition situation has something to do with the hiatus, but I doubt this. Southern California is not greatly concerned with the troubles of the East. She has too much to do on her own account; too many visitors to entertain; too many houses to build; too much trade to encompass to bother over the ruffled surface elsewhere.

One thing which is giving local bankers some concern is the rapidity with which money is piling up, and the apparent reluctance of customers to put it to work. There is very little demand for funds just now except for promotion purposes, and even at the low interest rates which prevail here money is a drug on the market. This condition, of course, is only temporary, and with the fall and winter requirements a proper credit balance will be restored. Just at present, however, there is money to burn, but instead of burning it the bankers prefer to store it away where it will be available for future reference and service.

Business has been so good in Los Angeles, wages have been so high, investments have been paying so well, and collections have been so satisfactory that the circulation has been sufficient to meet obligations as they came due, and this, in large measure, accounts for the condition complained of. One banker said yesterday, "Los Angeles is more nearly upon a cash basis today than she has ever been before."

The bond market is active, and some excellent municipal issues will be brought out next month. Liberties are being more closely held, and promising new enterprises are being easily financed. Especially anything which has to do with the oil industry is sure of a warm reception, and while the public has learned to stop, look and listen when approached on Texas stocks, millions of local capital have gone into speculative investments recently, both at home and abroad. Of the two new California oil companies now in process of flotation, the stock in one was heavily oversubscribed and a similar fate (?) apparently awaits the other.

As the conversion feature of the new British $250,000,000 loan becomes better understood sales are increasing. The National City reports that the Firestone issue is sold and the Proctor Gamble and Standard, of New Jersey, are each selling about two points above the asking price when offered on the local market. On the whole the financial undertone, locally at least, is decidedly firm, and filled with the most optimistic promise.

On the stock exchange yesterday the principal activity was in the oil stocks, and the price tendency was upward. Republic Petroleum was the most active trader on the board, nearly 25,000 shares of this new stock changing hands. In spite of the volume the price held steady around 28 cents, 27¼ cents marking the low point for the day and 28¼ cents the highest. General Petroleum opened at $183 and sold up a point during the day, and as an effective balance Associated opened $120 and sold down a point to $119. United advanced from 87¼ to 88 cents, Mascot was steady at $2.50, Union sold from $186.25 to $186.50 and back again. There was little doing in industrials. Southern California Edison sold at $91 and Los Angeles Investment registered a decline during the day from $9 to 87 cents. Delta Farms was at $68.75 and Union Sugar at $51.25. Mines were featured by a stronger tone in United Eastern which is slowly recovering from the attack upon it last week. Yesterday $4.04 was the staple price throughout the trading. There was some business in Telluride around 24 cents; Richmond at 25 cents, and Yellow Pine at $1.30. On the whole the market was rather dull and uninteresting.

Consolidation Complete.

The actual physical consolidation of the Columbia Oil Company with the Union forecasted when the latter company, or closely related interests thereto, took over the Columbia several weeks ago, has been painlessly made. The Union, of California, is known to be negotiating for new properties and an interesting announcement is looked for along this line when C. H. Schlacks, president of the Union, of Delaware, returns to New York, from an inspection trip to Union properties in California.

Arizona Road Bonds.

Pima county, Arizona, of which the city of Tucson, is the county seat, will receive bids on the 12th of November for $1,500,000 worth of road bonds. These bonds are 5½s, and mature serially, October 15, 1925 to 1944. Los Angeles bidders will be represented in the offers.

Shop Early.

Merchants are beginning to urge a shop-early campaign. Last year the holiday trade was late because the armistice was not signed until November 11. This year there are indications of a very heavy holiday business, the only fly in the ointment being the difficulty of securing enough merchandise and securing it promptly. There seems to be no trouble about selling it. Merchants are carrying a higher grade of goods than ever before and claim that new records in gross sales will be made.

Liberty Bonds.

The consensus of opinion among financial experts is that Liberty Bonds are now selling too low. Government expenses are decreasing gradually, and the more they decrease the more bonds will be bought by the government for retirement. If conditions permit, it is planned that the government will buy up to $500,000,000 of the bonds a year. No matter what the suave gentlemen with something just as good may say, Liberty Bonds are the best security in the world today and they are on their way up.

Back to the City.

In a discussion of the causes which are responsible for the present housing shortage throughout the country Los Angeles contractors give much significance to the remarkable movement of population from the farm back to the city. This is probably not felt in the same degree here as in the East and Middle West, but statistics show that between 1900 and 1919 city population increased 12,000,000 and country population only 4,000,000. High wages are responsible for a large percentage of this increase which has been growing faster than ever during the past year. The United States is said to need, new construction, 1,300,000 homes; 450,000 factories; 5000 schools and public institutions; 120 freight terminals, and 14,000 railroad stations and freight sheds.

The Taste for Olives.

The California Olive Association, 523 Higgins Building, is planning a national advertising campaign which will bring the merits of ripe olives and other olive products to the attention of the public. The organization is co-operative. No package brands will be mentioned, the efforts being confined solely to the exploitation of the olive as a distinctly California food product of great dietetic value and attractiveness. The results of this campaign are expected to be as proportionately great as that derived from the sunkist oranges, the direct effect being to create a demand ahead of the growing supply and thereby to bring about a safe and healthy condition in both the growing and processing branches of the olive business.

Home Securities.

J. A. Folger & Co., a pioneer California corporation, is today offering $400,000 of its preferred stock through Blyth, Witter & Co. This company was established in 1850. Net quick assets of $249 per share assure the stockholder of an exceptional security. A special sinking fund which will begin to operate November 1, 1920, and which will retire not less than $30,000 annually, seems to assure a steady market for the stock. Since Monday, Blyth, Witter & Co. has placed the $400,000 William Cluff 7 per cent. preferred stock. This stock has net assets of over $310 per share. There is a strong demand for securities of old established California corporations, whose earning power has been tested through crises, depressions and all forms of adversity.

TRADING IRREGULAR IN PRODUCE MARKET.

PRICES FLUCTUATE DURING SESSION, BUT MARKET CLOSES FIRM.

The tone of the produce market was irregular yesterday, both as to prices and demand. Fluctuation was in evidence throughout the session. During the early hours of the session produce sold readily at Monday's closing prices, but later in the session, with demand lighter, prices fluctuated sharply on many lines of produce. The fact that the late arrivals on the floors of the market were light, however, and generally good as to quality and condition, helped to restore prices to a firmer tone and the closing market showed comparatively little change from the prices of the preceding day's closing figures.

Northern Jonathan apples are very scarce on the market at present, practically the only offerings being some fancy and extra fancy special brands, which are offered by the wholesalers at prices ranging from $3.25 to $3.50 for the extra fancies and $3 for the fancies. Some very fine Northern Spitzenburgs appeared on the market yesterday, selling at $3.25 to $3.50 per box.

Celery declined in price yesterday to $3.75 and $4 for the ordinary run of the offerings, while the fancy stock held at $4.50 to $4.75 per crate.

Corn was lower in price, owing to the slower demand and to the generally poorer quality of the offerings. Peppers weakened in price under a dragging demand. The quality of yesterday's arrivals were somewhat below standard, which helped to lower the market price for this product.

Potato arrivals, both from the local districts and from the southern producing sections, were very light yesterday. Many of the heavy arrivals of Saturday and Monday went into storage. Prices strengthened for Burbanks, which sold as high as $3.25 per hundredweight for the fancy grades. Most of the poorer varieties sold at $2.75 some few selling as low as $2.50 per hundredweight.

The tomato market was stronger yesterday. Arrivals were light and the heavy demand for eastern shipment continued. Fancy shipping stock sold readily at $1.85 per lug, while ripe stock, lug boxes, averaged $1.10. The inferior grades sold at prices ranging from 65 to 90 cents per lug, but the demand centered on the fancy grades at the higher prices. Saturday's rains are holding back the packing and shipping to some extent, but the crop was helped by the rains, especially in San Fernando Valley, according to F. W. Stillwell in charge of the bureau of crop estimates. The movement of tomatoes to the canneries is about over and the shipments of table stock are expected to continue about the same as last week for the next two weeks. On account of the strong demand, buyers in many instances are paying the growers 75c per packed box, furnishing the material and doing the packing themselves.

Mr. Stillwell reports conditions for marketing cabbage favorable on account of the good quality of most of the stock. The general straight car movement is of cauliflower, but this will probably continue without any break, although the season is almost a month earlier than last year. Buyers are paying from 50 cents to $1.10 per bulk per dozen at the packing shed or in the field. The Mt. Monte celery crop is now being banked for blanching. Bunches will run large and of good quality. The estimated acreage for Southern California this year is 12,000 acres as compared with 9250 acres last season. The lettuce crop of Los Angeles county is of poor quality, still heading badly. Strong demand is causing early cutting of small heads.

"Gambling" 76 Millions In Texas Oil

On 1900 Drilling Wells, Rigs, and Locations in North Central Texas, averaging $40,000 each, this enormous sum is being spent on "speculation." Hundreds of thousands of acres of "Wildcat Leases" will be changed over to the "Proven Field" column as a result. With the shrewdest Oil Operators in the world acting on the best scientific advice that money can buy, spending millions on "speculation," aren't you playing the "conservative" and a little too close these days. Do YOU stand to gain any immediate benefit from the tremendously increased value of Oil Leases which will result from the striking of oil by about four-fifths of these wells? Unless you own a lease, you are only a spectator in the development of Texas Oil.

Let the Other Fellow "Prove Up" Your Lease

If you can afford to "gamble" twenty-five, fifty or a hundred dollars in a game where you stand a good chance to win thousands in the next ninety days, call and let me show you the nearest acreage to both the Ranger and Burkburnett Pools that can be bought in Los Angeles at anything like $10 per acre. If, as is claimed, the North Central part of Texas covers a vast region of oil, the two and one-half acre Lease I can sell you stands as much chance of being in the center of the next big Pool as any spot in Texas. The beauty of it is that you do nothing but sit tight with your lease recorded. When the other fellows drill in your vicinity, the resulting gushers which may be brought in at their expense, will make your ten dollar per acre lease in demand at a fabulous price.

The Map Tells the Story

I own the Lease on 440 acres in King County, Texas, situated fifteen miles southwest of Benjamin within a mile of the Knox County line. This acreage is in the very path of the Northwest Trend of the stupendous Ranger pool. It is also in the path of the Southwest Trend of the gigantic Burkburnett Pool. To appreciate to me only a matter of weeks when Oil Rigs will be scattered all over King and Knox counties. Drilling contracts have already been signed for nearby wells and one, the De Leon Petroleum Company well, is drilling on the same structure as my Lease. The drills will render the final verdict. What that verdict will be, no man on earth can tell to a certainty. However, we do know from what has happened in the past that a "hit" by any well which may be drilled within a few miles of this property will send the value per acre soaring into the thousands.

Give "Dame Fortune" Your Texas Address

Perhaps the reason you have never had a call from the fickle Goddess is because you have not tempted her. If you live in Los Angeles, call and let me explain in detail just what I have to offer. I'll make you a present of a handsome Pictorial Relief Map of Texas showing all the existing pools. If you live out of town, send in your check or money order for $25, $50 or $100, for 2½, 5 or 10 acres at ten dollars per acre, and I will send you a legally executed assignment of the Lease, maps showing location and a copy of the Official Plat of the Subdivision. Examine everything for three days after receiving with full information spread out before you. If you don't decide that this is the best "Poor Man's Chance" and the cleanest speculation you have ever seen, send back the Assignment and your money will be sent you by the next mail. In this manner, you have not really bought or rejected the proposition till you decide on facts I submit.

Note! I think so well of this lease that I am "checkerboarding" it. Every alternate ten acres is my own individual holdings and not for sale.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Trading in stocks today was governed almost entirely by the erratic changes in the money market. Call loans opened at 7 per cent., but rose steadily to 16 per cent. in the last 15 minutes, dropping to 6 per cent., the day's lowest rate at the close.

General Motors again eclipsed all other issues, advancing thirty points to the new high of 390, reacting to 371, but rallying in the final dealings with a net gain of 24 points. Chandler, Stutz, Studebaker, White Pierce Arrow, United States Rubber and Goodrich were 3 to 7 points higher at their maximums, but some of these gains were largely canceled when the market reacted.

Republic Iron shared the day's honors with General Motors, rising 2½ points to the new maximum of 122½, but forfeiting 3½ points under pressure. Related equipments and steels were two to six points up at their best, but these issues eased with oils and food shares towards the end. United States steel rose 1½ points, but closed at a gain of a small fraction.

Sales amounted to 1,550,000 shares.

Liberty 3½'s were strong, but others of that division eased with the general list, including foreign issues.

Total sales, (par value) aggregated $14,475,000. Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

FROST FEARS CAUSE COTTON INFLATION.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Fears of frost in the western and central belts caused a strong upturn in Liverpool cotton cables this morning and in turn affected the New York market.

First prices were 26 to 41 points higher. The early buying which was quite general, carried prices up to new high levels for the season, December reaching 36.25 cents in the first fifteen minutes, or 58 points over last night's close.

The market showed continued strength during the middle of the morning on the threatening western belt forecast. December contracts sold to 36.47 cents making a new high record for the contract. Other months sold about 60@75 net higher.

Slight midday reactions were followed by another wave of more or less general buying which sent prices into new high ground during the early afternoon.

BARLEY HOLDS FIRM AT HIGH PRICES.

Trading on the grain exchange was practically at a standstill yesterday, with prices remaining at Monday's level for both milo maize and barley. Buyers seemed afraid to touch barley at the high prices of yesterday's market in spite of the fact that most dealers believe that the high prices have come to stay. The California crops are about cleaned up, and, with more barley going abroad to meet the foreign demand, the available supplies here will be very light until the next crop is harvested. Prices for barley in the San Francisco market were slightly lower yesterday, but the local market held firm.

Barley for immediate shipment closed at Monday's prices with a car for twenty days selling at $3.20¾. Future barley held firm with October shipment bringing 50 cents per ton higher bid than on Monday. December barley, however, sold at 25 cents per ton under the prices of the preceding day. Sales for all November were made at $3.23¾ and for all December at $3.30. Five hundred tons of barley were sold.

D. H. Lillywhite, president of Lillywhite-Brown Co., has just returned from Imperial Valley, where he made a study of milo conditions. Mr. Lillywhite says that the present stand in the valley is very light and that it will not average more than a third of a ton to the acre. The fields are badly spotted and throughout the valley the milo crop is late. There is some danger of injury to the crops by frost if the present cold weather continues. Mr. Lillywhite predicts higher prices for milo when the Imperial Valley crops begin to come in and the shortness of the crop is realized.

Milo for immediate shipment and for future delivery yesterday was unchanged, with no sales recorded. All December milo brought $2.75¾. Only 100 tons were sold at these prices.

3½ Per Cent Monthly Income

Early investors in Triangle Royalty have long since had all of their money back in dividends.

Four wells were brought in, and dividends began rolling in every month.

Then the war—then the Texas boom—and drilling in this field was temporarily suspended.

Still the four wells were making big dividends every month, returning to the owners of this Royalty 317 1-3% in fifteen consecutive months.

Today—the war is over; the Texas excitement has abated to some extent, and drilling is resumed in this field.

The fifth well on this lease was drilling at 1000 feet on the 25th inst., and should be pouring oil into the pipe lines, and increasing royalty owners' dividend checks, by the 1st of December next.

Remember, this offering is exclusive—is limited in amount—and is being absorbed rapidly.

HAND'S QUICKER THAN THE EYE.

Queer Contradictions Clear Pickpocket Suspect.

Witnesses Say He Put Purse in Pocket; He had None.

Perjury Charge is Based on Defendant's Testimony.

When the jurors in Judge Craig's court yesterday heard the evidence in the case of Manuel Araiza, a San Pedro shipyard riveter accused of picking the pocket of D. F. Edwards, they realized the meaning of the old circus barker's saying, "The eye deceives; the hand is quicker than the eye." Because of this, they found the defendant not guilty.

Four witnesses declared positively that on September 3 they saw Araiza put his hand into Mr. Richard's hip pocket and remove therefrom a purse, containing $2.60. They testified they saw Araiza place the purse in the right-hand lower pocket of his own coat, and on this hangs the acquittal.

For other witnesses testified positively that Araiza had no right-hand, lower coat pocket in the coat he wore at the time nor, in fact, a lower coat pocket at all.

J. Morgan Marmaduke, attorney for Araiza, produced witnesses to show that Araiza, two weeks before the alleged theft, dropped a hot rivet into his right-hand, lower coat pocket and burned a hole in it, and that therewith he tore out the pocket. It was positively stated the coat produced in court was the same Araiza wore on September 3.

In view of this, the jurors held there was a reasonable doubt and after a half hour's deliberation, declared the defendant not guilty.

When the verdict was read, Deputy District Attorney Clark said: "Read the verdict again." The verdict was again read and then Mr. Clark said he wished a transcript of the testimony of the defendant and that he would prefer a perjury charge. Araiza was ordered held in the County Jail upon Mr. Clark's instructions.

Mr. Marmaduke obtained a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of Araiza, returnable before Judge Willis today.

MAN SUES FOR RIGHT TO OCCUPY HOUSE; ASKS BALM FOR HUMILIATION.

Andrew Williamson sued his wife, Jessie Ray Williamson, yesterday for the right to occupy the dwelling-house he deeded to her without hindrance as long as he is her husband, and he asks the court to enjoin her from interefering with his peaceful possession of the premises.

He says the property at 1414 Douglas street was deeded to Mrs. Williamson for the purpose of securing the premises as the home of himself, his wife and their children, "and with no intention of abandoning the property as their dwelling-house." The consideration was $10.

Mrs. Williamson, through the courts, had the home declared to be her separate property. Mr. Williamson alleges that she has attempted to deprive him of his right to occupy the premises where they have lived for seventeen years. He claims he was forcibly ejected from the house by deputy sheriffs a few days ago and warned that if he returned he would be in contempt of court. He asks for the damages he has sustained $25 a month for every month he is dispossessed and $1000 for humiliation and injuries, mental and physical.

SUSPECTS GET HEARING.

MARRIAGE TIES "AWFUL" LOAD.

"Must Make Much Money in a Hurry—Get a Divorce," Husband Writes.

Nicholas W. Curson had to make a lot of money in a short time and in a note to his wife he suggested that she lift the burden from his shoulders by getting a divorce. Yesterday Mrs. Marie L. Curson was granted a divorce by Judge Crail on the ground of desertion. She produced the note from her husband which read:

"Dearest Marie: I have always felt you wanted to help me. I am asking you a big favor and I hate to do it, but it is for the best. If you will get our marriage set aside on any grounds you wish, it will lift an awful burden off my shoulders. I've got to make a lot of money in a short time."

SCHOOL HEAD SUES.

Would Enjoin Owner from Pressing Pasadena Property Action.

Capt. Thomas A. Davis, through Attorneys Parker and Parker, yesterday began suit against Mrs. Marie C. Henry, a wealthy resident of Pasadena, to enjoin her from prosecuting an unlawful detainer action, in which she seeks to regain possession of the property now known as the Pasadena Army and Navy Academy, until the court determines the merits of the case.

Mrs. Henry bought the Annandale Country Club and entered into a contract with Capt. Davis under which he was to conduct a school on the property. She says he has not lived up to the contract, and wants the property turned back to her.

In his action, Capt. Davis says he has carried out the terms of the agreement and asserts that he will suffer irreparable damage if she ousts him now.

CAMP BARBER IS GOVERNMENT WITNESS.

FEDERAL HEARING EXPECTED TO SHED LIGHT ON FOOD THEFTS AT KEARNY.

Charles M. Howe, a young man who conducted a barber shop at Camp Kearny during the summer of 1918, who was indicted with Robert Cardell, Thomas H. Kearns and Walter Yerkes, charged with conspiring to defraud the government out of a large amount of foodstuffs, was the star witness yesterday before United States Circuit Judge Trippet and a jury in the investigation of the wholesale looting of the government stores at that point.

Howe testified that he became a partner with Cardell in a lunch counter in July, 1918, it being the understanding that Cardell was to be the silent partner, as he was a mess sergeant, and, under the rules, could not engage openly in trade while in the military service.

He testified further that he furnished the cash register for the business, which was to be known as "Charlie's Concession," and that he was to do the buying, Cardell putting up the shack where the lunch counter was to be located.

It is expected that Howe will be the backbone of the government's case. When Howe was arrested, some weeks ago, he was released on his own recognizance, although the other defendants were compelled to give bond, the understanding being that he would be a witness in behalf of the government. Yerkes was connected with the lunch counter with Howe, and Cardell and Kearns were mess sergeants.

The indictment charged all four defendants with having stolen a large amount of foodstuffs, consisting of hamburger steak, eggs, condensed milk, cheese, weiner sausages, etc., and other lunch material.

Lieut. E. D. Wheelock, who was in charge of the quartermaster stores at Camp Kearny at the time of the theft, was the first witness for the government. He testified as to the disappearance of the foodstuffs.

TEST CHECK DAMS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

EAST HIGHLAND, Oct. 28.—Check dams having demonstrated their usefulness as a means of flood prevention, the Water Conservation Association of this county will make a practical test of the new "Oorous check dam," invented by Alvarado A. Pratt of this city. Monday representatives of the association, accompanied by the inventor, visited the spreading-grounds in the Santa Ana Canyon near here and selected sites for placing the dams. The results will be closely watched by those interested in flood control.

HELD FOR BURGLARY.

Herbert Schenck, who escaped from Ione on September 5, was in court yesterday to answer to a complaint charging burglary. It is alleged that he stole articles from a room at 129 East Fourth street last Saturday. He was committed to the County Jail.

CIRCUS STAR IS NAMED BY WIFE.

Barnes Divorce Case is Set for Trial in December.

Show Property Worth Million is Involved in Action.

Naming three co-respondents, among them being Jane Hartigan, designated as a circus rider, Mrs. Dollie L. Barnes Stonehouse yesterday filed an amended cross-complaint to her husband's suit for divorce. Judge Taft set December 9 as a date for the trial of the actions. Al G. Barnes of the Al G. Barnes Amusement Company, who in private life is Alpheas G. Stonehouse, charged desertion in his suit against his wife.

Besides the circus rider, Mrs. Stonehouse names Vivian Bordeau and Babe Eckhart. The latter is said to live in Venice, where Mr. Barnes's show spends the winter. Involved in the suits is show property alleged to be worth $1,000,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Stonehouse have had a number of suits heard in the local courts. In a recent action Mr. Stonehouse asserted that he owned only a few shares of stock in the amusement company, and that he was receiving a salary as manager. Mrs. Stonehouse asserts that she aided him in accumulating the circus property now owned by the company and that he is practically the sole owner.

STEPS FOR MUCH NEW STREET IMPROVEMENT

The assessment district map for the improvement of Cahuenga avenue, from Darien street to a line 600 feet northeasterly from Cahuenga trail, was adopted by the City Council yesterday. Assessment district maps were also adopted for the improvement of Norfolk street, between Eastlake and Griffin avenues; Twenty-fourth street, from Main street to Grand avenue; sewering of Clinton street, between Van Ness avenue and Wilton place; improvement of Sanborn avenue, between Sunset drive and Fountain avenue.

A petition for the sewering of Eighty-fourth street, between Vermont avenue and 750 feet easterly, was granted and referred to the City Engineer for ordinance.

An ordinance was adopted ordering the opening of Denver avenue, from Sixty-fourth street to Sixty-third place, and the City Engineer was instructed to prepare and present the ordinance for the curbing and sidewalking of St. Andrews place, between Twenty-fourth street and the first alley southerly, and for the improvement of Menlo avenue, from Forty-second to Forty-third streets.

Similar instructions were given the City Engineer for ordinances providing for the improvement of Ardath avenue, from De Longpre avenue to the north line of Tract 2634; Santa Barbara avenue, from Main to San Pedro streets; Westmoreland avenue, from San Marino to Tenth streets, and York boulevard, from Avenue Fifty-four to Avenue Fifty-six.

STEPHENS HERE SOON.

Governor's Plans Allow One Day for Legislative Session.

That Gov. Stephens expects the Legislature at the special session called by him to convene next Saturday, for the ratification of the woman's suffrage amendment to the Federal Constitution, to act promptly and adjourn the same day, is indicated by the fact that he plans to come to Los Angeles with Mrs. Stephens next Monday for a two weeks' visit.

The afternoon of November 11 the Governor will speak at the Bay district joint celebration of welcome-home day at Venice, and that evening will take part in the American Legion celebration, Victory Ball and reception at Los Angeles, and possibly will take part in other homecoming celebrations that day in Los Angeles county.

Gov. Stephens is also scheduled to address the congregation at the First Methodist Church, Sunday evening November 9, and has accepted an invitation to appear at the Fraternal Brotherhood's reception November 6.

FOR LIGHTING BIDS.

Ordinance for Ornamental Lighting Authorized by Council.

The City Attorney, City Engineer and City Electrician were instructed by the City Council yesterday to prepare the necessary ordinance for the ornamental lighting of the various lighting districts of Los Angeles.

It is proposed to ask for bids covering a period of five years, from July 1, 1920, to June 30, 1925, on forty-one ornamental lighting systems, extending to many parts of the city. The city's proportion of the cost of maintaining these systems is $23,893 per year.

THEFT SUSPECT FREED.

Because there was not sufficient evidence to involve Harold Walsh and Floyd Ryan, both of Bakersfield, in the theft of an automobile bell belonging to Mrs. M. Hargraves of San Francisco, they were discharged yesterday by Justice Palmer. A. W. Williams was sent to the Juvenile Court for trial.

WAR TROPHIES WAIT.

A carload of German war trophies destined for presentation to Los Angeles and Pasadena, is at Vincennes, France, ready for shipment to Saint Nazaire and thence to New York, according to information received by Mayor Snyder yesterday from L. N. Brunswig, chairman of the American Committee for Devastated France. Mr. Brunswig states he has personally assumed the charges for transportation of these trophies from Vincennes to Saint Nazaire, but he asks the Mayor and City Council to appeal to the Secretary of the Navy and the Railroad Administration to provide for the transportation from there to Los Angeles. The Mayor sent this communication to the City Council yesterday morning, and it was referred to the Public Welfare Committee.

Mr. Brunswig in his communication states: "As soon as the trophies arrive, I shall make a formal presentation thereof."

The City Council yesterday instructed the purchasing agent to advertise for bids for the printing of bonds authorized by the voters of municipal improvement district No. 6—the Bairdstown district—and an ordinance was adopted inviting bids for the purchase of these bonds.
